WINNIPEG, April 2.—There was little doing in wheat options on the local market, and prices were unchanged.

At the opening, and with Chicago market closed, undecided cables from continental exchanges, and Liverpool's closing figures 1/2c to 1 1/2c lower than at the opening, trading was decidedly dull and uninteresting, and the market closed unchanged to 1/2c lower. The cash demand was fairly good during the earlier part, with light offerings, and export trade active for all grades, but later became depressed and actual transactions were few. On May and July were in demand at practically the same figures as Monday's close, while extra No. 1 feed was not inquired for. Flax for May contracts was sold 3 1/2c higher than Monday's close, and no inquiry for July. Receipts were lighter, comparatively, 250 cars being in

NERVOUS WOMAN

Lost Sleep and Appetite—Is Now Well and Strong.

If men only understood better how fearfully a woman's strength is taxed by her monotonous round of household duties, they would not be surprised at an occasional spell of "nerves."

When a woman is strong and well she does not know what it is to be nervous—it is only when she is weak that her nerves go to pieces.

BOYS WERE ON BRIDGE WHEN ICE SWEPT IT DOWN RIVER

Another Boy in a Canoe Succeeded in Saving Two Lives After Hardest Kind of Fight Against Ice and Currents.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Bridges, April 2.—Earl Shaw and Jack Armstrong, aged 11, had a remarkable escape from being drowned yesterday. They were sitting on the bridge, watching the water rising, and the jam of the ice going down the river, and failed to notice that the bridge was being torn loose until it had started down stream, and it was too late to jump off. Clayton Wheeler, son of John Wheeler, manager of the Hayle Milling Company, noticed the peril in which the boys were, and as quickly as possible ran to the bank, and securing a canoe, put out to their rescue. After the hardest kind of a battle with the ice floes and fighting with the swift currents, which twisted and swirled the bridge and canoe around in the water, the boat got near enough for Wheeler to take the two boys in. Had Wheeler not noticed the bridge being carried away, the two boys would almost certainly have lost their lives.

DEFENCE WILL CLAIM THAT NAHDEE WAS NOT MURDERED

Indian Constable Declares That What Was First Thought To Be Dead Man's Body Was Evidently a Piece of Wood.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, April 2.—Steven Kyosk, charged with the wilful murder of Adam Johnston on the night of Jan. 1, on Waipio Island, was formally arraigned in Lambton county court this afternoon. As Kyosk refused to plead, Attorney Frazier, of Wallaceburg, entered a plea of not guilty for his client, and the case was set for trial, presided, and Crown Attorney Blackstock conducted the prosecution. Every seat in the courtroom was taken and a large crowd filled the hallways and doorways.

The prosecutor opened the case with a brief outline of the event prior to and following the tragedy, the quarrel on the beach between Chas. Nahdee, and the accused; Kyosk's threat to kill Nahdee, and the shooting of three rapid shots, and then three deliberate ones; the discovery next day of the blood-soaked clothes of Nahdee, and the trail leading from there to the river, and the marks of a boat either drawn up or released on the beach; the discovery of John's body in the river and the subsequent arrest of Kyosk.

Post-Mortem Evidence.
The first witness for the prosecution, Dr. Mitchell Campbell, was called and testified regarding the injuries on the deceased as revealed at the post-mortem.

Mr. MacDonnell, Indian agent on the island, was next called, and testified that he visited the place the day after the murder and examined the house of death. The agent told of seeing the blood-soaked clothes of Nahdee, also the shot marks inside and out, but denied noticing any signs of a trail dragging from the house to the river. He also testified that Nahdee had three of the island squaws living with him at different times.

TORONTO TEMPERANCE FOLK FOR LOCAL OPTION FIGHT

Campaign To Be Started at Once To Abolish the Bar.

Toronto, April 2.—Six or seven hundred of the most determined and enthusiastic temperance workers brought together in the city of Toronto assembled at the meeting of the Toronto City Alliance in Broadway Hall last night, and passed the following resolutions:

(1) That in the opinion of this meeting a local option campaign should be instituted in the city of Toronto at once, carried unanimously.
(2) That this meeting instructs the executive committee to prepare a campaign and report back to an adjourned meeting of this alliance three weeks from tonight, carried.
(3) That the Government be requested to prohibit club licenses in towns and cities where local option has been passed.
(4) That delegates further decided that they would work for the election in January, 1912, of a city council that will favor the submission to the ratepayers of a local option bylaw, thus abolishing the necessity of getting a petition signed by 25 per cent of the electors.
(5) "We have never had as good a temperance meeting as this before in Toronto," declared Mr. Joseph Oliver, who, as chairman, was supported on the platform by the Rev. Ben H. Spence, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, Rev. John Colburn, Mr. F. S. Spence, Mr. J. S. Robertson, Controller McCarthy, Aldermen Austin, Graham and May.

UPROAR SHAKES HUN. PARLIAMENT

Confusion Follows a Furious Attack on Aged Francis Joseph.

WAS GREAT EXCITEMENT

Former Minister Says Emperor Might as Well Have Abolished as He Had Threatened.

Budapest, April 2.—Notwithstanding the action of the Hungarian Cabinet in abandoning the army reform programme which caused Emperor Francis Joseph to threaten to abdicate as King of Hungary because it took away some of his prerogatives, the crisis over the matter continues. The action of the Government in dropping the resolution which it had offered in the Parliament has not affected the other parties, and the debate revealed a determined plan of obstruction to the Government. The speakers on Monday were generally complimentary to the sovereign, but last night there were unprecedented attacks on the Emperor and his heir, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand. The uproar and excitement were tremendous.

Former Minister of Justice Polonyi made one of the principal attacks. He declared that the Emperor might quite as well have abdicated. Europe would, perhaps, have been terrified, but he (Polonyi) would not have been. The law, said Mr. Polonyi, did not allow the King of Hungary to throw up his office, while a company directed by Polonyi predicted conflict with the Emperor as the result of Premier Khuen-Hedervary's submission to imperial pressure in the present case.

Other speakers were equally frank in their comments.

Nothing approaching the scenes and criticisms of royalty ever previously occurred in the Hungarian Parliament. The president tried in vain to curb the tongues of the speakers, and the ministers protested in dismay. The loyalists were furious over the attacks on the aged monarch, and the chamber adjourned, amid great confusion.

FACE WAS LITERALLY COVERED WITH PIMPLES.

Four Different Doctors Did Her No Good.

Two Bottles of BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS Cured Her.

Bad blood is directly the cause of the face breaking out in pimples, and it is impossible to eradicate them unless you put your blood into good shape.

Burdock Blood Bitters is compounded from roots, herbs, barks and berries, and is without a doubt the best remedy procurable for the purpose of driving all the blood impurities out of the system.

Mr. Geo. E. Miller, Clavering, Ont., writes: "Last fall I was very much troubled with pimples. My face was literally covered with them. I went to four different doctors, but they could do me no good. One day a friend advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got two bottles, and before I had taken all the first one, the pimples had nearly all disappeared, and by the time I had taken all the second one the pimples had disappeared completely, thanks to Burdock Blood Bitters. I would advise anybody who is troubled with any blood trouble to use Burdock Blood Bitters."
