PRESBYTERIAN CONCERT SERIES

Third Concert—Wednesday Evening, Feb. 12th.

Don't Miss It.—Watford people will have the opportunity of hearing one of the best entertainments of the season when the Bargelt Company plays in the Lyceum, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 12th. Evelyn Bargelt is one of the best entertainers on the platform and her work as a cartoonist is very fine. Such a combination is seldom met in one person and there is in store for everyone a treat worth while. With Miss Bargelt is Mr. Benjamin, a baritone of much ability whose splendid solos will be much appreciated. Miss Isabelle Hallanger is a pianist who has studied with the best masters in Europe and who has played with some of the foremost artists on this continent. Her playing will be a feature of the programme. The violinist is Miss Ethel Freeman and her success on the concert platform during several seasons is sufficient proof of her ability. Don't miss this treat. The admission will be 50 and 35 cents. Get your seats early as indications are that the hall will be full.

Mr. K. Wilcox, of London, was a Watford visitor over Sunday.

Miss Coke received a telegram on Thursday, stating that her brother, Dr. Coke, Beaujeour, Man., was seriously ill. She left for that place Thursday evening.

Mrs. W. C. Sutherland, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., is here with her mother, Mrs. Nixon, who is still suffering from the effects of the paralytic stroke she had some weeks ago.

Mr. A. G. Brown received a message from Ancaster, on Saturday, stating that Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Brown's mother, had passed away. He left on Sunday to attend the funeral, which took place on Monday.

The members of the Holy Angels Church, St. Thomas, honored the Rev. Fr. Hogan, formerly of Watford parish, prior to his leaving to become parish priest of Clinton, with several valuable and much appreciated presents.

The Sodality gave him a beautiful silver tea service and an address regretting his departure. The gentlemen of the parish gave him a purse of gold, and the Order of the Sacred Heart presented him with a cheque for a handsome amount, and the children of the school gave him a beautiful silver tray, knives, forks and spoons.

Father Hogan made a neat and feeling reply thanking all for the handsome way they had remembered him and referred to the good feeling that has existed between priest and people during his stay in St. Thomas. He further spoke of the honor and respect which had been shown him by the non-Catholics of the city and expressed appreciation for the feeling shown to him by citizens outside of his own people, for whom he promised to pray, and asked that God would be with them in life, death and hereafter.

Mrs. Thompson read an amusing sketch "How a married man sews on a button." A dainty luncheon and "God Save the King" brought the meeting to a close. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. N. B. Howden.

Subject—"The Suffragette Movement in England."

Five minute talks on "Housecleaning" and "Sugar-making."

Quotations appropriate to subjects discussed.

The High School Literary

The first regular meeting of the High School Literary Society was opened by a short address from the President. This was followed by a speech from the Honorary President, in which he thanked the High School students for the honor they had conferred upon him. The Secretary's report was then read after which the Glee Club sang the chorus, "My Old Kentucky Home." Mr. Potter gave a very amusing reading which was greatly appreciated by all. Miss Dorothy Wordsworth rendered a very pretty instrumental, after which Miss Meroyl Logan recited, "The Inventor's Wife." Then followed a lively instrumental by Mr. Cully Pentland. The Editor contributed to the amusement of the audience by reading his humorous paper, "The High School Mirror." The solo "Clove Blossoms" was rendered very sweetly by Miss Muriel McClure. Miss L. Smith then gave a very instructive paper on the Life of Tennyson. As this paper was rather long it was given in two parts, between which Miss Allie Harper and Miss Grace Mead sang, "Sweet and Low." Next followed a pleasing instrumental by Miss Jean Cameron, and afterwards a chorus by the Glee Club. The critic, Miss Mitchell, made a few helpful remarks on the program given, and the meeting was closed by the singing of the National Anthem. Next meeting Feb. 6th. All are welcome.
