Labor Act were endorsed, as also his recommendation to secure the passage of a bill satisfactory to labor organizations. The reports advised in favor of securing for the congress the per capita tax paid to the American Federation of Labor for the Canadian members of the international unions. It was admitted that wage-earners not organized should be so, but the report, on the ground of expense, was against the appointment of an official organizer, or that the Executive Committee should visit different sections of the country for the same purpose. The reports also recommended the appointment of more inspectors and a permanent-inspector in each

Yes, we were there.

It hadn't occurred to us to mention it, but our neighbors are noisy—they are willing that you should get the impression that they only secured the bulk of the goods on show at the Manufacturers' Furniture Exposition.

Well, we got one entire exhibit. We also secured the one-half of two other exhibits, and let us assure you that we bought just such things as suited us out of ten other lots.

We just wish to say that we got our share, and it's all on exhibition at our store; and, furthermore, it's all for sale.

The Coal Miners' Strike.

The Special Committee appointed to draft a resolution on the Pennsylvania miners' strike, reported:

"Whereas the miners of a large section of the United States have been engaged in a prolonged struggle to secure for themselves better wages and improved conditions, and while in pursuance of these objects and in the exercise of their legal rights as citizens, a number of them were shot down on the highway by a posse of deputies under the command of a sheriff, thus using the powers of the Government to murder anofending workmen; therefore, be it resolved that this congress condemns such tyrannical misuse of authority, and expresses the hope that no effort will be spared by our fellow-workers of the United States to bring to justice the perpetrators of this outrage, and to secure such legislation as will prevent the use of armed bodies of men by capitalists whenever it suits their purpose to intimidate or coerce wage-carners, whose only crime is that they are seeking justice at the hands of their employers. Ways and Means.

The report of the Committee on Ways and Means was now adopted. It recommends the retention of the present capitation tax, $75 to the recording secretary, $15 to the president for expenses, to the caretaker $5. Fifteen Irundred copies of the proceedings will be printed in English and 500 in French. An appeal will be made to the labor organizations of the country for financial aid in putting a labor organizer in the field. A Fierce Fire.

There was a fierce fire at the corner of Birge and Little William streets late this afternoon. The cooper shop of Wooley at Son and two dwellings were dest.oyed. The fire was the hottest the nremen have had to fight for a long time. There was a large stock of barrels and much hard wood in the snop, all of which was destroyed. The flames spread from the shop to W. Wooley's frame dwelling, and nearly consumed it, and a vacant house adjoining. A big barn in the rear was also damaged. The total loss is estimated at $4500. There was only $12500 insurance on the places. Want a Canadian for Governor.

The warmest discussion of the day now arose over the following resolution by R. Keyes and A. H. Laverdure:

Whereas the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has stated on many occasions that Canada is now a nation, and in consequence we are not aware as to whether the Imperial Government will appoint a successor to His Excellency the Earl of Aberdeen, but if it is the intention to do so, resolved that this congress considers it desirable that the next Governor-General should be a Canadian, and that this congress petition the Canadian Government to that effect.

Delegates Keyes and Fitzpatrick said that Great Britain meddled too much in Canadian affairs. The former speaker didn't believe in any Governor-General, but if the country had to submit to one he should be a Canadian. He would therefore nominate Lord Mount-Royal. Delegates styled the resolution all rot, and moved a resolution that congress affirm that the British connection is in the interests of Canada. The Keyes motion was taid on the table by a vote of 16 to 10.

That the gold recently discovered in the Yukon region of Canada is the property of the people of Canada and should be worsed by the Government for the people, and should not be left open to the world for all-comers, to be enriched by the exploitation of our national resources, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Ministers of the Interior, Finance, Trade and Commerce, and the Premier of Canada.

Weckly Parment of Wages. Moved by S. Fitzpatrick and R. Keys; Whereas it is to the great inconvenience and financial loss to the working classes of this country to be compelled by large corporations and other employers of labor to wait for a month, and in, many cases as long as six weeks, for their wages; this congress request the Dominion Government to enact a law for the purpose of compelling all corporations and employers of labor to pay their employes weekly. Passed.

Mr. Fred McMain of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, after having been connected with the head office for about four years, was transferred to the Winnipeg branch. Mr. McMain has filled all the positions from junior up to that of accountant with much satisfaction, hence his promotion. His many friends will be glad to hear of his promotion, but sorry to hear of his removal.

WAS JAMES LACE POISONED?

Jury Won't Give a Verdict Till the Nature of the Powder Found in the

The mysterious death of James Lace, the old shoemaker who was found dead in bed at his home, 178 Oak-street, on Wednesday afternoon, was the subject of an inquest by Coroner Greig at Lee's Shamrock Hotel, Gerrard and River-streets, last night. The post-mortem examination had shown that an apparently poisonous powdery substained an apparently poisonous powdery substained was all that was found in deceased's stomach and, as the jury had no evidence to show what this powder was, or how it got there, they refused to return a verdict until somewhat enlightened on the subject.

How the Body Was Found. Policeman Luton (210) was the first witness examined and he told of going to the house on Wednesday with Expressman Phillips and Mrs. Lace to get some of the belongings of the latter. On entering the place witness found deceased lying dead on the bed. He told Mrs. Lace, who seemed much shocked and went to the kitchen crying. A Jaryman's Rights.

A Jaryman's Rights.

Coroner Greig made a rather peculiar ruling at the conclusion of Luton's evidence. He asked Foreman Clarke of the jury if he wished to ask any question, and received a negative reply, whereat a juror asked a question which seemed quite pertinent to the enquiry, but was not answered. He wanted to know from witness if Mrs. Lace had told him when she saw her husband last. The coroner objected to this, stating that only the foreman could ask questions, for, if every toryman cid so it would keep the inquest going all night.

The Widow's Story.

The Widow's Story.

Ann Lace, widow of the deceased, told how she had received on order of protection from deceased on Tuesday last, and also of getting an order for some of her belongings, which were at the Oak-street house. She corroborated Luton's evidence as to the finding of the body. She had been married to deceased for nearly 30 years, and, owing to his drinking habits, he and constantly abused her. She last saw ner husband alive on Tuesday morning. He had not supported her for the past 12 years. He was a good shoemaker, but could get no work at his trade and was too proud to work at anything else. Mrs. Lace said she had been badly treated during the time deceased had been out of employment, but she had not separated from him for her children's sake.
