Asserts Elixir of Life Found In African Monkey

Dr. Serge Voronoff, France, Tells Gathering of Surgeons in London Pasteur Institute Now Breeding Chimpanzees in Africa.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, July 18.—The hope that youth will find it in an African monkey colony was expressed yesterday by Dr. Serge Voronoff, director of the experimental laboratory of the College of France, known for a decade for his work with gland transplantation. He told nearly a thousand eminent physicians and surgeons from over all the world attending the sixth triennial congress of the International Surgical Society how the Pasteur Institute has constructed an immense park in Africa, where it breeds chimpanzees whose glands, he asserts are valuable in rejuvenating humans. He said that while African apes were so difficult to obtain grafting operations necessarily would have to be performed in the laboratory of the colony which would place the elixir of youth within the reach of everyone.

The conference also discussed the notable strides made last year toward conquering tuberculosis, diabetes, paralysis, pneumonia, rheumatism and even insanity, but in spite of all these remarkable advances Sir William MacEwan, president of the congress, remarked regretfully, "regarding nature as a whole we are still in the deepest darkness."

Sir William then asked if there the government of the province, which which never has been fathomed. "If we pursue our quest with a single purpose in search of truth for truth's sake only," he added, "we may get a glimpse of the spirit of nature and feel the touch of the hand that weaves the web of life."

Noted surgeons also discussed improved methods for alleviating human suffering by bone and skin grafting, reducing mortality and operations of all sorts.

Dr. F. C. Banting of Toronto, discoverer of the insulin treatment for diabetes, is attending the congress.

BEATEN AND ARRESTED DRESSED AS BOY, HATES GIRL LIFE

Held by Chicago Police in Connection With Brutal Street Slaying.

Sought Man's Job

By MARGARET DALE.

Copyright.

Special to The Advertiser.

Chicago, July 18.—For the second time in 30 days the police blotters of Chicago have recorded the uncanny story of a sex metamorphosis adopted to veil a life that led from the haunts of the underworld into prison cell. Today it was him, soft-eyed, close-cropped, and the argot of a young Apache.

By a strange coincidence, perhaps purely by suggestion, she has been linked in the suspicion of the police with that other anomaly, the girl-man Thompson, now held for the brutal murder of Richard Tesmer.

She has been taken to the police world. You gotta be a boy to get along," was the explanation little Miss Voorhees gave for her masculine attire when, masquerading as a boy, she was arrested as the most recent suspect in the Tesmer murder case. Thompson, the girl-man, has now been taken to appear in court in the same manner,
