LIBERAL CHIEFTAINS HOLD BIG MEETINGS IN ONTARIO

Premier Laurier Greeted by Thousands of Enthusiastic Electors in Russell County—Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. A. B. Aylesworth Hold Great Meetings in Toronto.

Russell, Ont., Oct. 1.—The premier's tour of Ontario could scarcely have had a more fitting climax than the meeting here this afternoon. Russell County, as Sir Wilfrid expressed it, is in miniature an image of the Dominion. Its population represents all nationalities with perhaps Scotch Grits and the French speaking element in the ascendancy and in addressing an audience so composed the premier was but emphasizing and accentuating what his progress from riding to riding had so strikingly illustrated that he is the leader not merely of a party but the revered representative of all nationalities, classes and creeds.
Apart from this feature the gathering of the Russell County Liberals had the additional interest that it marked the acceptance of Hon. Charles Murphy, the new secretary of state and candidate for a seat in parliament. The Liberals of the county had already nominated George McLaurin as their standard bearer but with the appointment of Mr. Murphy to succeed Mr. Scott the suggestion was made the Mr. McLaurin should retire in favor of the new minister and this suggestion he generously accepted.
Today's meeting was arranged for the purpose of ratifying Mr. McLaurin's election and the harmony which prevailed was an eloquent tribute to the spirit of true Liberalism and to the usefulness of the retiring candidate. Nothing could have been more frank and chivalrous than Mr. McLaurin's acceptance of the situation. Nothing could have been more gracious and sincere than the acknowledgement made by the premier and Mr. Murphy of Mr. McLaurin's services.
Considering that the gathering was intended to be a business meeting rather than a demonstration, the attendance was surprisingly large—fully 3,000 people, drawn from all parts of the constituency, being present. Sir Wilfrid's reception was most enthusiastic. At the station he was met by a large crowd and before the meeting a number of enthusiasts took the horses from the carriage and dragged it to the village where the premier lunch-sent for my friend Mr. McLaurin. He had not taken a very active part in political affairs but I knew by experience and from my own knowledge that he was always sound in the faith. He always was a true Grit. (Cheers.) I asked him if he would make a speech of his ambitions in order to promote the cause which as a Grit he had at heart—that was to support the administration which is now in office.

Eloquent addresses were also given by Hon. Charles Murphy and Hon. George P. Chalmers.
Toronto, Oct. 1.—(Special)—Hon. W. S. Fielding and A. B. Aylesworth addressed a good meeting in Massey Hall here tonight. Hon. Mr. Fielding was received with the utmost enthusiasm, the audience rising and cheering for several minutes and the band playing. When the cheering had subsided, after Mr. Fielding had two or three times to put up his hands, he said he wondered what in the world had come into the heads of the Tory friends, when they said they were going to sweep the country. After seeing the audience of Massey Hall, he thought here now in Toronto, the great chieftain had come in and stirred up the grand old Tories all the work they wanted to hold their present position, let alone all the talk of sweeping Canada.
Dealing with the platform of the Conservatives that the policy of the government in the years before 1896, was the cause of the present depression, he said that the Conservatives had, of which the Conservatives boasted. It was a fair measure of progress. The Canadian people are energetic and that put them down anywhere they must make progress, so that the Conservatives are not to be blamed. They increased their trade by about $3,500,000 per year of Conservative rule. Under the Liberals, who had been in power for two years, it had increased to $46,000,000, that would be an average of $2,300,000 per annum. The Conservative would like to admit that the Liberals had done pretty well as they had kept up to their record. But what was the true story of increase under the Liberal rule? $46,000,000.
"Our Conservative friends were proud of an increase of $2,300,000, what ought the Liberals to feel about their $4,600,000 per annum increase," he asked, amid renewed cheers.
"The West today," he continued, "is growing rapidly. The time is coming when men who reside west of the Great Lakes will control Canada. It is wise to antagonize the farmer of the west against the manufacturer of the east, and bring about strife and endless antagonism. That is possible, strife between the east and west over the tariff. Yes, it is probable unless caution is observed by the manufacturer. Then he related some of the work of the tariff commission, showing the differences of opinion regarding protection between eastern manufacturers and the western farmers. The Liberal government said to the farmer—"You are bound to consider the interests of the manufacturer who supplies you with what you need to cultivate your farm and to live in comfort." And to the manufacturer: "You are bound to consider the position of the farmer out west, who feels these taxes a burden upon him."
So following that policy he thought the government were able to do much good. A happy, prosperous population in the northwest would be made by the policy which induced the manufacturers of the east to regard the interests of the west and the farmers of the west to give and take, to assist the manufacturers of the eastern provinces, a policy which had contributed so much to bring happiness to the west.

FOWLER HAS LOST CONFIDENCE OF KINGS

Dr. McAlister Rallies Many Former Fowler Men to His Support.

Marked Change in Public Opinion—People Proud of Kings' Good Name are Aggrieved at Former Member.

Sussex, Oct. 1.—Dr. McAlister opened the campaign in Havelock last evening. There was a large attendance and the Liberal candidate and A. B. Opp, M. P. of Westmorland, made telling speeches. In spite of the short notice of the meeting given, the attendance was very gratifying and careful hearing given the speakers and frequent applause of their points augur well for the result in that part of the big patrie.

A remarkable feature of Dr. McAlister's tour throughout the united counties is the number of voters who told him plainly that they have always supported the Conservative party but this time they propose to support the Liberal candidate and the Liberal government. In every corner of Kings County there is a great change in public opinion. The electors do not propose to support George W. Fowler declared would never be again. Today the main question in Kings-Albert is whether George W. Fowler is a fit man to be the representative of the people at Ottawa and has his record been such that the people will send him in preference to the popular Liberal candidate, Duncan McAlister?
To quote one old Fowler supporter: "I don't like the idea of every newspaper in Canada dragging Kings-Albert through the mire with George Fowler. For two years now, week after week, there is land scandal and there is Forester's scandal and the man who was elected by the voters here to look after their affairs has done nothing else apparently than make as much money as he could out of his position as a member of parliament, which we gave him. I for one don't like this and propose to vote for McAlister."
There are many differences in the Conservative ranks. The local members who were supported so vigorously by George W. Fowler are not working in harmony. Messrs. Jones and Murray do not agree with Mr. Sprout. The latter has objected to some dismissals, notably that of Manager Hunter, of the Central Railway, but the views of Jones and Murray, backed up by Messrs. Woods and Slipp, of Queens, prevailed. With Jones and Wood it was a case of "scratch my back and I'll scratch yours."
Soon after the elections last spring work was begun on the big bridges at Apohqui and Upper Corner (Sussex), and Mr. Jones, a brother of the M. P. of that name, was appointed inspector, not only of one bridge but of both. The faithful in Sussex were up in arms and Mr. Jones could not hold on to both jobs. He surrendered the inspectorship of the bridge at Upper Corner to Frank Roach and had to be content with the Apohqui salary.
H. W. Woods, of Welsford, thinking like Mr. Jones, that "charity begins at home," had his brother-in-law appointed inspector of bridges at a good fat salary and not content with that placed another relative in as road superintendent. "It is no more harm," asserted an indignant defender of Mr. Jones the other day, "for 'Burr' Jones to give his brother a job than it is for Premier Hazen to do so after his own." The situation during the entire summer has been one of grab on the part of the members' relatives and friends. Good staunch supporters have had to take a back seat until the "brothers and the cousins and their uncles" were provided for. One Kings County member runs a saw mill and he is always on the lookout for a market. So when the highway bridges in his vicinity were sold for repair other mill men were on the lookout to get the jobs. But they had no chance. The M. P. wanted to supply the lumber but he could not "bid in" the repairs himself, so his foreman took his place and got the job. Of course the M. P. of Westmorland, made telling speeches. In spite of the short notice of the meeting given, the attendance was very gratifying and careful hearing given to and scored point after point in favor of the Liberals. He also paid some attention to provincial politics and vigorously criticized Mr. Hazen's administration of the criminal law.

Referring to Mr. Borden's civil service reform, he was pleased to know that Mr. Hazen had adopted the proposal by appointing his uncle to a lucrative position in the board of works office.
Mr. McAlister followed with an able and convincing address, which was heartily applauded. He showed that the Tories had no policy in this campaign, but were circulating a propaganda of scandal charging their opponents with graft. He thought that A. S. Crockett, who has played the part of a yelping cur at Ottawa should be the last person to talk of graft when his first act as a member of parliament was to attach his name to a round robin calling for an increase of $1,000 in his seasonal indemnity. Mr. McAlpine was in splendid form and his vigorous onslaught on the Tories was much enjoyed. Mr. McAlpine will speak at Harvey tomorrow and at McAdam on Saturday.
Sussex, N. B., Oct. 1.—(Special)—A Kings-Albert party league organized along lines similar to those laid down by Westmorland and Halifax organizations has been formed here. Both candidates will be asked to subscribe to the platform pledging the observance of the law by themselves and their agents. No meals will be allowed on election day.
Arrangements have been made to employ detectives to look after both counties with instructions to arrest violators, irrespective of party.
An active organization is already under way, and money is being subscribed.

MILLINERY OPENINGS

Now Being Held all Over the Country—Paris Novelties.

(Dry Goods Economist, Nw York, Sept. 18.)
The styles now being taken are those for which a good demand was predicted some time ago. Ottoman and other bird silk fabrics have met with marked success. Hats with large head-size and low, broad crowns have been very prominent. Feather trimmings have been accorded first place.
Retail millinery openings are now in force. During the week a large number of local concerns have made their initial showings, while others will open up very shortly. The same condition prevails almost all over the country. Consequently a fairly good idea may be obtained regarding the outlook and the styles which will be featured. It may be here mentioned, incidentally, that practically all the novelties spoken favorably of by the Economist early in the season have met with success, while predictions in general have been borne out to a marked degree.
One special point is the fever accorded silk fabrics for making and trimming hats. In the popular and medium end this has shown itself in satin shawls and satin hats generally. It was believed that the vogue for these materials would last only for a limited period, but manufacturers continue to have considerable calls therefor, and the end is not yet in sight.
Benjalines, Ottomans and other corded veils are being utilized to a considerable extent, especially in the high end. The Ottoman and the Ottoman-trimmed hat occupy a very high style position at the moment and are likely to continue good for some time.
Felts hold a staple position. Velvets, although not so strong as in some other seasons, are still an important factor in the situation.
The new note in shapes which has made its appearance this season, or rather which has received particular emphasis, is the employment of the low, broad crown, with immense head-size, causing the hat to sit well down on the head. There has been a tendency in this direction for several seasons, but it was only fully developed in the fall modes of this year, and the trade has accepted it.
Such models are in considerable variety. The crowns differ materially in form, from the absolutely round, straight brim, continue to have considerable calls therefor, and the trade has accepted it.
Mushroom hats, by the way, are receiving considerable attention, and the later showings contain many more models of this nature than was anticipated earlier. Many of the mushroom hats are extremely large. The extremely large hats would become prominent was predicted at the beginning of the season.
A special meeting of No. 1 division A. O. H. was held in their rooms last night. There was a delegation present from the ladies' auxiliary. Preliminary arrangements were made in connection with the Hibernian fair. The action taken last evening will be reported to the regular meeting of the division next Thursday. The date of the fair has not yet been fixed, but it is the intention, if possible, to have it as early in the fall as possible. The entertainment will be in behalf of the benefit and endowment funds.

THE LIBERALS WILL SWEEP THE ENTIRE NORTH SHORE

Richibucto Man Who Has Just Covered the Ground Says They Will Capture all the Seats—Mr. Emmerson's Return is Assured in Westmorland County—A Meeting in York.

Chatham, N. B., Oct. 1.—W. S. Loggie, M.P., having covered the parishes to the east of Chatham, where he led every poll in 1904, and received every assurance that his majority would be increased this year, has gone up river and invaded the enemy's country. Tonight, notwithstanding the inclement weather, Mr. Loggie addressed a large meeting at Redbank. The many voters present were evidently impressed with the lucid speech.
On Friday night, Mr. Loggie will speak at Whiteville, and on Saturday will close a week's successful tour at Millerton.
Hon. J. P. Burchill will also speak at the meeting at the thriving lumber town, but he is not at all optimistic. He is not at all optimistic, and he is hard to find any one who professes to belong to the party of Borden, Bayne and Boose. The Liberal committee rooms are thronged every night with large crowds of intelligent voters who realize that Laurier must finish his work of making Canada a nation.
A prominent Conservative admitted to the meeting that the thriving lumber town that Loggie's majority would be anywhere from 500 to 1,000.
That the four north shore counties—Restigouche, Gloucester, Northumberland and Kent—will have a solid Liberal representation in the next federal parliament is the opinion of W. D. Carter, of Richibucto, who is at the Royal. Mr. Carter knows the constituencies well and has travelled through them recently. What does he say? He reports finding the Liberals strongly organized.
The general talk was that James Reid in Restigouche and O. Turgeon in Gloucester, will have a walk over. In Kent and Northumberland the Conservatives are preparing to put up a fight, but the latter is not considered doubtful and the election of O. J. LeBlanc in the former and W. S. Loggie in the latter constituencies is assured with substantial majorities.
In Westmorland the election of Hon. H. B. Emmerson is conceded.
A great change of feeling, Mr. Carter said, had taken place in reference to the local government also. There was much dissatisfaction over the new road law. One of the promises on which Hon. Mr. Hazen went into power was that he would leave road matters largely to the municipalities and it was now claimed that the new act taxes have been increased but the officials have also been increased and the net result was that the farmer was poorer and the treasury in a better condition. Altogether he was of the opinion that if the local elections had to be run over again the results would be different.
Fredericton, N.B., Oct. 1.—(Special)—Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the electors of St. Mary's and Gibson assembled in large numbers tonight to listen to addresses in the interest of Liberal candidates by E. H. McAlpine, K.C., and R. W. McLellan. Ex-councillor McLellan was chairman and the hall was comfortably filled. Mr. McLellan, Victoria-Madawaska.

who spoke first, was attentively listened to and scored point after point in favor of the Liberals. He also paid some attention to provincial politics and vigorously criticized Mr. Hazen's administration of the criminal law.
Referring to Mr. Borden's civil service reform, he was pleased to know that Mr. Hazen had adopted the proposal by appointing his uncle to a lucrative position in the board of works office.

A COMPARISON

Canada's Debt:
1896	$258,497,432
1878	140,362,069
Increase in 18 years under Conservatives - $118,135,363
Equivalent to an average increase of about six and a half millions per annum.
1908	$277,960,859
1896	258,497,432
Increase in 12 years under Liberals - $19,463,427
Equivalent to an average annual increase of about a million and a half dollars.

During the last four years the Liberals spent $27,074,131 towards the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway. If this capital expenditure had not been incurred the debt would have been reduced by $7,000,000.
