for the repeal of the portion of the B. N. A. Act governing separate schools, and endeavoring to take back the price, or part of the price, by which the Province secured a settlement of its constitutional difficulties, is seriously questioned by Mr. Mowat. Each of the various amendments which the Opposition has, after concurring in, declared the outcome of hierarchical influence, Mr. Mowat shows the wisdom of, whether from a Protestant or a Roman Catholic point of view; shows, moreover, that the from a Protestant or a Roman Catholic point of view; shows, moreover, that the late Hon. George Brown and the late Dr. Egerton Ryerson both were living and tacitly approved the principal enactments that are now being attacked. The insinuation, or, from more reckless quarters, the outcome of pressure from the Roman Catholic hierarchy is most emphatically repudiated by the Premier, though to most intelligent and reasonable people his repudiation was hardly necessary, for it was never seriously made and has long since been entirely refuted. Each amendment, moreover, the Attorney-General deals with upon tirely refuted. Each amendment, more-over, the Attorney-General deals with upon its merits, and shows more thoroughly than ever before the groundlessness of the Op-position charges, the charges, the mischiev-ous nature of their attacks, the impracti-cability of their policy, and the shamefully inconsistent and scandalous character of their tactics.

Niagara Falls, Ont. June 1.— The Duke and Duchess of Connaght, accompanied by Sir John McNeil and party, arrived here at noon yesterday. The royal party entered carriages and were driven across the new Suspension Bridge to the New York Central depot, and took a regular train for Buffalo, riding in one of the day coaches. The trip to Buffalo was to gratify a desire of the duchess to visit an American city before leaving for England. At Buffalo they were driven around the principal streets. The left Buffalo at 6 o'clock and arrived back at 7:30. After dinner their Royal Highnesses spent a quiet evening, enjoying the scenery presented by the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park and the American and Horseshoe Falls. This afternoon the royal visitors drove across the new Suspension Bridge and made the tour of the New York State Reservation and the town of Niagara Falls, N. Y., being much pleased with their visit. They also viewed the American Falls from Luna Island. Returning to the Canadian side they visited the various points of interest, and the Duke frequently expressed his admiration at the wonderful changes and improvements within the park limits since the Government took possession of the locality.
