A Talk to Canadian Boys.

ADDRESS BY E. W. BEATTY, PRESIDENT OF THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY, TO THE PUPILS AT SHAWBRIDGE BOYS' FARM AND TRAINING SCHOOL, OF WHICH HE IS THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Dawson has told me of what you are striving to do and what you are doing and has asked me to briefly indicate to you some of the things which I think are important to avoid, which I have learned myself in a boyhood which was as long as most, as varied in interest as most, and was still the life of an ordinary boy.

It is because of the wonderful possibilities of this country that one wishes one could always be young in order to enjoy the fruits of its development, and in this you boys are very fortunate, in that you are of an age when you can grow up with the country and take advantage of its undoubted prosperity. But in order that this should be so, it is necessary that every one of you should have a knowledge of the fundamental principles upon which every man's success is based.

When I was a very young boy at school I did not believe in study, I worked a little, I played a great deal and I did many of the things I should not do and left undone many of those I should. When I was thirteen years of age and had finished one year's course in a prominent school in Toronto, my parents received a report which, without bragging, I think I may say was the worst report ever written about a boy. I was in trouble from the beginning of the year. I had spent most of my time after hours in school, doing the things I should have done in class period. When this report was received it was accompanied by a note that in the opinion of the principal of that school it would get along fairly well if I did not return. I do not remember ever having felt so humiliated about anything as I was when I read that report. I felt that I had proved to the college and to the other pupils my inability to do as well as others and that I was not taking advantage of the educational opportunities which were offered me. I was sent to another school where my record was not known, for which I was very thankful. I there fell into the hands of a teacher who was not only a good teacher for boys but had ever met though he had a very violent temper. He encouraged us when he was not abusing us. If anyone showed intention he was likely to hit on the head with a ruler, but the first words of encouragement I ever received came from that man. He told me that some day if I worked hard I might amount to something, which was news to me—I had never heard it before. In any event he gave me an inspiration to study, and so I worked, and the more I worked the more I realized how valuable it was, and as the years went on my appreciation of this fact increased and I am now satisfied that no one ever succeeded who did not work and that fortuitous events or accidents do not make for permanent success.

What Success Means.

None of you here will ever regret the time you have spent in mastering things which appear to be trifles, yourselves of habits which you have inherited or which you have acquired. The older you grow the more you will realize the fact that men even in this young country are fighting for a living, that competition is keen and men more numerous than good positions.

The boy or man who makes the best of his youth and the opportunities which it affords for study, work and play will have a better chance later than the boy who misses these opportunities through lack of appreciation of what they mean. You will be told that your object in life is to be successful and that is true, because without ambition to a success no man goes very far. But success does not necessarily mean the amassing of money or the obtaining of high position. A man may be a success in the true sense of the term if he has moderate means, is charitable and helpful to others, and above all, retains his own self-respect, which inspires the respect of others, quite regardless of whether he is the possessor of money or without it.

You will find too that the things which you admire in others are the things which you would like to be yourself. You will see men judged by others in accordance with three or four simple standards. If he possesses those qualities and those standards he will be admired and respected by his fellows. If he does not, he will fail.

Some of the Essentials.

To attain success the most essential thing is good health. A sound body usually means a sound mind, and a boy who is careful of his health and makes himself strong and vigorous has distinct advantage over those who are physically weak. While it is not impossible, it is extremely difficult for anyone to work against the handicap of ill health. And so I say to you in all seriousness, work hard and play hard, enjoy games and spend your time as much as possible in the open. Build yourselves up, because you may have a long life, and every ounce of strength you store up in your youth adds to your vitality when you are older.

If there is a physical necessity to a man's success, there are certain moral qualities without which he cannot obtain permanent advancement.

The first is honesty. No man in this or any country who is not honest has attained permanent success. He may appear to do so. He may amass money by means which are at least doubtful, but without honesty he cannot gain or retain the respect of his fellow-men, and without that no man can be said to be a success.

The second essential is courage. Moral courage, like physical courage, is of great advantage to a boy. Moral courage is what enables a man to do right, regardless of what others think or say, who refuses to do wrong no matter what the temptation. Physical courage is that independence and confidence in your own physical abilities which enables a man to fight a bully, even though he is physically his superior, because he will not be put down through fear. Physical courage is very common. It exists to a more or less extent in most Canadian boys. Moral courage is more rare. The third essential is modesty. There is nothing more admirable than the modesty of a boy who at the same time maintains his own self-respect. Coupled with modesty is courtesy, and most modest people are courteous. Most conceited people are not. If I mention modesty so prominently it is because it is a quality which as far as the outward evidence is concerned, is fast disappearing from the boys and girls of this generation. The fact that it is a valuable and admirable quality is shown by the affection almost with which people speak of boys who are modest. The modest boy never forgets to be polite to his elders or to women, and the first thing which an older man or woman recognizes and appreciates about a boy is his attitude of respect to those who are older than he. I cannot tell you how many positions have been won by boys whose manner towards older people has been modest and respectful or how many lost by those who forgot this essential quality.

The Value of Education. Now another factor which you should consider while you are here studying in anticipation of an opportunity later on of making your way in the world is the value of the education you are receiving. I told you that life is a struggle. It is also a race, and if you are in the race you must be equipped so that the competition will be equal. No boy who neglects his studies has the same opportunity afterwards as the boy who does not. He finds himself handicapped in a hundred ways by a lack of knowledge which he should have acquired when the opportunity was offered him. He sees other boys go ahead of him because of this advantage, and he oftentimes is reduced to earning his living by physical work for the simple reason that he has not trained himself to think.

Learn all the you can learn. Follow the instructions of your teachers, because later what they teach you will be found of great advantage, and without it you will feel handicapped, embarrassed and sometimes ashamed. There is a word we use to sum up a lot of qualities which we admire in any boy, and that is manliness. Manliness means a boy who is considered courageous, fair, generous and who respects himself and others. Everyone admires a manly boy. No one admires a boy who is a sneak, who cheats, who does mean, underhand things. We like a boy or a man who stands on his own feet, looks every one in the eye, who succeeds because he works and because he uses his ability for his own advancement, without injuring anyone else.

You boys have a wonderful opportunity in a country like Canada to be respected and successful and good citizens of the country. You can become

GRADUATE NURSES AFFAIR ENJOYED

Throngs Enjoyed Band Concert Put on Through Their Efforts Last Night

The band concert and dance given by the Graduate Nurses' Association at Parliament Square last evening was without doubt one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season and emphasized the fact that band concerts in the city are very popular. It is estimated that between 1,000 and 1,500 people heard the concert, the green being literally alive with people while the river in the vicinity of the band stand was black with all kinds of water craft. The night was all that could be desired and the bright moon shining on the water made a very pretty scene.

The concert rendered by the York Regiment Band under the leadership of Bandmaster Jas. White was one of the most enjoyable concerts given on Parliament Square for some seasons, and time after time they were loudly applauded. The music was given their services free, rendered the following programme:

- O Canada.
- March—Auto Club.
- Overture—The Bandmen's Delight.
- Dream waltz—Bliss Eternal.
- March—The Red Rover.
- Fantasia—"The Darkies" Dreamland.
- Waltz—When Francis Dances With Me.
- Overture—Old Ireland.
- March—The Show Boys.
- Duet—Smiles and Dimples.
- March—Nonpareil.
- God Save the King.

The band concert, over a dance was on in the A. and B. club house, and the only thing wrong with the dance was that the club house would not hold all those who were anxious to get in and dance. The music was furnished by Macdonald's orchestra, and many favorable comments were heard on the excellent programme rendered. All through the evening ice cream, cakes and beer were sold and tags sold by the nurses of Victoria Hospital and friends of the nurses. The affair was put on by the Graduate Nurses' Association of this city for the purpose of raising money to go towards the fund for the war memorial to be erected at Ottawa in memory of the brave Canadian women who played such a valiant and heroic part in the great war and many of whom gave their lives for the performance of their duties. The proceeds amounted to about $250, and it is to be hoped that the nurses will put on another pleasant night in the very near future.
