CITY WINS IN BELVEA CASE

Supreme Court Judgment in Matter Affecting Control of Harbor Fisheries

(Special to Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 21.—The Appeal Division, Supreme Court, met this morning and delivered judgment in several cases. Court adjourned until Nov. 25, when the St. John Power Co. case will be heard.

In the case of Edith Gaurin, plaintiff, appellant, vs. Joseph Dionea and Captain Bonchard, defendant, respondent, judgment was given for the plaintiff. Judge Grimmer read judgment dismissing the appeal with costs. Judge Grimmer the same, and Judge White agreed. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Hamilton vs. Taylor—Chief Justice Hazen read judgment. Motion refused with costs. Judge Grimmer read judgment dismissing the appeal with costs. Judge Grimmer the same, and Judge White agreed. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Dunbar H. Al vs. J. S. Hookings Lumber Co.—Judge White read judgment allowing new trial with costs and no costs for first trial. Judge Grimmer read judgment. Appeal allowed to enter verdict for defendant with costs, but no costs for first trial. This was a Woodstock case, an agent being given receipt for a bill, it afterwards being claimed from the principal. It was decided that this could not be done as it might prevent the principal from recovering from the agent.

City of St. John vs. J. Fred Belyea—Judge Barry read judgment dismissing appeal with costs. Chief Justice Hazen and Judge White concurred. Appeal dismissed with costs. This was a fisheries appeal from the judgment of Judge Grimmer granting an injunction to St. John city to prevent the appellant from fishing on the western side of St. John harbor over ground secured by lease for a fish-harbor establishment and suitable between high and low water marks. The judgment confirmed decision of the judge in chancery.

CAMPBELLTON'S SCHOOL FIRE

(Special to Times.)
Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 21.—Campbellton suffered a severe loss last night when the fine Roseberry street school, built about three years ago at a cost of about $25,000, and the new ell in course of construction, were gutted by fire. The flames were breaking through the roof when the alarm was sounded and the complete control of one end of the building. Despite three powerful streams of water it was seen from the beginning that the building was doomed.

The fire is supposed to have caught from the furnace pipe and ran up the woodwork about the chimney to the roof. Lyma Gilker, one of the firemen, was hit on the head by a brick and seriously injured and taken to the hospital. This morning he is reported as doing well. The loss is nearly covered by insurance. J. & D. A. Harquail, who have the contract for the erection of the new ell, will suffer some loss.
