FOUR YOUNG MEN DROWNED

Their Boat Was Swamped During a Storm.

Collision on the L. E. and D. R. R.—Woman Frightfully Burned.

Michigan, Mich., Nov. 5.—During the storm on Sunday four prominent young men of this place lost their lives by drowning. The dead are: Geo. W. Levin, Abel Levin, Emil Carlson and Albin Carlson.

The men went across Lake Michigan in the morning in two boats, the Levin brothers in one and the Carlson brothers in the other. During the afternoon a fierce storm came up and the boys decided that they would be safer in one boat, so they started home in that way. It is supposed that the boat became swamped and the men gave up the struggle in the ice cold waters. A searching party was out all night, but obtained no trace of the bodies. One of the boats was found tied to a tree on shore, where they had been intending to return for it after the storm subsided.

COLLISION ON THE L. E. AND D. R. R.
Leamington, Ont., Nov. 5.—A freight train on the L. E. and D. R. R. was pulling into the switch to let the east-bound express pass last evening about 6 o'clock, when two tenders which were attached to the rear end, broke loose, and remained on the main track, coming into collision with the express, with the result that both tenders were derailed, together with the engine and baggage car of the express. The engineer and fireman of the express jumped. Their escape from instant death is almost miraculous, as the baggage car and tender plunged into the river. Traffic was delayed several hours.

LOST BOTH FEET.
Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—F. Nadon, a young brakeman on the Crow's Nest Pass line, lost his feet at Dunmore Junction, in attempting to jump on a watercar. He missed the step and both feet were caught under the wheels of the car, which passed over them.

SUICIDE AND SHOOTING.
Moncton, N. W. T., Nov. 5.—Peter Law, aged about 25, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the mouth. He worked in a livery stable in town, and up to the time of his death was apparently in good health and spirits. His relatives are in Edinburgh, Scotland.

TERIBLY BURNED.
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Wm. Mayer made an attempt to end her life yesterday in a terrible manner. She piled newspapers into the bath tub at her home, saturated them with kerosene and lighted them. Then, bending over the burning papers, she remained in that position until the entire upper portion of her body was burned in a horrible manner. The smoke at

DANGER IN STREETS OF OLD LONDON.

Heaviest Fog Known in Years Enveloped the Metropolis.

British People Told They Must Pay More Taxes to Carry on the War—Murder in a London Bank.

London, Nov. 5.—A fog such as Great Britain had not experienced for years enveloped London yesterday, blocking shipping, deranging railways and throwing business in London, Birmingham and other provincial cities into confusion.

So dense was it that a walk into the streets was an adventure. The fog descended upon the metropolis and the suburbs so thickly that between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon the principal avenues of traffic resembled the steam room of a Turkish bath. Hundreds of thousands of London's suburban population vainly endeavored to grope their way to the railway stations. The few who succeeded found the trains all stalled.

Around Trafalgar Square and the houses of parliament scenes unparalleled for years were witnessed. Hundreds of omnibuses, cabs, carts and wagons formed an inextricable and immovable mass. The mounted police, in trying to clear away the jam, got lost themselves. Many vehicles were in collision. The drivers, not knowing where they were, stood at the heads of their horses patiently awaiting the lifting of the premature darkness.

Lancers were at a premium, newsboys transformed their papers into temporary torches, highwaymen pursued their vocation. Casualties were frequent, and even hardened Londoners freely expressed a dread of the continuation of such fogs as yesterday reached a climax.

ENORMOUS COST OF WAR.
London, Nov. 5.—What is regarded as an important announcement preparing the people of Great Britain for new taxes and fresh loans was made to-night by the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, in a speech at Bristol. After alluding to the enormous increase in the ordinary expenditures of the government he viewed the war taxes and said that the ever-increasing demand of the national exchequer gave reasons for careful thought and even anxiety for the future.

"The cost of the war in South Africa is enormous," said Sir Michael. "It still drags on. It may be when next year comes, that I may have to ask the people of this country to bear even greater burdens and to make even greater sacrifices."

Sir Michael announced that the government was communicating with the authorities in South Africa with a view to a change in the situation of the concentration camps, and to an amelioration of their conditions. John Morley, M. P., speaking at Forfar, Scotland, asserted that the ordinary annual expenditure of the British Government had increased £28,000,000 during the last ten years, or, including the expenditure of the sinking fund, £32,000,000. He declared that there was a real danger ahead of the country.

TRAGEDY IN A BANK.
Yesterday afternoon a man named Lambe, who had been the cashier of a branch of the London and Southwestern Bank and shot the cashier dead. He then called upon the clerks to deliver the contents of the till. A clerk grasped the robber who, finding that escape was impossible, shot himself. Another clerk was wounded in the struggle.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.
A dispatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg says that an unknown person yesterday shot at the interview with Lieut.-General Kiegl, the prefect of police, under the pretence of presenting ing a petition, and shot at him twice with a revolver before he was overpowered. The general was not wounded.

KING EDWARD INVITES FIVE PRINCES.
The Simla correspondent of the London Times says considerations of space compelling limitation of numbers, King Edward has invited five representative Indian princes to attend his coronation. It is proposed to send a large contingent to represent the native army at the coronation ceremonies.

King Edward, at a meeting of the privy council, signed the proclamation giving him his new title, as follows: "Edward the Seventh, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Sea, King, Defender of the Faith, and Emperor of India."

BIGOTRY AIDS CUPID.
It is believed that the Duke of Norfolk, hereditary marshal of England, is about to make a second romantic marriage in his 54th year.

Lady Alice Fitzwilliam, who is 52 years old, recently became a Catholic and her family cut off all relations with her.

She afterwards met the Duke of Norfolk at Cardinal Vaughan's, and out of sympathy for her in his religious persecution, he is alleged, proposed to marry her.

It is a singular fact that he married his first wife, Lady Flora Hastings, under circumstances which are peculiar. She, too, turned Catholic, and was disowned by her father, Baron Donnington. The duke met her at the house of his friend, Lord Edmund Talbot, and married her.

It is believed that the Fitzwilliam family, like Donnington's, will be only too well pleased to forgive Lady Alice's change of faith if it brings a duke's dowry in its train.

AN ALMONTE MAN WAS MURDERED!
His Body Found Floating in Mohawk River at Utica, N. Y., With Rope Tied About His Waist.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The body of P. H. Soule, of Almonte, Ont., which was found Sunday night floating in the Mohawk River in this city, with heavy ropes tied about his waist, furnishes a mysterious case, which the authorities are investigating.

While it is not definitely certain that the man was a victim of foul play, the circumstances in the case are peculiar, and warrant the police in believing that Soule's death was contributed to by persons other than the dead man's identity was fixed by the chief of police of Almonte, Ont. Soule has one brother living in New York, O. Soule, who was summoned to Utica this afternoon to assist the authorities on the case.

WINTRY WEATHER
Snow in New York and Nebraska—All Parts of Michigan Are Getting a Taste of Cold.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 5.—The weather in this city this morning was clear and bright, followed by a fall of one inch of snow last night.

Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 4.—The first snow of the season commenced falling in this city at noon today, and at 3 o'clock still continues.

Detroit, Nov. 4.—Reports from Escanaba, Houghton and other points in the upper peninsula show that a heavy snowstorm raged all day Sunday.

A young blizzard is raging at Niles, with a heavy snowfall of about four inches, indicating a downward freezing point. There is about an inch of snow on the ground. At Menominee the temperature is 10° above zero, and snow is falling. It has been snowing since early morning at Delmar, where the temperature is 10° above.

SQUAW WINTER.
Detroit Free Press: The snow of the winter of 1901 to amount to very much fell at Detroit yesterday. Weather men in the United States say this is about the normal time of the year for it, and speak of yesterday's visitation as a flurry caused by the cold north wind sweeping down on the warm humid air in this region. Through the Northwest yesterday the weather was merely a zero, and it fell below that point in some places in the Canadian Northwest. Yesterday's minimum here was 28° below zero, and it will probably last today and tomorrow.

It was pointed out by a Free Press reader yesterday that weather like the present is termed squaw winter, which precedes Indian summer. The latter does not come until after the first snowfall, and therefore those who took the recent fine weather for Indian summer were in error.

SAILORS GET IT.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Sailors on the lakes caught their first taste of real winter weather and serious delays in navigation resulted. Heavy snowstorms put an effective embargo on down-bound boats at Sault Ste. Marie this afternoon. The blinding snow made the task of finding the head of St. Mary's River very dangerous, and boats were anchored in the lake waiting for clear weather.

At Mackinac the snow lasted for fully twenty-four hours and held back many craft. Considerable trouble was experienced at ore ports with the cold weather, and the ore was freezing in the pockets of the dock.

BLAZE AT PORT HURON!

Entailing a Loss of $300,000—Two Elevators and Much Grain Destroyed.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 5.—Fire last night destroyed two large elevating grain elevators owned by the Botsford Elevator Company here, entailing a loss of $300,000. The loss on the elevators of wheat, 9,000 bushels of corn and 11,000 bushels of oats in the buildings, and the grain suspended in the buckets of the elevators, is estimated at $25,000, with $20,000 insurance and $15,000 on the grain. The grain was fully insured. The steamer Spokane, from Chicago, was unloading grain when the fire started, and was only saved by the heroic efforts of her crew. One residence near by was also burned. The elevators were to have been used as one of the storage points in the projected through grain route of the Grand Trunk railway system from Duluth to Leith, Scotland. J. B. Botsford stated that the loss of these elevators would not hinder the project, as a 1,000-ton elevator would be constructed at Point Edward. The burned elevators will probably not be rebuilt.

OTHER FIRES.

Jennings, Ia., Nov. 5.—Five blocks of the main business part of the town were destroyed by yesterday's fire, which started in the restaurant of J. Dudley. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Charlotte, Mich., Nov. 5.—The Phoenix Hotel, a three-story brick structure, was destroyed by fire last night, and several of the guests had narrow escapes. Mrs. James Metcalfe, of Syracuse, N.Y., was taken out of the third story by means of a ladder. A. W. Brookings, of Ionia, Mich., was taken out unconscious, but may recover.

SMALLPOX AMONG INDIANS.

Omaha, Nov. 5.—Smallpox has appeared among the Indians in the Winnebago reservation. The deaths to date resulting from the disease number twenty. It has been here for some time, but every precaution is being taken to prevent its spreading.

WON'T YOU Write a Postal TO GET WELL?

Send me no money, but simply write me a postal if you are not well. Pay when you get well.

I will send you a book that tells how a lifetime of study has enabled me to strengthen the inside nerves. Those are the nerves that operate the stomach, kidneys, heart, womanly organism, etc. Weakness of these organs means weakness of those nerves. Nerve strength alone makes any organ do its duty.

I will send you, too, an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Use it for a month and if it succeeds pay him $5.00 for it. If not I will pay him myself.

No matter how difficult your case; no matter what you have tried, if my book shows you that your trouble is nerve weakness—and most sickness is—I will warrant my Restorative to cure you.

I fail sometimes, but not often. My records show that 39 out of 40 who get those six bottles pay, and pay gladly. I have learned that most people are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Mine is the only way to restore vital nerve power. Other treatments bring but fleeting results at best. If you want to be well, let me send you an order for the medicine. If it cures, pay $5.00. I leave the decision with you.

Simply state which book you want and name of your dealer, and address DR. SHOOP, Box 41, Racine, Wis.

The Jilting Habit.

A correspondent complains of the great prevalence of jilting, says the London Express. He admits that he has been jilted by no fewer than three different young women this century, and he plaintively asks the Express to go to his assistance by reading a moral lesson to the jilters that will cause them to mend their ways. It is not difficult to realize that the jilting habit is really growing. Since woman became what she is pleased to term "emancipated," she takes fewer chances in selecting a life partner. The independence of women carries with it an increased radius of action with regard to the treatment of finances.

In days which, alas! are no more, the woman who had once plighted her troth was captured. She was so much fish in the basket, an actual asset which could not get away. But in these revolutionary times a man cannot be sure of a girl just because she wears his engagement ring. He has to mind his p's and q's up to the very moment of walking to the altar. He must not count upon his fiancée as a chicken that is hatched. She may roll out of the basket and escape him.

This makes it very trying for the man, but it does not at all diminish the chances which the girl enjoys of having a good time. Often she regards the engagement as a provisional affair, and she will last only during good behavior. The chances are, therefore, that if our correspondent has been jilted three times this year he has well deserved his fate. Perhaps it would have been justifiable for eight girls to jilt him, or even nine.

All sorts of troubles ensue when a woman becomes certain. He often counts too much upon his beautiful eyes or his winning ways. Suddenly something happens. There is a pronounced shock, and before he knows where he is he finds himself out upon the pavement, a dazed and disengaged being. Yes, the jilting habit is growing. Women are getting more particular. A long moustache followed by a stone of concealed substance fashioned in the general way after the contour of a man is not enough to satisfy them.
