A Fossil.—The other day, Mr. T. M. Kay of Farquhar, left at this office a curious fossil, which he picked up on his farm. It appears to be the claw of a large bird, firmly clutching some small object. The joints are all plainly risible. It is a currously.

The Reform C avention, called to formed at Hensall, on January Srd, was rendered impossible by the unusual storm. Those who had collected were from the immediate heighborhood of Hensall and very properly refrained from proceeding with the work. The various committees have received notice of the adjournment of the meeting until Firday I/th inst., and it is hoped our Reform friends will make the date and place—Purdy's Hali, Hensall—as public as possible.

USBORNE TOWNSHIP,

Srow.—The people along the town line between Perth and Middlesex oan very seldom boast of having good sleighing along their road as the snow usually blows off. Since the Ohrishmas storm, however, our town line friends have been in a position to judge which affords the least discomfert—shoveling nnew or enduring the swind of an occasional stone grating against the shoe of the sleigh. The town line also between Huwen and Perth which has never before been known to be blockaded, has been rendered, by the late atorm, impassable without a great deal of hard labor.

DIRTHERIA has been very pevalent in the reighborhood of Kirkton. About 23 deaths have been reported. It is somewhat abating, there being only some three or four cases in the neighborhood at present. Kirkton school was closed the greater part of last half year to prevent the disease from apreading, but notwithstanding all the efforts to cheek it, it has visited nearly every family in the neighborhood.
