that little is lost in concentration. The manager, Nathaniel D. Moore, says that there need be no doubt as to whether or not the low grade ores of the Slocan can be concentrated. The Alamo concentrator has proved that they can be.

A sad speldent occurred at Pilot Bay on Wednesday morning, in which Octave Dubois, employed as oiler in the concentrator, lost his right hand. He was engaged in cleaning a set of rollers that had become obstructed with some pieces of ore, when he lost his footing and fell, his hand going into the rolls. Dubois is from the neighborhood of Colville.

No satisfactory motive for the wholesale killing can be learned.

While the friends of the murdered men are still intensely excited there is little probability that they will attempt to resort to violence.
