

Qu'Appelle Station.

We were hoping to have had our new organ in place for Christmas, but fear now that this will be impossible. The order for "The Professor's Model," the Bell Co.'s largest reed organ, was sent before the end of November. The organ should, therefore, be here very soon.

We are glad to say that Mr. Harold Jagger has consented to act as choir-master, a position he well filled a few years ago. Under his management, and with the new recruits who have joined the choir, we look for great things.

BAPTISM.

Dec. 13. In S. Peter's Church, Ann, daughter of George Eustace and Lucy Ball, of Maclean.

S. John's College.

The Christmas festival at the breaking up of the term, was held on the 16th December. A large company, including the Lord Bishop, several of the clergy of the diocese, and friends of the school, were entertained at supper by the Principal of the College and the Head master. The boys afterwards performed a short play entitled "The Compliments of the Season," in which they acquitted themselves admirably and gave great pleasure to the audience. The piece was suitable for Christmas time and contained many local hits which were highly appreciated. The chief character was King Christmas, sustained most effectually and with great spirit by A. MacDonald; The Old Year, feeble and withered, was taken by S. Taylor; the New Year, fresh and cheeky, by J. French. A Gordon acted the part of Fancy, Queen of Imagination, whilst J. Sargent, as the Ghost of "Old Moore,"—"A large prophet retained at small expense"— gave some very very laughable predictions for the coming year. Songs and music followed and the evening closed with the announcement of the names of the prize winners by the Bishop. The senior prizes were taken by A. MacDonald and J. Sargent; J. French taking the prize for English Composition. The junior prizes were taken by A. Gordon and F. Arnold.

The next term begins on Thursday, the 14th January. We are exceedingly glad to observe the excellent progress made by the boys in their studies; and the order and good tone of the school reflect the highest credit upon the Head master, the Rev. T. Greene, and his assistant, Mr. F. W. Johnson. We hope that the new year will bring to the School an accession to the number of boys.

Regina.

During the month of December the Services at S. Paul's Church have been held by the Bishop and the Rev. F. V. Baker, Principal of S. John's College, Qu'Appelle. We trust it will not be long before a new Rector will be appointed. At the present moment the staff of clergy in the Diocese is short by three or four men.

A circular has been sent to all the Church people in the country districts, asking them to try and do a little more towards raising the stipend of the assistant clergyman, at Regina. We trust this appeal will meet with a liberal response.

Touchwood Hills.

S. James' Hall, Touchwood Post, being in a state of disrepair, a meeting of the male members of the congregation was held one week day, when they proceeded to re-mud the building inside and out, and subsequently white-washed it. The result is most satis-
