JUST BACK FROM THE GUNS; WRITES HOME

Gunner George Lawrence Says They're Making the Germans Uncomfortable

Gunner George Lawrence, son of Mrs. Mary Lawrence of 209 Rockland Road, who is at present at the front with a local artillery battery, writes as follows:

Just back from the guns. We did our best to make it hot for "Fritz." We kept banging at the German lines for about three hours; the batteries on our left and right did likewise. It must be very uncomfortable in the German lines; we do our best, anyway, to make it so.

Talk about rain! We get all we want of it and the same with mud. The boys say wait until the rainy season starts; we'll have mud up to our knees. I won't care much, I will have my big boots by that time, and if not I will write home. I have no much to worry about in that line.

I just finished my supper which consisted of tea, bread and jam—not so bad. We have a canteen here so if you want more you can get it—that is if you have the money. So you see we are getting along nicely for being so close to the firing line. Just have time to get ready to go back to the guns.

ANOTHER ST. JOHN MAN HOME FROM WAR

Gunner James J. Barbour of Brussels Street Suffers From Shell Shock

Gunner James J. Barbour, a member of the 1st Heavy Artillery, arrived home today from the front. He is suffering from shell shock and will enter the convalescent home here.

Gunner Barbour is a fighter, as he was through the Boer war, and when the call came for men to serve in the present war, he was one of the first to answer the call and crossed with the first contingent.

Gunner Barbour is a native of England, but has been residing in St. John for several years. He is thirty-two years old, and was in the employ of the C. P. R. as a steamfitter prior to going overseas. It is doubtful whether or not he will go again to the front.

He was met at the station by Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, and by members of the reception committee, and was taken by auto to his former residence, 30 Brussels street.

MODEL MUCH ADMIRER

The big crowds assembled around the windows of the I. C. R. ticket office all day admiring the model of the steamer car ferry "Prince Edward Island" which has been mounted in the window. The model is about five feet in length and is a fine specimen of model building, every detail being carried out to a remarkable degree of perfection. The new craft is at present running between Pictou and Charlottetown as a passenger boat.

ACCIDENT

Miss Annie Delaney, while crossing Main street last evening, was struck by the wheels of a carriage driven by a girl and thrown with considerable force to the pavement. She was quite badly shaken up, but fortunately escaped serious injury.

REV. M. O'BRIEN GOES TO NORTON

Cathedral Priest Has Been Appointed to Parish

Rev. Michael O'Brien of the Cathedral has received the appointment to the parish of Norton to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Father Byrne. The appointment of Father O'Brien will be received with acclaim by the people of Norton, who are to be congratulated upon having such an able priest to minister to them.

Rev. Father O'Brien is a native of Johnville, Carleton county. Since being elevated to the priesthood nine years ago, he has been stationed in this city, where he has won the respect of all classes by his unassuming disposition and his priestly qualities. He is a graduate of St. Joseph's University and was a clever student, taking honors in many subjects in his graduating year. Leaving St. Joseph's he entered the Grand Seminary in Quebec, where he made one of the most brilliant courses in theology in the history of the institution. Following his ordination in this city, he became attached to the Cathedral staff, where he has labored faithfully for the spiritual welfare of his people. He is of scholarly attainments and a speaker of ability. Naturally his many friends in the city and elsewhere will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

He will leave soon to be taken up his new duties and the best wishes of his friends here and throughout the province will follow him to his new field.

THE MUNITIONS MATTER

Military Expert Comments on General Kuropatkin's Statement

New York, Sept. 14.—The New York Sun prints the following news agency dispatch from London: Colonel Reppington, military expert of the Times, commenting upon the Russian General Kuropatkin's recent statement that it is necessary that the allies combine their men and guns to better advantage than hitherto, says it deserves careful consideration.

"If, on completion of our own order," he writes, "we turn over to Russian use our plants for the manufacture of heavy guns and shells except such as are required for the needs of our own army, we can enable Russia in 1917 and 1918 to develop her military power to a point where they will dominate the whole situation."

"We can do so only if we reach the limit of expansion of our own armies. These alternatives suggest several considerations, but the combination Kuropatkin seeks should not be beyond settlement by statesmanship."

LIFE IN ANTARCTIC HARDLY A PICNIC

Menu Consisted of Penguin and Blubber, Then Blubber and Penguin; Banjo Concert Weekly

London, Sept. 13.—Life on Elephant Island in the Antarctic, as it was experienced by the marooned men of the ship Endurance, is described in a message received from Punta Arenas and published in the Daily Chronicle today.

"The day began," says the description, "with breakfast which consisted merely of penguin, fried in blubber, with a drizzle of water. The morning's duties consisted in clearing away snow, and catching penguin. Lunch was served at one o'clock, consisting of a biscuit with raw blubber. The afternoon was occupied with regular exercises over a track of one hundred yards in length.

"At five o'clock, when darkness fell, came dinner, consisting of penguin breasts and beef tea. Lacking tobacco the men smoked grass from the paddling in their boots, while the pipes were carved from birds' bones and wood. The members of the party took turns in reading aloud from the only available books, namely, the Bible, an encyclopedia, Browning, Bacon's Essays and Carlyle's French Revolution. Saturday evening was always marked by a concert, the feature of which was banjo playing. A banjo was the only musical instrument in camp.

"On one occasion there was a welcome addition to the diet, when several undigested fish were found in the stomach of a seal and greatly enjoyed. These were the only fish caught during our stay. In August there was a change in the diet, when limpets were gathered and seaweed was available as a vegetable.

"We were in the midst of one of these limpet and seaweed lunches when the rescue boat was sighted.

"When was the war over?" was the first question we asked."

Strike Parade in New York

New York, Sept. 14.—Leaders of the striking street railway employes estimated that more than 10,000 men last night took part in a parade and mass meeting today, while city officials and the heads of both sides of the controversy held conferences in a further effort to break the deadlock which has partly tied up most of the surface car lines.
