LABOR AND LABORERS. Sir John Macdonald to become an Arbitrator—A Mass Meeting. The strike of the laborers employed in the Oshawa malleable iron works against a reduction of 10 per cent. in their daily wages still continues, without any appearance of a settlement by compromise or otherwise.

The laborers have made another offer to arbitrate—they to appoint one arbitrator and Mr. Cowan, president of the works, to appoint the other, and, further, to appoint the referee. Their first offer in this direction was totally ignored, not being awarded even the courtesy of a reply. They have also written Sir John A. Macdonald, who they say "told them that wages would be good under the N.P., and that he could not go back on the workmen," asking him to act as arbitrator for the laborers in this case.

A mass meeting of workmen under the auspices of the Trades and Labor council, and to which all master plasterers are invited, will be held in the Temperance hall tonight. The object is for the purpose of laying before the public an impartial statement in detail of the case of the present strike on the part of the union plasterers. There ought to be a large meeting.

Mr. P. H. Linnier of the Holy Manufacturing company of Elkhart, N.Y., addressed the committee with reference to the engines they were constructing. Mr. Linnier explained at length the advantages he claimed for his engines, and said that if his company got the contract he would guarantee that if in one or two years the engines were not as good as the others, they would take them down and not demand a cent. Mr. John Fensom of this city was appointed as an expert in reference to the new pumping engines to act with Mr. Kivas Tully, C.E., Mr. John Kennedy of Montreal and the city engineer. In accordance with a report from the city engineer, it was decided that the engine at Hazlar's point should have a stone protection. “She Does Not Know Chicken from Turkey.”

Helen is the handsomest girl of her race. She has a sweet and an exquisite face. And she dresses with perfect consummate grace. By the way, she knows chicken from turkey. She knows many languages, living and dead. In science and fiction is very well read. But she cannot cook meat, and she cannot make bread. And she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She can play a "Fantasia" on "Mocmum" with skill. She can sing up to "B"—has a wonderful trill. Can write a good story or sonnet, but still she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She doesn't know chicken from turkey. She's been up the Tiber, the Rhine and the Nile. She's a painter in every popular style. Can decorate china, a plaque or a tile. But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She's always self-satisfied, graceful and cool; A critic, both just and correct as a rule. And knows every stitch of the Kensington school. But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She can work a design by Lansing or Burges. But she cannot cut out for her chicken a shirt. Or make for her husband a well-fitting shirt. She doesn't know chicken from turkey.

I'm willing a girl should read Latin and Greek. Should German and French and Italian speak. And be "up" in the latest ethical treatise. It's the only thing she knows chicken from turkey.

I'd like her in music and song to take part. To read poetry, set to and sing at a quartet. If husband and children were first to her heart. She doesn't know chicken from turkey.

Now, here comes the moral of this little tale. Which showed that Helen did not know the word "fish." For she went to where cookery books were for sale. And made known her desire to the clerk. "A copy of 'Mrs. Clarke's Cookery Book'." "You'll soon know, if through this you will look, What to do with a chicken or turkey."
