Obstacle to Progress.

Prof. Tracy seconded the resolutions in an address condemning any such action which, he said, was entirely in opposition to the British principle of "governing people by letting them govern themselves." It was hard to believe that Laurier, who had been the idol of his people, would allow his name to go down as having put an obstacle in the way of Canadian prosperity.

There were other speeches, and it was decided that copies of the resolution should be sent to the premier, the Toronto members, and to the members the cabinet.

The board of health will ask the council to vote $2000 to put another storey on the Isolation Hospital. Dr. Langrill stated that it was imperative that more room should be made for the accommodation of diphtheria cases. Dr. Langrill reported that there were 60 deaths in the city last month. In the future the sanitary inspectors will be excused from attending the meetings of the board.

To any Kidney sufferer who has not tried my remedy I ofter a full dollar's worth free. Not a mere sample—but a regular dollar bottle—standard size and staple.

There is nothing to pay, either now or later. I ask no deposit—no promise. You take no risk. The dollar bottle is free—because mine is no ordinary remedy, and I feel so sure of its results that I can afford to make this offer.

In the first place, my remedy does not treat the kidneys themselves. Such treatment is wrong. For the kidneys are not to blame for their weaknesses or irregularities. They have no power—no self-control. They are operated and actuated by a tiny shred of a nerve which alone is responsible for their condition. If the Kidney nerve jos strong and healthy, the kidneys are strong and healthy, if the Kidney nerve goes wrong, you know it by the inevitable result—kidney trouble.

This tender nerve is only one of a great system of nerves; this system controls not only the kidneys, but the heart and the liver and the stomach. For simplicity's sake I have called this great nerve system the "Inside Nerves." They are not the nerves of feeling—not the nerves that enable you fo walk, to talk, to act, to think. They are the master nerves, and every vital organ is their slave. The common name for these nerves is the "sympathetic nerves"—because each set is in such close sympathy with the others that weakness anywhere results in weakness everywhere.

This is why I treat not the kidney that is weak, but the ailing nerve that MAKDS it weak. This is the secret of my success. This is why I can afford to do this unusual thing—to give away FREE the first dollar bottle, that ANY STRANGER may know how my remedy succeeds.

The offer is open to everyone, everywhere, who has not tried my remedy. Those who have tried it do not need the evidence. So you must write ME for the free dollar bottle, order. I will then send you an order on your druggist for a full dollar bottle, standard size and staple. He will pass it down to you from his stock as freely rs though yo the performance. Miss Blanche Deyo was a lively and sparkling Peggy Sabine and with her Baboo admirer contributed largely to the fun of the piece. Harry Vereker found a fitting interpreter in William G. Stewart. William Norris was very amusing as Chambhuddy, the learned Baboo, with a fearful and wonderful command of the tongue that Shakespeare spoke, but the humor of the characterization would be brighter if less of the farcical element was tintroduced. Harold Vizard gave a good sketch, the High Commissioner and Judge. Hallyn Mostyn made an impressive and impassive Boobhanda, his topical song, "There's Nothing Much More to Say," being one of the hits of the evening.

With the recent resurrection in the fields of literature of Sherlock Holmes of Baker-street, London, private investigator, his re-appearance on the stage locally this week is more than ordinarily captivating to the admirers of the astute sleuth—and their name is legion. There's no use disputing it; we all like to deceive ourselves into believing that dear old Sherlock Holmes is—or was—more than a mythical creation, and simply a character in fiction to add to the laurels and popularity (yes, and bank account) of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. We would like to forget all about Doyle and choose rather to cuddle at the feet of Dr. Watson and hear him relate the adventure of "The Scandal in Bohemia." It is from this "car" that William Gillette has built up the fascinating drama which is this week's attraction at the Grand. The play has been seen here before, but that doesn't prevent one wanting to sit thru it again. The play differs from the story considerably, but is so thoroly permeated with the personality of Sherlock Holmes that the difference is not regrettable. James Mooney and Ida Holbein were repeatedly encored for their singing and exhibitions of high kicking. After the Vecsey recital last night, the appearance of Eugen Ysaye on Thursday evening, March 16, will be all the more interesting. This will be M. Ysay's farewell appearance in Canada.
