

Continued.—A List of the HOLLOWAY STUDIO, Ltd., Landscape and Seascape Photographs.

No. 46—GLACIER, COBURG ISLAND, GREENLAND.
No. 47—LITTLE BAY ISLANDS.
No. 48—LITTLE BAY ISLANDS, SHOWING CHURCH.
No. 49—BONNE BAY.
No. 50—BONNE BAY, SHOWING PIER.

No. 51—OLD LOG CABIN, SPRUCE BROOK.
No. 52—HOLYROOD.
No. 53—MORETON'S HARBOUR.
No. 54—FOGO.
No. 55—FRESHWATER.

No. 56—CARBONEAR.
No. 57—HERRING NECK, N. D. B.
No. 58—ICEBERG OUTSIDE BATTLE HARBOUR.
No. 59—LION'S DEN, FOGO.
No. 60—FOGO, SHOWING BRIMSTONE HEAD.
(To be continued.)

These Photos are all size 10 x 12, and sell for 50 cents each unmounted, and $1.00 mounted. Order by number. Prints of all Photographs may be seen at any time.

The HOLLOWAY STUDIO, Ltd., corner Henry Street and Bates' Hill, St. John's, Nfld.

NOTICE.

THE STEAMER

Prospero

Will leave the wharf of Bowring Bros., Ltd.,
—ON—
THURSDAY, the 5th March, at 10 a.m., calling at the following places.

Cape Broyle, Ferryland, Renew, Trepassy, St. Mary's, Salmonier, Placentia, Marystown, Burt, St. Lawrence, Fortune, Grand Bank, Bellefleur, St. Jacques, Harbour Breton, Hermitage, Gaultois, Pushthrough, Francois, Cape La Hune, Ramea, Burgeo, Rose Blanche, Channel.

ICE PERMITTING.
Freight received until 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

For freight or passage apply to the Coastal Office of BOWRING BROTHERS, LTD.

Telephone 306.

Rossley'sTheatre.

The only High-Class Vaudeville Theatre in our Colony.

CANT BE BEAT.

THE BIG HOLIDAY BILL.
SPLENDID PROGRAMME.

Matinee every day.

5 cents to all.
Change Three Times a Week.

HEALTHY AND UNHEALTHY LIGHTING.

Gas, it may be said, vitiates the atmosphere. True. But it also helps to purify it. Its purifying power is greater than its vitiating power. Electricity does not vitate, nor does it purify. Hear what three eminent men have said:—

Much evidence has lately been adduced to show that gas is more useful than the electric light in promoting efficient ventilation of air. It is for this, amongst other reasons, that gas is being frequently substituted for the electric light. The latest example is, perhaps, the Society of Medical Officers of Health, which has recently installed gas on its premises, after experience with the electric light.—Dr. Jamieson B. Hurry.

He would merely add that no member who had experience of their meeting room under the old conditions could deny the improvement that had taken place since gas had been substituted for the electric light and the new system of heating and ventilation had been installed.—Dr. Reginald Duffield, before the Society of Medical Officers of Health.

I have in my mind's eye, at the moment, a hall which, in the old days, was lighted by gas, and in which a large audience could, with comfort, sit through an hour's lecture, or with ease through a three hours' dinner, but which, with the march of civilization, and its illumination changed from gas to electricity, the latter being employed with all the latest refinements to effect the lighting under the best conditions, with the result that any large gathering within its walls leads to a state little short of apoplexy.—Viscount B. Lewis, Professor of Chemistry at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich.—Nov. 11

Cable News.

Special to the Evening Telegram.
PHILADELPHIA, March 3.
Thirteen deaths, due to the storm, are reported in this city and vicinity; also four at Scranton. A young man was frozen to death, while snow-bound in a sleigh at Hazleton.

BRUSSELS, March 3.
Seven coal miners were drowned to-day in a mine at Bracquegnies, by the bursting into one of the galleries of a subterranean stream. The danger signal was sounded throughout the mine, and hundreds of employees escaped.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., March 3.
Three French sailors from the French ketch Guadeloupe, were eaten by natives of Malekula, New Hebrides, recently, according to a story of the master of the vessel, received here. The vessel was engaged recruiting, and had called at the island to obtain laborers. Canibals attacked the three men as soon as they landed, and ate them on the spot. When the captain went ashore to ascertain the delay, he was ambushed and captured, but escaped, uninjured.

LONDON, March 3.
The Pall Mall Gazette declares a general election inevitable. Unions in both houses will unite to force the Government's hand. The Ulster "covenanters" will mobilize as soon as Home Rule passes the Commons. The Chronicle says that the Cabinet will not consent to the dismemberment of Ireland, but will propose that education and licensing remain under Imperial control, with the police for six years. Arrangements will be made to ensure proper appointments on merit, and not on a sectarian basis. Ulster members will have the right to veto legislation inimical to Ulster's interests. North East Ulster will be included, but the right to withdraw by plebiscite after five years, may be permitted.

LONDON, March 3.
Replying to a question as to the death of Mr. Benton, Sir Edward Grey said in part: "All efforts that have been made hitherto, have failed to secure an investigation into the facts respecting the death of Benton. The persistent difficulties in the way of such investigation, create the strongest presumption, desire and intention to conceal the truth, on the part of those responsible for what has happened. Communications with Washington are still proceeding, but I would repeat what I said last week, these communications do not imply that the United States Government have any responsibility for what has taken place, by which I mean, of course, the death of Benton. While we shall welcome any action that the States may be prepared to take to secure justice, we have no title to demand as a right that the States should itself, resort to force. One can demand that another government should go to all lengths to secure reparation for a crime, only when one holds that that government is, in some way, responsible for its commission. So far the States has shown, at least, as much interest in the death in Mexico of a British subject, as it has in the case of an outrage on American citizens."

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, Mar 4, '14.
Soda Mint and Pepsin Tablets make one of the simplest cures for slight cases of indigestion as well as all cases of heartburn. The Soda Mint corrects the acidity of the stomach. The Pepsin aids digestion. Even in long standing cases, relief is almost certain. All who find any trouble in digesting their food, or who suffer from heartburn or water brash, would do well to keep a bottle of these admirable little pellets in their vest pocket. Price 15c. a bottle.

McMurdo's Nutritive Hypophosphites is the most potent spring tonic suitable for general use, and will help you over the spring very nicely. Price 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Reids' Boats.

The Bruce is due at Port aux Basques.

The Ethie sails from Placentia for the westward this evening.

The Glencoe is supposed to be still at Burnt Island, going west.

The Lintrose is due at North Sydney to-day.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GADGETS IN 10 DAYS.

Fourteen Life Savers were Drowned

Quebec, Feb. 21. — Fourteen lifeboat men were drowned when they went out from Fethard, to rescue the crew of the Norwegian barque Mexico, driven into the rocks near the Saltee Islands, Wexford, last night. Two lifeboats had answered the distress call of the Mexico, bound from Laguna, Mexico, to Falmouth. The first to reach her was stove in, but the life savers were able to scramble on board the wrecked Mexico, where they remained all night. When the crew of the barque and the lifeboat men landed safely on one of the islands to-day they found that the second lifeboat which they had waited for all night had sunk with her crew of fourteen men.

Fresh Cream DAILY.BISHOP, SONS & CO., LTD.

Grocery Department.

Fresh TURKEYS
Fresh CHICKEN
Fresh SQUABS
New York
CORNED BEEF
CURRIED FOWL
CURRIED RABBIT

LENTEN DIET.

No. 1 SALMON
LOBSTER
COD TONGUES
MUSSELS
WHITE BAIT
ROYANS
SARDINES
SMOKED CAPLIN
FILLET OF COD
FRESH CODFISH
FRESH SMELTS
FRESH MACKEREL
FINNAN HADDIE
KIPPERED HERRING
DIGBY HERRING
LAX
MT. DESSERT OYSTERS
CHERRY STONE
OYSTERS
BLUE POINT OYSTERS
SCOTCH
CURED HERRING
FRESH FROZEN HERRING

SALMON & SHRIMP
PASTE.
SALMON & ANCHOVIE
PASTE
SARDINE PASTE
BLOATER PASTE

CAULIFLOWER
CELERY
LETTUCE
PARSLEY
DANDELION
CARROTS PARSNIPS

NAVEL ORANGES
TABLE APPLES
LEMONS
GRAPE FRUIT
PEARS
BANANAS

FULLER'S CHOCOLATES
FULLER'S SWEETS
ABDULLA CIGARETTES
ABDULLA TOBACCO

'Phone 679.

Under Ground Inspection.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to state a few facts which is of much importance to the miners who work underground in this country. We are very quiet but at the same time we take stock of what is going on in the Government ranks. The Government can find a means of raising some salaries 200 per cent, but they can't find money to pay a practical miner to inspect and report to the Government Engineer on all the under ground workings and conditions under which our laborers have to work. If it was reported that a fisherman caught a lobster with only one eye and a sign of spawn on its tail, the Government would spend thousands and pay a heeler a big salary to watch Mr. Lobster and advise him not to crawl into the fisherman's pot. If it was reported that some one shot a black crow up the country, the Government would send out an army of game wardens to capture the slayer or the poor crow, but the miners are human beings who have to work in the bowels of the earth for their bread and butter. It's no difference about them getting their heads shot off and getting their lives crushed out. Is it possible that the wild animals in the country are of more value to them than miners' lives. Why is it that the Government ignores the miners' appeal for protection by law? I have had thirty years of practical experience in mining, both in this country and out of it, and Mr. Editor, and gentle readers, I am prepared at a moment's notice to give a sworn statement of conditions under which our miners have to work, and which if published, would be an eye-opener for the reading public. If Sir E. P. Morris and Hon. M. P. Cashin had their sons working under ground in Newfoundland, we would have inspectors and overseers appointed by the dozen to advise our mining conditions. Why is it that the Government Engineer doesn't advise on the above matter? We notice he can advise the Government to appoint railroad inspectors by the bushel. That is of no earthly use whatever, either to the Government or to the contractor. We are going to look to the Government Engineer in the future for better protection than what we have got in the past. Why not give us at least two good practical miners and have them to report every week to the Government Engineer. I know of several cases in the country where men lost their lives all through no inspection by a practical man. One poor fellow was ordered to work in a place that was condemned by others. He worked two hours when a piece of ore four tons fell from the roof over his head and crushed out his life. The excavation was 75 feet long, 52 feet wide and 24 feet high without one stick of timber to protect the workmen's heads. I will hold over the name of the miner for the sake of the poor fellow's friends; I know of others that were sent to their death in a similar way.

Now, Sir Edward Morris I want you to please answer a few practical questions.

(1) Have the Government got a statement from all the mining companies, of all ropes and cables used in and around the mines, and how many years are the said ropes and cables guaranteed for and the name of the manufacturers of same?
(2) What kind of timber is being used underground. Who inspected said timber. What method is used in timbering the mine excavations?
(3) Are the guard rails put up on all landings and crossings?
(4) Are the guard rails used on all ore cars and skips under ground?
(5) Are the manways left open for the exit of men. Are there any compartments fitted with a special cage or car for the accommodation of the men, and is there a special engine employed in the hoist?

Yours truly,
MINER.

Feb. 18th, 1914.

Bay Service Resumed.

The s.s. Ethie arrived at Placentia from the Red Island route at 1 p.m. yesterday and sails again for the westward after the arrival of to-day's train.

Repairs to the s.s. Argyle will be completed in about two weeks, when she will again resume her usual route.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA.

Drowning Tragedy.

BOY FALLS THROUGH ICE IN THE HARBOUR.

A sad drowning occurred in the harbor, near Franklin's premises, yesterday afternoon, the victim being Patrick O'Neill, son of Andrew O'Neill, cabman. The young lad O'Neill with several of his companions was "copying" on the ice in Tessier's dock just astern of the cruiser Fiona, and went down through some slob which he thought was safe ice. The little fellow made a desperate struggle for his life. The accident was witnessed by the bosun of the Fiona, who threw a rope to O'Neill, which unfortunately he failed to grasp, with the result that he soon sank from view. The dock was dragged for the body and was brought to the surface by Captain Bartlett of the dredge Priestman. The accident happened about 5 p.m. and the body was not recovered until 5.45 p.m. The remains were taken to the home of the deceased's parents, to whom the sad news of the occurrence was broken by Rev. Fr. McDermott. The Telegram unites with the whole community in the general sympathy extended to the grief stricken parents.

A swindler now under indictment in the United States advertised, "Throw away your glasses." Those who sent him five or ten dollars received in exchange a small box of tablets which the United States mail officials found could be manufactured for twenty-five cents per thousand. There is no medical, chemical or mechanical means of restoring to normal an eyeball which is irregular in shape for such is the condition in most cases when glasses are worn for constant use. Hypermetropia, myopia, and the various forms of astigmatism are simply cases where the cornea, or clear front portion of the eyeball, is not absolutely spherical, and there is no other known means of overcoming such defect excepting by adjusting glasses. It is to be hoped that none of our Newfoundland friends have been duped by the swindler referred to above. You are always safe in consulting R. H. Trappell, Eyesight Specialist, St. John's, when your vision requires attention.—Feb 27, 1914, tf

Plain Speech.

Old Ebenezer Jimpeon Jinks takes pride in saying what he thinks. "I do not mince my words," say he, "but I speak my mind out, bold and free; and if I do not like a gent, I make it plainly evident; I air my views to beat the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Copyright, 1913, by
H. H. H. H. H.

Views of the band, and people know just where I stand." He takes a foolish pride, methinks, does Ebenezer Simpson Jinks, in being rude and rough of speech, but few regard him as a peach. He keeps his neighbors hot and sore, and they denounce him as a bore. "We'd pay the freight," they often say, "if he would only move away!" And people dodge him on the street; they hate to hear old Jinks repeat "his honest views" on this and that, which views are spoken through his hat. When he steps up to join a crowd, you'd think a cold and clammy shroud had fallen on that bunch of men, who all disperse to meet again when there's no Jinks to give the blues expounding "his straightforward views." If you would have a grist of friends you'll hear in mind that friendship ends, and cordial feeling slinks behind, when you begin to "speak your mind."

Bargains In Second-Hand Furniture

Call and secure yours at once.
BEDSTEADS, MATTRESSES, BED SPRINGS,
TABLES, CHAIRS, CANVAS, PICTURES,
BOOKS, 3 SEWING MACHINES,
SEALERS' MATTRESSES.
Also some SECOND-HAND CLOTHING.
OVERMANTELS, MIRRORS,
WASHING MACHINE, etc., at HUDSON'S STORE,
GEORGE STREET.

Red Apples, Sweet Oranges, etc.

300 brls. CHOICE RED APPLES.
30 cases SWEET ORANGES.
10 cases CHOICE LEMONS.
Apples are fresh packed and probably last shipment for season.
EDWIN MURRAY.

CANNED SALMON!

Guaranteed No. 1 Quality.
CHEAPEST
On the Market.
A. H. MURRAY,
O'Dwyer's Cove.

FALL OVERCOATINGS

in the season's most approved fabrics are ready for your inspection.
The High Standard, which we have set in past seasons, combined with recently added facilities, enable us to pronounce our Fall Showing SUPERIOR TO ANYTHING SHOWN ELSEWHERE.

CHAPLIN,

The Store that Pleases.

Advertise in The Telegram.