Attractions of Canada as a Touris Resort - Klondike Tour & Pleasure Trip.

(From London (England) Canadian Gazette.1

Wheat, barley and oats from Dawson City! The thing sounds preposterous, for Dawson is 1,600 miles north of the 49th parallel, right under the shadow of the Arctic circle. Yet, there they are, and good specimens, too, at the London offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway, on King William street From Mr. Willis, the Dawson City manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the samples come, and he vouches for their authenticity. Are we then to reverse all preconceived notions and regard Klondike as an agricultural paradise as well as a gold-yielding region? By no means. The soil is there beneath the two feet or so of moss, but the climate makes agriculture in any extended sense an impossibility for all time. Lettuces you can grow in abundance, radishes, too, and cabbages; but wheat growing is but an interesting experiment, almost a freak, and must remain so. Yet it fight between James J. Jeffries and James J. Corbett has been fixed for May 14. is a useful corrective to many of our exaggerated notions of the climate of Klondike to know that wheat and other grains can, in certain climatic circumstances, be grown there, and grown most creditably.

It is interesting to learn from those who can compare the facts of today with those of even four years ago, what stupendous changes these four years have wrought in the means of reaching this sub-Arctic wilderness of the Klondike. In 1894 it needed rare persistence and courage, and the hazard of life itself at times, to reach Klondike; today it is a mere matter of going on in steamboat or train. The voyage up the coast from Vancouver or Seattle to Skaguay, about 1,000 miles, is excellent traveling. From Skaguay, thirty-eight miles of rail carry you to the head of Lake Bennett, whence the steamer carries you up by lake and river easily enough to Daw-son City. A pleasure trip, with just a dash of novelty and excitement—that is all. And this year the railway will be finished to white Horse Rapids, and then the journey will be still further simplified. Indeed, it will surprise many travelers if the Yukon country does not speedily become a famous tourist resort, especially for Americans. The world has fewer stretches No Knife! No Plaster! No Pain! of mountain and river scenery than the Yukon River admits one to, along its navigable course of 2,200 miles from White Horse Rapids to St. Michaels, on the North Pacific Ocean. As a climax to the varied scenery of the settled portions of the Dominion from Halifax or Quebec, through the Canadian Rockies to Vancouver, the Klondike tour should have a great

How great are the attractions of Canada as a tourist resort the London public have at this moment a good opportunity for judging, for at the Palace Theater just now we have the Biograph enlisted in the cause of practical imperialism. By this means the spectator may view in comfort all the wonderful scenes that the Canadian Pacific imperial express rushes past in its course through the Rockies and Selkirks down to the Pacific coast. The little leaslet, by aid of which the audience follows the views, reminds them appropriately enough that "the brains which projected this pathway and the hands which carried out the work are of the same nationality as those loyal and brave colonists who are now prov-ing their fealty to the mother country fighting under the Union Jack in South How little," adds the leaflet. "do those who never leave England realize how great is the work and the compass of result achieved by British empire-makers."
