Jones, of Bridgewater, master of the ship, and his crew, including 18, 1917, and Jackson Baker, as Bowdridge, Edgar Banfield, Fortune Bay, Nfld., and all others of the crew of the Nfld. ship, which was in the North Atlantic on June 28, 1918. BOTH WISH TO BE PRESENT.

PARIS, Jan. 22. W. F. Massey, Premier of New Zealand, and Sir J. G. Ward, Minister of Finance of New Zealand, arrived in Paris to-day. They expressed disappointment at the decision of the Supreme Council to give the country only one delegate at the Peace Conference. The New Zealand ministers represented two different parties in New Zealand politics and both wish to be present at the conference. They say they would endeavor to have the decision changed so that both could attend the peace sessions.

SINN FEIN APPEAL.

DUBLIN, Jan. 21. (By the A.P.)—After referring to Ireland's geographical position, the Irish Parliament this afternoon addressed the following to the free nations of the world: "Ireland's independence is demanded. By the freedom of the seas her great harbors will be opened to all nations instead of being a monopoly to England. To-day the harbors are empty and idle solely because Ireland irrevocably determined at the dawn of the promised era of self-determination that she will suffer foreign domination no longer. She calls every free nation to uphold her national claim to complete independence as an Irish republic against the arrogant pretensions of England, which were founded on fraud and sustained by overwhelming military occupation. She demands to be confronted publicly with England at the Congress of Nations, that the civilized world having judged between English wrong and Irish right, may guarantee Ireland its permanent support for the maintenance of national independence."

THE CONSTITUTION.

DUBLIN, Jan. 22. According to the provisional constitution of the Irish republic now before the Dail Eireann, legislative powers are to be vested in deputies elected from existing parliamentary constituencies. The ministry will consist of a president and four executive officers, secretaries of finance, home affairs, foreign affairs and national defences. All revenues will be raised on the vote of the Dail Eireann. The constitution may be altered upon seven days' notice. Sir Horace Plunkett, Professor Edward De Valera and Arthur Griffiths will probably be appointed Irish delegates to the Peace Conference to-day.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

REVOLT IN BREMEN.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 22. The city of Bremen is virtually in the hands of the working men, according to a despatch to the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger from the German seaport. A general strike has been proclaimed at Remscheid as a protest against the killing of Dr. Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg. A Bremen despatch states the factories have been closed and traffic suspended.

NOT ENEMIES.

PARIS, Jan. 22. A communication issued by the Council regarding the Russian situation says: "The Associated Powers regard the Russian people as friends, not enemies. They do not desire to assist any one of the organized groups now contending for the guidance of Russia. They accept it as a duty to serve Russia, generously, unselfishly, thoughtfully and ungrudgingly, as they would serve every other friend or ally. In this spirit they invite every organized group now exercising or attempting to exercise political or military control anywhere in Siberia, or within the boundaries of European Russia prior to the war, except Finland, to send representatives not exceeding three for each group, to Prince's Islands, in the Sea of Marmora, to meet representatives of the Associated Powers, provided in the meantime there is a truce of arms and all armed forces anywhere sent or directed against any people or territories outside the aforementioned boundaries, against Finland, or against any people or territory whose autonomous action is in contemplation in the fourteen articles shall meanwhile be withdrawn and aggressive military action cease. These representatives are invited to the freest, frankest conference with a view to reaching an understanding and agreement."

UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

DUBLIN, Jan. 22. PARIS, Jan. 22. (Havas).—Valencia, a small town on the Minho River in Northern Portugal, surrendered to the Monarchists this morning, according to advice from the Spanish town of Tuy, across the river from Valencia.

WITHOUT MANUEL'S CONSENT.

LONDON, Jan. 22. Portugal's monarchical revolution was begun and is being carried on without the support of former King Manuel, according to Marquis De Soveral, former Portuguese Minister to Great Britain. In an interview with the Mail, the Marquis says, "Manuel has done nothing to support or encourage the Monarchist Government in Portugal. Throughout the war he has kept entirely clear from politics and asked all his followers to support whatever government was in power in Portugal."

THE RUSSIAN QUESTION.

PARIS, Jan. 22. (By the A.P.)—With the hope of formulating a definite line of action in the Russian question, the Supreme Council of the Peace Congress continued to-day to devote most of its attention to the subject. Discussions were taken up where they were left off yesterday and some announcement of a fully matured policy is expected to be made during today's session. Principles of action have been decided upon in the main and virtually all that remains is to reduce the agreement to writing and get final assent to it by the delegates. There was no indication at the opening of to-day's meeting as to which one of the three proposals already considered had been accepted or whether an entirely new plan had been worked out. The policy of building a wall around Bolshevism by encouraging lawful governments is being spoken of as being foremost among the possibilities. Consideration of the Polish problem may have added an element which may change the line of action from its originality contemplated form while the peace congress is getting into action. The question of President Wilson naming a fifth delegate to act on the American mission when he himself departed for home has arisen, and the names of William Taft and Elitha Root have been mentioned. Mr. Wilson's decision as to the appointment of another delegate depends wholly upon whether he will consider it necessary to return to Europe after the adjournment of the United States Congress in March. Steps were taken to supply food to Finland and make certain that Germany carries out her undertaking to Russian prisoners of war.

M. C. L. I. Debate.

The regular weekly meeting of the M. C. L. I. will be held this evening, beginning at 7.45. The subject of the debate is contained in the following. "Resolved,—that in the interests of the returned soldiers, a Y. M. C. A. is essential in St. John's, and should be organized this year."

Sailors Endure Hardship.

Messages were received yesterday from Portland, Me., that the crew of the schr. John, rescued by the S. S. Bayano, suffered terribly before being rescued. Capt. Porter and crew were six days on the vessel after she became dismasted, and had practically nothing to eat, the provisions being spoiled by salt water. No fire could be lighted, and all the crew were frostbitten more or less. The men will probably arrive here next week.

In the Ice.

Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Bowring Bros. Ltd., received the following message from Capt. A. Kean of the Prospero, which left Little Bay Islands yesterday morning for this port: "Position three miles S.W. of Cape John, Gull Island; no water to be seen; heavy butting, making little progress to the eastward; moderate breeze from N.W. blowing. Needs S.W. wind or swell to get out of Green Bay." The Prospero has on board 4,200 barrels of Scotch cured herring from Little Bay Island, and left there yesterday morning in company with the s.s. Diana which steamer also has a full load.

Patriotic Association.

At last night's meeting of the Patriotic Association, His Excellency the Governor presided and spoke for a few minutes on the sorrow of the Royal Family occasioned by the death of H.R.H. Prince John.

In connection with our reconstruction, he said it required all our patriotism and as for the Association, the first work for it to discuss was that of a war memorial to our heroes. The following resolutions were submitted by Rev. Dr. Curtis:

Whereas, the time has come for Newfoundland to take up the question of a memorial for her gallant sons who fought so heroically and many of whom died so gloriously on the field of honor;

And Whereas, it is in harmony with the tendency of the time that such memorial should be not only worthy of them and of us in appearance, but also should serve some useful and inspirational purpose in days to come;

And Whereas, the cause of education in Newfoundland is greatly in need of a building for the carrying on of such important work as the professional training of teachers, the development of technical and scientific proficiency, and the advancement of greater education;

Therefore be it resolved, that this Patriotic Association agree to take into consideration the advisability of erecting in St. John's a memorial for sailors and soldiers in the form of an educational building which shall raise to a higher level the whole status of education in Newfoundland, and materially assist its young people to achieve greater success in life.

Be it further resolved, that a representative committee be appointed forthwith to take into particular consideration this proposal, along with other proposals for a suitable memorial, and that such committee report to this association on the whole matter at a later date.

Rev. Dr. Curtis, in moving this resolution spoke of its value in training teachers for their great work. It would advance the status of education and be a fitting memorial for our boys.

Dr. Burke seconded the resolution, and said such a building would help to give the poor boy a better chance and also increase our chances of success in trade.

Hon. J. Anderson supported the resolution, and said the building should include public library, social hall for visitors and a photographic gallery containing the names of our fighting heroes.

Sir M. P. Cashin favoured the resolution, and thought sufficient money would be forthcoming for such a purpose.

Hon. J. Harvey thought the resolution a good one, as it would help to give all an education.

Sir P. T. McGrath favored the resolution, but said it should not prevent erection of other monuments to the memory of our heroes.

Dr. Blackall said that while all can see the need of such an institution he hoped more provision would be made for general education.

Hon. J. A. Clift thought we should move slowly, and to test the whole feeling of the country first before taking definite action.

Mr. Morine said that such an undertaking must be financed by Government legislation.

Mr. W. J. Higgins said the opinion of the outports should be secured.

Sir Thomas Outbridge thought something definite should be settled on before asking for subscriptions.

His Excellency thought all questions would be answered in the committee's report.

It was decided a committee be appointed to consider resolutions and report later.

Sir P. T. McGrath explained the position of the War History Committee.

A resolution from Grand Falls re a permanent fund for soldiers was made.

A committee comprising W. B. Grieve, Esq., Dr. J. A. Robinson and W. J. Higgins, Esq., was appointed to draft a resolution of condolence to Their Majesties the King and Queen, after which the meeting closed.

"He Takes an Interest in My Tyres"

The other day two motorists were asked this question: "What does your tyre dealer do for you—aside from selling you tyres?"

One said, "Nothing; he just takes my money and says, 'Thank you, sir.'"

The other said, "He takes an interest in the way my tyres wear."

Here is the whole story of the retail tyre business: The second dealer runs a Good Year Service Station. He sells tyres that are built right to give the most mileage and then he takes pains to show the customer all sorts of little mileage-gaining helps.

He knows no more about tyres than the other dealer does, but he gives every customer the benefit of all he knows. And he trains his helpers to do just what he does—take an interest in the buyer's tyres.

You will find that it pays you to buy Good Year Tyres from the Good Year Service Station Dealer. You will find that the tyres and the service are both better.
