The game went five innings, and was called at the end of that time because Bert Carruthers was the only person standing on his feet. The score was then 5 to 3 in favor of the office staff. Bill Rider was a regular bear-cat for the losers, scoring two runs, and making some rascally steals. Carruthers thought some rascally steals. [Canadian Press.] Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The personal and political relations of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and George W. Perkins, formerly of J. P. Morgan & Co., were bitterly attacked on the floor of the House today by Representative A. O.

Stanley, of Kentucky, chairman of the steel trust investigating committee. In a speech supporting his bill to make the reports of the commissioner of corpora-tions available for Congress, Representative Stanley charged that Perkins had protected the Harvester trust from Government prosecution, and described Per-kins as the "go-between" of "big business" and the Government.

"The severest critic of Colonel Roosevelt can hardly conceive that he would in twenty minutes have commissioned the steel corporation to crush its last competitor, and he possessed one-tenth of the information which the commissioner of corporations was afterwards forced by the investigations of this committee and the pressure of public opinion to publish to the world. As suggested by the commissioner of corporations, the investigation of the Harvester trust was summarily stopped.

"The assurances of Mr. Perkins that the far-reaching influences of the Morgan company, the Harvester and Steel trusts were not to be sneezed at, appears to have had great weight with the chief executive.

"On this occasion," concluded Mr. Stanley, "the Colonel assumed the same relative position toward the masters from Wall street that the Lord assumed toward the devil.
