A Singular Occurance.—About four miles west of this village there is a lake about a mile long by from one quarter to five-cightlis of a mile wide. This lake from the quantity of fish therein twe suppose is called Pike Lake, the water is assaily in the winter season frozen over to the the cheeses of from 12 to 18 inches, but this past winter it was solid to a much greater depth. At the breaking up of the ice this season the fish have been washed up on shore in very large quantities, variously estimated from seven to ten thousand, and now lay dead all around the lake. These consist of pike of various sizes; terch, suckers, &c, and in one part near the outlet they lay on top of each other a foot in depth. This is the first season that anything of the kind has occurred here, and various are the conjectures as to the cause? Some are of the opinion that the lake was frozen nearly solid and that the fish were thus killed, while others think that some convulsion of nature below the lake has taken place. We incline to the former theory as large and cumbrous roots are also washed up on the shore, and apparently torn up from the bottom by the ice when rising.—Mount Forcat Confederate.

The Times says. Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chesnut mare. She died died suddenly in harness, it is supposed from bots or pin worms. If the Doctor had used Sheridan's Cavaley Condition Powders, he would, no doubt, have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

Chapped hands are very common with those who have their hands much in water. A few draw of delevants line-dyne Liniment rubbed over the hands two or three times a day, will keep them soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to renumember this.
