Queen crowned

An elated Anna VandeWint, left, was crowned as Hallville's Winter Carnival Queen Saturday.

Mountain Township councillors Estella Rose and Don Johnston and deputy-reeve Ewart Simms, were called upon Saturday to perform the difficult task of judging both the Queen and Princess Pageant at the Hallville Winter Carnival.

Faster! Faster!

The small community's skating rink, always the focal point of the annual winter carnival, melted during the week leading up to last Saturday's festivities.

This didn't faze organizers as they put their heads together and came up with alternative activities including boot races to replace the usual skating events.

Prior to the races, more than 10 local beauties competed for the 1990 carnival queen and princess honors.

Boots replaced skates for rink races.
