The Messiah-designate dealt with the political aspect of the coming of the world teacher. The idea in itself, he said, was one of magnificent beauty. "There is no such thing as proving it," he went on. "You must feel it. You must realize it, that new order must come into the world and in the belief in the coming of the world teacher, of Sri Krishna (a Brahmin teacher, who, Theosophists assert, came many years before Christ of Nazareth), and of Christ lies real and intense happiness."

CORDIALITY IN RAPPELL MEETING

Chamberlain and Mussolini Have Long Talk.

TALK IMPORTANT EVENTS

ROME, Dec. 20.—The Stefani Agency, semi-official source of Italian news, gives the following version of the meeting between the Italian foreign secretary, Alcide De Gasperi, and the British foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, which took place in Rome on Dec. 19.

De Gasperi, it is stated, is not in Italy for political reasons his stay gave occasion for an interview in which the British statesman expressed his views on important questions. The long talk, which was continued in the course of a family dinner, was inspired by the desire to discuss and reach an examination of the most important events in international politics which have occurred recently.

De Gasperi stressed the value of the possibility and utility of continuing efficiently the relations already established between the two countries—relations the purpose of which are various interests of the consolidation of peace of Europe."

It is pointed out that Russia has nothing to gain by such support of Turkey since the signing of the Locarno pact, although previous to that treaty the Russian government had been in Germany might be reckoned on to support to Russia in case of such an event. This is now impossible and Russia is more and more anxious to break away from the Locarno pact. Turkey, however, by Locarno in order to be in a position to obtain loans from both Britain and America and has no intention of placing herself in a position of an even more subordinate position to Germany.

MODERATING ATTITUDE.

Turkey, in spite of colored reports issued from Angora, is believed to be moderating her attitude regarding the Balkans.
