At the Prince's command we formed a circle eight feet deep, maintaining a stubborn defence. At length a strong division arrived to support us. The Prince raised himself from a kneeling position and turned to the standard-bearer, who lay prone beside him, covering the standard with his body: "Raise the standard," commanded the prince, "so we may be recognized by our friends." The standard bearer raised his flag, waving it to and fro. This action immediately brought upon the prince a violent fusillade. The standard was shot away and at the same moment the prince was struck in the chest and expired instantly." c

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS ARE REALIZING A DEATH BLOW TO THE VIENNA WILL BE AN ARMY.

(By Special Wire to the Courier) LONDON, Sept. 3.—The British people continue to accept with stoicism the lack of news concerning the operations of the British army on the continent. The government has repeatedly assured the public that all inconsistent with the nation's interest would be given out, and that people are accepting that assurance. The French official reports throw further light on the operations than those of the British. The French reports say the army on the right of the northern wing has resulted in checking the Germans for a time. The influence plainly is that the Germans are employing all their force in an enveloping movement against the allies' left wing. That part of the allies' army is retiring to the south and west indicating that the Germans have not outflanked them. Apparently the Germans have abandoned the west of Belgium to pour all their forces toward the road to Paris. Reports that they are preparing to attack A. were widely believed here. There seems to be a most strategic reason for such a move. Military experts agree that the Germans are unlikely to win. c

When Austrians finally realized that they attempted to turn Russian left flank near the near the junction of the Dniester, a sanguinary fight took place there two days ago. The Austrians were signally defeated, 3,000 killed and many prisoners, including one general, guns, a standard and quantities of supplies. "Apparently the progress of southern Russian army from Podolia in Galicia has been a series of fights on an increasing scale until a third river, known as the Foul Lipa was reached. The fight the possession of the valley the Foul Lipa was severe. Austrians had resisted strength of the Russians and strongly fortified a naturally. c
