POLES HOLDING WARSAW, BUT CITY MENACED ON ALL SIDES

Russians Lose Initiative Under Walls of Polish Capital, When French Direction Assists Polish Forces—Latter Score Notable Success On Western Bug Line.

PARIS, Aug. 17.—Warsaw is holding well, according to the latest news received here. The Poles, who were beginning to repeat their old despairing cry of 1831, "God is too high and France too far," fortified by the counsel of France's expert soldiers, have now plucked up spirits, with immediate effect. While it is too soon to forecast the favorable issue of the great battle now raging under the walls of the capital, the Poles appear to retain the initiative they took Saturday, and continue to hold the Bolsheviks in check. In the southeast, on the western Bug, they have scored notable success. Nevertheless, the situation, with Warsaw threatened from three sides, undoubtedly remains serious, and everything depends on the ability of the Poles to keep up their aggressive tactics.

It is considered significant in military circles that the Moscow wireless has been unusually silent today.

POLES CAPTURE STRATEGIC POSITIONS

PARIS, Aug. 17.—Tireless efforts by the Poles to push back the invading Bolsheviks have resulted in the capture of important strategic positions. Three days ago the Polish forces faced an extremely critical situation, with the Red centre virtually reaching the outer limits of the capital. On the right wing the Soviet troops had captured the Pultusk-Serok bridgehead, during the Poles from the fork, where the Narew joins the Bug. On Sunday, however, the Poles launched a counter-offensive from the Pultusk-Serok bridgehead, clearing the north bank of the Narew, and yesterday they recaptured the Serok bridgehead before the Bolsheviks had time to establish themselves. Operations are now proceeding against the Pultusk forts. The Bolsheviks in their retreat abandoned considerable booty, which has not yet been inventoried. Operations by the Polish right against the Wierp and the Bug middle continue, according to plan.

MINIATURE WAR AS COMPARED WITH FRENCH FRONT, 1917

WARSAW, Aug. 17.—Great numbers of Russian Soviet prisoners reached Warsaw Sunday afternoon, some of whom had been in battle during the morning. They came in groups of 20 or 30, and sometimes in droves of hundreds, attracting crowds of the capital's residents out for a Sunday afternoon stroll. The prisoners were uniformed in dull ash-colored jumpsuits and trousers, bearing resemblance to laborers emerging from a steel mill. The sound of cannon was plainly audible in the distance, but it was distinctly that of field artillery. Spotted explosions of 77 shells were frequent, but the heavy booming of 210's, 330's and 420's was absolutely lacking, giving the impression of a miniature war, as compared with the heavy cannonading on the French front in 1917.

Owing to the scarcity of freight cars, most of which are being used by the Government in moving records of various bureaus and other valuables, many persons were moving their belongings to the suburbs in droves. The fire department has been called into service to aid in caring for the wounded, and wagons and other vehicles are meeting the ambulances at Praga and other points. The fire department office it was said nothing had been heard from Mikul in reply to the wireless message sent to him by the foreign minister, but that George Tchitcherine, the Soviet foreign minister, had sent a wireless message saying that newspaper correspondents would be admitted to the limitations of liberty. Many of the English, French, United States, Italian and Spanish correspondents decided not to take advantage of Tchitcherine's hospitality and will remain in Warsaw.

AWAIT NEWS OF MINSK CONFERENCE

WARSAW, Aug. 17.—Reports of Polish military successes came to Warsaw today, while the population was eagerly awaiting news from Minsk, where the Polish peace delegation is negotiating with the representatives of the Russian Soviet Government. The only report of the delegates was that the party had arrived in Minsk. A successful counter-offensive was launched on the Warsaw front Monday under the leadership of President Pilsudski, as commander-in-chief. On the northern front, where ten Bolshevik divisions are striking toward the Vistula as part of the offensive against Warsaw, and on the Warsaw front, it was announced today that the Reds have been driven back at several points. Polish movements, aided by heavy artillery, are forcing the Bolsheviks gradually to withdraw from various positions, where the enemy's presence on the capital has been greatest. In the fighting in the direction of Radom, east of Warsaw, the Poles have taken many prisoners, including a Bolshevik commissary and a brigade commander. During the battle here a Polish chaplain of the 8th Infantry Division, Ignacy Korupka was killed while leading the attacking forces, clad in his church robes, and with a crucifix in his hands. Five Polish officers were also killed and eleven wounded.

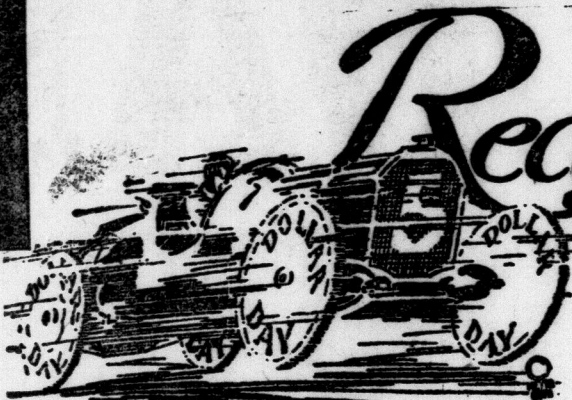

French tactics are being used throughout the winter action. The Poles are bringing into play batteries placed for the capital's defence line and are awaiting completion of the arrangements to strike at the Soviet forces with a rush of artillery, followed by repeated infantry attacks.

AGRICULTURAL MISSIONARY.

West Adelaide, N. C. Aug. 17.—(The Associated Press).—Gordon K. Middleton, instructor in agriculture in the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, has been named an agricultural missionary to China by the foreign mission board of the Southern Baptist convention, and will leave soon to take up his work in Kaifeng College, Honan Province.

To form the basis of the agricultural and livestock department of the college a number of American breeders have contributed a number of head of dairy cattle and Mr. Middleton will take these to China with him. The dairy herd will be cared for by Chinese boys in exchange for their board and tuition. In addition, a demonstration farm similar to those operated in connection with American agricultural colleges will be established with a practical Chinese farmer as a co-operative guide.

MOTORCYCLE COPS ROUND UP KENT COUNTY SPEEDERS

Heaviest Day in History of Court is Result.

CHATHAM, Aug. 17.—With one of the heaviest dockets in its history, the county police court is being held today. A large number of county residents being charged with speeding on the county roads, as a result of activities of the newly-formed motorcycle squadron of the county police. Crisdon Richard of Dover is charging Bruce Bradley, also of Dover Township, with wilfully destroying part of a boundary fence. Employees of the Canadian branch of the International Harvester Company attended the first field day of the company at Erie Beach Amusement Park yesterday. A splendid sports program was carried out, and the event closed with a dance in the pavilion. The installation of new fire-alarm boxes and a "four-circuit alarm system" was urged at an inquiry into the affairs of the fire department held in the Chamber of Commerce last evening. Alderman Mindorff presided. The special committee of the city council, with Mayor Brisco and Fire Chief R. Frichard, formed the group that discussed the matter of the department. A young lad appeared in the county police court charged with the theft of $9.50 from the farmhouse of Harold English. The lad's parents are dead.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

WINTERING BEES IN THE CELLAR VS. OUTSIDE. (Experimental Farms Note.)

Whether to winter in the cellar or outside is a question that every beekeeper has to settle. When the winter is low and steadily cold, the cellar is usually more satisfactory, but outside wintering succeeds in some moderately cold places if proper precautions are taken. At the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, the two methods have been compared during the last five years. Wintering outside has been done in an apiary protected from wind by a board fence 1 foot high, the hives placed in rows, and the bees kept under the Administration Building, which was heated all winter. The results have been very close, but outside wintering has brought the colonies forward slightly earlier in the spring.

In the wide belt where both cellar and outside wintering are about equally satisfactory, the deciding factor appears to be convenience. If the beekeeper has a well insulated and dry cellar, using it will save the expense of constructing wintering cases, and also the loss of bees. If this is not present, the wind-break, if this is not present, is an advantage if the basement contains a furnace. Such a cellar should have a steady temperature somewhere between 40 and 50 degrees Fahrenheit. In outside wintering the bees are left in the cellar, and the bees are left outside until very early in the spring. No man can expect good results in outside wintering if packing is delayed until cold weather. Neither method will succeed if the colonies do not contain plenty of bees, especially young bees, and above all, abundance of wholesome stores, preferably clover honey, or syrup made from white granulated sugar, stored in the comb before cold weather. If they get into the hives during the winter, will ruin the colonies in a very short while.

hay crop early. Just as soon as the field is clear, disc, harrow or cultivate the surface sufficient to break some of the sod surface so that seed sown will come in contact with the soil. Sow a mixture of the following (per acre): Timothy 6 pounds Red Top 6 pounds Alsike 6 pounds When the seed has been sown, run a spike tooth harrow over the surface to cover the seed. Next apply a top dress-
