THE WEATHER

Every member of the Artillery Band

Senators and Holi. A. H. Rendall will be Nova Scotia's repre entatives.

M. A. Harding states that the man John Kilfoyle, arrested for drunkenness, was not in the yard in the rear of his salooon, as stated in the Times yesterday. The statement in the Times was made by the officer who made the arrest.

Miss Florence Gallese, of Summerside, who came to this city with John Cunningham, en route for Boston, and who was deserted by her companion here, received a money order from her grandmother in Summerside this morning and left on the noon train for the island today.

Captain Richards, sailed from Santos on the 17th November for New York. After discharging her cargo there the steam-ship will come to St. John to load for Captain of the South African ports.

Donaldson line steamship Indrani arrived at Norfolk, Va., last Tuesday from this port, on her way to Glasgow.

The Furness line steamship Evangeline will sail this evening for London via Halifax with a general cargo.

The first Head line steamer, the Inshowen Head, Captain Cotter, will probably sail direct for this port on December 1 from Belfast, Ireland.

The following is the list of sailings from Manchester, England, of the Manchester line for this port direct:

CRUIZER WILL STAY AT ST. JOHN

Captain Walsh, marine superintendent for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, stated to a Times reporter this morning that the powerful ocean tug and tender, Cruizer, will stay at this port during the winter season to tow and wait on the Empresses and other C. P. R. steamships both coming and going. The recent purchase was made, said Captain Walsh, because there were no powerful tugs in St. John to do the work, except probably the Lord Kitchener.

AT THE WHARVES

The Market slip presents a busy appearance today, with fourteen schooners pearance today, with fourteen schooners and selected in the Union depot yesterday by John Cunningham, of Summerside, was descrted in the Union depot yesterday by John Cunningham, of Summerside, who was catrusted by the girl's mother to accompany her to Boston. Cunningham was given $10 to buy the girl's ticket to the "Hub," but only paid her way to St. John.

Arriving here, he managed to miss the Boston train and took Miss Gallase to the Grand Union Hotel for the night. She discovered next morning that Cunningham was gone, and after a fruitless attempt to locate him, those acting in her interest sent her home. She is but sixteen years of age.

Better Furs than ANDERSON'S are not made up. High quality skins used, with best of trainings and work give them that rich operance, and the styles are just correct.

AT THE WHARVES

The Market slip presents a busy appearance today, with fourteen schooners in from Nova Scotia ports, two of them loaded with apples, and the rest taking on board outward cargo, for different points. The small steamer Beaver is at the head of the slip having her hull looked over and repaired. A large number of coastwise deal-laden schooners is also in port, four of them are in Walker's slip in discharging their fish.

PROBATE COURT

In the probate court this morning, accounts were passed in the estate of John ink, Friel, to the amount of $1,400 and a citation granted, returnable on Jan. 7, 1907.

D. Mullin, K. C., proctor.

The will of the late Francis J. Johnston was admitted to probate and letters test mentary granted to his son, W. J. Johnston, the executor named in the will. The estate is valued at $1200 personal property. Earle, Belyea & Campbell proctors.

Dr. Hatheway, at Berwick, N. S., received a telegram last Saturday afternoon amnouncing the news of the death of his brother-ira-law Samuel J. Roberts, which occurred in the hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Roberts was a son of the late D. V. Roberts, who at one time was a ship owner in St. John N. B. The telegram was sent to Dr. Hatheway from his sister, Mrs. A. M. Bauld, of Halifax, who had received the news first.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Smith, of Nova. Scotia, who were in court yesterday, as the result of a disagreement causing their separation, were reunited and have started for home.

CHRISTMAS IN FIVE WEEKS

THRYSANTHEMUM DAYS WILL SOON GIVE

WAY TO CHRISTMAS TREE TIME; ere most people realize it they will be in the harpy whirl of holiday shopping. We are fully awake to the situation; our shop windows, interior displays and stocks in general are already suggesting that interchange of Christmas remembrances which makes the twenty-fifth of December stand out so conspicuously on the calendar. Every department--barring severely staple lines--is dressed afresh with brand new goods, all having adaptability to the requirements of the jolly old saint of Yuletide. A more varied Fancy Goods display than ever before is now complete in the Art Room; Gift Wares in Leather and Silver are to the fore in the Men's Section; Christmas Furs are in evidence, Christmas Lingerie, Christmas Silk Waists and Skirts. Paris and New York compete in an exposition of Exquisite Neckwear and other dressy requisites, while the Dress Goods department presents to our friends Costumings and Dress Lengths in accordance with its regular custom. All through the retail floors the holiday spirit is exemplified in choicest merchandise, and in Market Square our buildings reveal a wealth of sensible holiday pieces unsurpassed in this section of the Dominion. Men, women and the little ones have all been taken into serious consideration; our buying staff busied itself months ago in their behalf, and now the fruits of their thought and effort are being brought forward. Thankful for past patronage, we respectfully submit these Santa Claus wares for the general public's approval.
