POETRY.

THINK OF ME. Go, where the water glideth gently over-Glideth by meadows that the greenest be Go, listen to our own beloved river, And think of me.

Wander in forests, where the small flower layether lts fairy gem beside the grant tree; List to the dim brook pining, while it playeth, And think of me.

Watch when the sky is silver pale at even, And the wind grieveth in the lonely tree: Go out beneath the solitary heaven, And think of me.

And when the Moon riseth, as she was dreaming. And treadeth with white feet the lulled sea: Go, silent as a Star beneath her beaming. And think of me.

Persevenance.—Macklin's Advice to his Son.—I have often told you that every man must be the maker or marrer of his own fortine. I repeat the doctrine. He who depends upon incessant industry and integrity, depends upon patrons of the noblest, the most exalted kind. They controul all human dealings, and turn even vicissitudes of fortune's tendancy to a contrary nature. You have industry at times, but you want perseverance; without it you can do nothing. I bid you hear this motto in your mind constantly—" Perseverance."

CENSUS ANECDOTE.—Mr. Cist, in a letter to the editor of the Cincinnati Chronicle, relates the following dialogue between himself and a married lady:

and a married lady:

"Madam, what age shall I put you down?—(no direct answer.) How old is your husband?"—"Sixty-one." "And your eldest son?" "Twenty-seven." "And the next?"

"Twenty one."—And how old do you call yourself?" "I do not know my age exactly; but it is about thirty."—"Did I understand you madam, that your eldest son was twenty-seven?" "Yes." "You must surely, then, be more than thirty?" "Well, sir, (quite snappishly) I told you about thirty; I can't tell exactly; it may be thirty-one or two, but I am positive it is not over that."

MOFFAT'S Vegetable Life Medicines.

Vegetable Life Medicines.

THESE Medicines are indebted for their name to their manifest and sensible action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and enduing them with renewed tone and vigor. In many hundred certified cases which have been made public, and in almost every species of disease to which the human frame is liable, the happy effects of MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS AND PHEMIX BITTERS have been gratefully and publicly acknowledged by the persons benefitted, and who were previously unacquainted with the beautifully philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and upon which they are compounded, and upon which quainted with the beautifully philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and upon which they consequently act.

The LIFE MEDICINE recommend themselves in diseases of every form and description. Their first operation is too loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels, the various impurities and crudities constantly striling around them, and to remove the hardened facees which collect in the convolutions of the small intestines. Other medicines only partially cleanse these and leave such collected masses behind as to produce habitual costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudden diarcheas, with its imminent dangers. This fact is well known to all regular anatomists, who examine the human bowels after death; and hence the prejudice of these well-informed men against quark medicines—or medicines prepared and heralded to the public by ignorant persons. The second effect of the Life Medicines is to cleanse the kidneys and the bladder, and by this means the liver and the lungs, the healthful action of which entirely depends upon the regularity of the urinary organs. The blood, which takes its red color from the agency of the liver and the lungs before it passes into the beart, being thus putified by them, and nourished by food coming from a clean atomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming from a clean atomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming from a clean atomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming the veins,
