Nervousness, A Calamity.

Many who don't realize what lies beyond, treat an attack of the "nerves" with indifference. Others consider it will soon pass away. But in every case nervousness is a calamity. Only one remedy will cure—Ferrozone—a nerve strengthener that acts through the blood. First it gives you appetite—you eat plenty. This fills the blood with nourishment for the inner nerve cells. Energy and strength is instilled into every part of the system. You get well—keep well—nervousness forever departs, because you've used Ferrozone. Price 50c per box of fifty tablets at all dealers.

BRAKEMAN KILLED

Edward S MacMurray met Death at Bartibogue

KILLED INSTANTLY

Was Making a Flying Shunt When he fell in front of Moving Train of Cars

Newcastle learned with deepest sorrow Friday afternoon of the tragic death of Brakeman Edward S MacMurray which took place at Bartibogue station about three o'clock.

The unfortunate young man, who was breaking on Con. Wm. Bovard's pulp special was engaged in making a flying shunt in the Bartibogue yard. As all know in making such a shunt it is necessary to shift the tracks quickly. This he endeavored to do when in some unaccountable manner his hands slipped off the switch lever and he lost his balance, falling on the track in front of the rapidly moving cars. He was struck on the head and killed instantly.

Word was sent to Newcastle where his mother, Mrs Robert MacMurray and brothers and sisters reside, and the news gently broken to the family. It is only about eighteen months since Mr. MacMurray father of the deceased, was killed in the Newcastle yard.

The remains were taken to West Branch, Kent county for interment. The funeral from the home of the deceased to the station was largely attended. Services at the house were conducted by Rev H. Amott, assisted by Revs. F. T. Snell and H. Johnston. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Clifford McKay, Robert Smallwood, John Smallwood, Harry Graham and Wm. Sheppard.

The deceased young man, who was much respected here was 23 years of age. The sorrowing family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.—Advocate.

PROTECTING GAME

Prosecution of Offenders at Chatham and Tracadie: Last week

In its game the North Shore has a valuable asset and this is being more fully realized each year by the residents. That a few law breakers could kill game and escape detection or punishment was in the past admitted but it is harder to evade the action of the law, especially when good wardens are appointed.

Last week a Chatham merchant was up before Police Magistrate Connors charged with having a moose calf skin in his possession. He pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

On the same day a Little Southwest man was up before the same court charged with killing beaver. He pleaded guilty and was fined $30 and costs. The fine was allowed to stand for one month.

A St Isidore resident was up before Albert Robichaud at Tracadie for killing a moose out of season. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs. The costs were paid and the fine allowed to stand for a time.

Game Warden Robinson informs the Advocate that he has a few more cases which will come up later.

Stephen Campbell the game warden of Pokemouche is doing good service and is receiving the support of the residents of that locality in his work.

Gloucester County people had the reputation of being unfavorable to the game laws, but Warden Robinson says that this is not the case as they seem so anxious to have this valuable asset preserved and he wishes through the Advocate to thank the residents of the part of the County he recently visited for the assistance and hospitality rendered him during the discharge of his duties.—Advocate
