A Chear Dinner.—At a tectotal meeting lately held in Sunderland Mr. Mark Littlefair, temperance lecturer, undertook to give practical illustration of the value of barley, if used as an article of food instead of being made into malt. Raving purchased twopennyworth of barley, two-pennyworth of milk, and twopennyworth sugar and seasonings, he handed them over to Mr. Charles Wilson's Cook, who baked the sixpenny worth of ingredients into the form of a pudding. Mr. Littlefair took the pudding to the meeting, and served out a spoonful each to 240 persua present. He said the barley was steeped over night, and the pudding baked in a slew oven for four hours. He estimated that his sixpenny pudding would have made a substantial and nourishing dinner for at least two good families.

We have put up and sold this article for over 30 years and can say in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one whe used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know," after 30 years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfiliment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILFUL MURSES in New England, and hus been used with never failing success in THOUSANDS OF CASES.
