

A BANK ACCOUNT SEEMS TO BE A MAGNET; WHEN ONCE STARTED IT DRAWS MORE.

You will help make it grow.

In 1861, a depositor in a bank in Cleveland, Ohio, had $418. Since that time he has drawn out $573, and still has $1,500 to his credit.

How do you figure that out? Why, he let his money STAY IN THE BANK. It grew.

TOY BALLOON STABBED BY A LONG HATPIN

Humorous Incident on Dundas Street During Circus Parade.

A humorous mishap occurred on Dundas street this morning as the circus parade was passing. A man with a bundle of gorgeously-colored toy balloons was going along, when he met a number of young ladies. One of the latter wheeled suddenly, and as she did so a hatpin, which protruded about two inches, stabbed one of the balloons. Bang! went the balloon, and the man went "up in the air." "What you try to do?" he asked. "Why you bust a balloon?" "Whatever can be the matter with that?" replied the young lady, just as though nothing had happened. "You stick a needle one way or another, and you run through a crowd with bayonets." Then a policeman moved the crowd along and the dialogue was concluded.

New York, Aug. 26.—Captain Peter C. Haines, Jun., now serving a term of eight years in Sing-Sing for the killing of William R. The children have been under the guardianship of their grandfather for some time.

ADmits KILLING FATHER

Says the Parent Had Murdered Mother and Brother.

[Canadian Press.]
Boonville, Ind., Aug. 26.—After having been pressed by continuous questioning during almost 30 hours, Wm. Lee last night made a written statement in which he said he killed his father, Richard Lee, in self-defence after the father had murdered his wife and younger son, Clarence. The bodies of Lee's father, mother and brother were found in their burning home Thursday, and Lee was charged with their murder. After the statement, Sheriff Scates, fearing that the prisoner would be lynched, secretly took him in an automobile to Evansville, Ind., where he is now being held. Lee, who is 22 years of age, calmly related his story that he knew nothing of the circumstances of the killing of his family until late yesterday afternoon, when apparently he suddenly changed his mind, and, calling for paper and pencil, wrote his statement.

HOW THE PACT HELPS EAST ELGIN

Leading Conservative Farmers Out Flat-Footed for Reciprocity.

THREE-SIDED MARSHALL

Benefits Largely by Trade With United States, But Would Bar Farmers From Same.

[By Our Own Man.]

Aylmer, August 26.—Dr. Francis Hincks Miller, Liberal candidate in East Elgin, has something to say for this campaign, and he is not holding his hand. Public meetings may serve a useful purpose, but there is only one style of meeting that would suit Dr. Miller in this campaign, and that would be a gathering at which Mr. David Marshall, ex-M. P., the Conservative candidate, was present. Dr. Miller proposed to Mr. Marshall that the campaign should be marked by a series of public debates on reciprocity, but Mr. Marshall, did not accept the challenge, giving the reason that his meetings had been arranged. Dr. Miller and his supporters believe that had Mr. Marshall been willing to see the matter presented to the voters in this way, he could have found time to arrange several debates at central points.

A Riding of Farmers.

East Elgin is essentially a rural riding. There are no places of great size, and no large towns. Therefore, the sentiment of the constituency, there could be no more effective way than to interview the farmers. A riding of farmers, who spent two days in the riding, interviewed a large number of farmers. He did not find a Liberal opposed to reciprocity. Some Conservatives were against the measure. Asked whether if it had been brought forward as a Conservative measure it would have received their support, their replies ranged from "Well, I don't know," to "That would be another proposition. If they were going to vote for the party and not for me, against reciprocity." But there are a number of farmers who were known to have voted Conservative in the riding, and on this occasion were ready to go on record for an open American market.

Conservatives for Reciprocity.

Leahurst, Aug. 26.—Mr. F. Grovesend, one of the most progressive farmers in the riding, is working in favor of the agreement. "I am in favor of reciprocity," he said to The Advertiser. "The spirit of Conservatism in the world is favoring reciprocity, and I cannot understand the inconsistent stand of my party on the issue at present."

How is the sentiment in your district?

"Mostly all the farmers I know, Liberal and Conservative alike, are going to vote for reciprocity," Mr. Hankinson replied.

Full of General Benefits.

Harry Grovesend, of South Dorchester, explains his views without hesitation. "Though I am a Conservative, I do not find it an awkward task to vote for reciprocity," said Mr. Grovesend. "The result of general reciprocity is bound to be full of general benefits to the world, and we will find that our cities will flourish. Reciprocity in natural products is a Conservative policy." John Douglas, of South Dorchester, is another prominent Conservative who declared himself to The Advertiser as ready to give reciprocity a trial.

Tin Cans From Pittsburgh.

With tariff wall and all, the Conservative candidate is deriving benefits from the American market at the present time. The Canadian Cannery, of which Mr. Marshall is president, buys hundreds of thousands of tin cans in Pittsburgh, because of the fact they secured a cut of ten cents a case compared to the average of $1.70 per case in the United States.

Each evening one may stand at the Grand Trunk station and see the Aylmer Cannery, which Mr. Marshall is head, send an array of cans loaded on the evening train. It is one of the most important examinations of the shipping tag, he will find that the destination of the cream contained in the cans is Cleveland, Ohio.

In the morning the farmers under contract to the condenser had received about $1.20 per hundred pounds. They received the average of $1.70 per hundred pounds paid to the Mount Pleasant, Mich., condenser.

Still a Profitable Venture.

But the milk is not reduced and canned for the Canadian consumer, but skimmed, and the cream goes across the line with duty of 5 cents a gallon. These prices are similar to those which caused the Conservative candi-

TRADE AROUND CITY HAS BEEN GOOD

London reports to Breadstreet say trade there and in the surrounding district has been good considering the fact that farmers have been busy with the harvest. It is understood results of the harvest to be good, but to those sold loose when the canning season started.

Warned of Higher Prices.

That he believes reciprocity will be accepted by the people of Canada is apparently a conviction of the late member for the riding, for upon the announcement of the negotiations the Canadian canners urged the wholesale growers to secure canned vegetables early, because of the fact that the passing of reciprocity would send prices, in some cases 40 and 50 cents a bushel.

The three-sided attitude of Mr. Marshall is revealed to the farmers. He is urging that the American market be not opened. He has stated that the country would be deluged with American produce. Yet the merger of which he is the president warns wholesale dealers that prices will advance. He takes advantage of an American market with the cream provided by the farmers of East Elgin. He is a dealer in the best of the condition that yields him a profit. He speaks of British connection and raises prices by friendly feeling to the United States in a manner evident to all.
