INTERESTING LECTURE ON INDIAN MISSIONS

Returned Missionary Tells of Conditions Prevailing in That Country.

The illustrated lecture on India given by Mr. Hazen in the lecture room of the First Congregational church Thursday eve, was most enjoyable and instructive. Mr. Hazen has spent eight years in Central India and was thoroughly conversant with his subject. In his short introductory talk he called attention to the fact that the native Indians of India need relief from the sufferings first and preaching to afterwards. That, the speaker said, had always been his method; first, to benefit them physically as far as possible, and when their minds had become in a degree receptive then to present to them the gospel truths.

The lantern slides were, he said, used with splendid effect by many missionaries in carrying on their work. With them they illustrated the gospel truths. Mrs. Hazen then sang without accompaniment a plaintive Indian melody, and the lantern slides were given by the lecturer, accompanied by short descriptive sketches or each picture presented.

The first scene shown was the magnificent railway station at Bombay. It was followed by the Bombay municipal buildings. The magnificence of both were a surprise to the audience. Some very interesting views were shown of the caves of India, all of which are hewn out of the solid rock, some with pillared interiors which resemble cathedrals. In these caves are the carved images of idols, and different animals, chiefly lions.

One beautiful shrine was shown, the tomb of an empress, which was in white marble, adorned with very fine carved lattice work and precious stones.

In all the public buildings of India one was struck with the thought of what an infinite amount of time and labor must have been consumed in their erection and ornamentation. Another surprise to many was the picture of a public road which was not only wide and straight, but with large trees, but was likewise macadamized. This, the lecturer said, was a fair sample of the roads in India leading between the principal cities.

An extremely interesting picture was of the Cashmere gate at Delhi, which was the centre of attack of the British forces when they besieged the city. It is riddled with bullet holes, and while it stands, it remains a monument to the many brave men who lost their lives in the attempt to force a way through.

A fantastic group of "human tigers" was shown. These are men who paint their bodies with black and yellow stripes, and an artificial hump on their backs, and go through the country killing on their gods.

At the close of his lecture Mr. Hazen was given a hearty vote of thanks.

On Thursday the marriage took place in Trinity church, Vancouver, of Mr. Wilfrid Guy Adams, son of Robert Adams of Putney, Eng., and Miss Rosita Boucher of Bermuda.

The marriage was performed by Rev. H. Beacham, B. A. The bride was attended by Miss Fuller of Vancouver, while Mr. Henry Fuller of this city supported the groom.

Four cases of working horses in an unit state were investigated by the P. C. A. officials during the month of May, but in each instance the owners discontinued driving them. Since the advent of the society's inspector on the streets the number of lame horses has sensibly diminished.

CITIZENS MUST NOT INTERFERE IN PAVING

Mayor States Position He Will Take—Expenditures on Streets.

(From Friday's Daily.)
The city engineer was instructed by the city council last night to go ahead with the work of macadamizing Cook street, according to the by-law passed some months ago.
Mayor Hall, in this connection, stated that he wishes to go on record that as far as he was concerned when the council decided on a work the fact of the people petitioning for something else must not stop the work. Great loss of time had been caused in the case of Cook street from this.

The council was informed of the refusal of the Indian department to sell the city rock off the Songhees reserve. The matter will be taken up by the streets committee to-night.
Ald. Turner inquired as to whether or not there was any public right of thoroughfare across the E. & N. bridge and the reserve.
Mayor Hall replied that there was none from what was the old Craigflower road to Store street, but there was beyond the little bridge on the road from the Marine hospital to the old Craigflower road.

Ald. Stewart entered a protest against a practice which was increasing the cost of public works to the people. This was the lumping of several works in one by-law. As soon as the first work was begun the by-law was opened up and interest on the loan began to run. Some works began two or three years ago were not yet finished, and meanwhile the proprietors on streets where work had been done had to pay the interest on the whole loan. He instanced cases where side streets had been done but the street grading was still undone. The result was that the cost of the sidewalks, through being debited with heavy interest charges, would be excessive.

Ald. Raymond mentioned that although the concrete approaches to dwellings from the sidewalks were supposed to be paid for at once there were numerous cases where no bill had been sent out yet. There was a lot of city money lying out in the street in this way.

Ald. Ross expressed the opinion that two weeks was being spent on boulevards and permanent sidewalks and not enough on the roadways. If two or three gangs were taken off sidewalk work and put on street maintenance he thought it would be a wise move.
Ald. McKeown, speaking of the condition of the streets, said that $41,000 had been estimated for this work at the beginning of the year and given to the engineers without restrictions. It was now up to the engineer, and if there was any fault to be found next fall Ald. McKeown warned his colleagues he was going to find fault.
The council took up the matter of the parks board for a few minutes but dropped it without taking any action. The mayor remarked that the board would never work any way with a majority of citizens upon it.

LIABILITY FOR SAFE TRAVEL ON ROADS

New Westminster Sued for Damages for Accident
Caused by Hole.

(From Friday's Daily.)
That a person using the highroad must look out for defects in it was the doctrine advanced by W. G. McQuarrie, city solicitor of New Westminster, in the argument on the appeal of Thomas Cookley against a decision of Judge Howay, dismissing his claim for damages against the municipality. Cookley and his wife were drawing their horse stepped into a hole caused by a box culvert giving way and was killed.

E. P. Davis, K.C., for the appellant, argued that the law as to liability for accidents caused through negligence in the maintenance of roads on sidewalks was clear.
Mr. McQuarrie relied on some English and New Brunswick cases, and maintained that the appellant should have looked out for himself.

Chief Justice Hunter, who heard the appeal with Justices Irving and Clement, commented sharply on the municipality or the municipality in not setting up contributory negligence as a defence.

Judgement was reserved.
In the mechanics' lien case judgement was reserved yesterday afternoon.

In Allan vs. Ray, an appeal from Judge Grant in a dispute as to the amount of money which should have been put up under a grub-staking agreement, the court had that defendant who appealed, must pay the money claimed but that respondent must enter into an undertaking that the money be spent on the mine.

A boat was set to bring the party home. Those on the launch were Misses Gussie Gray, Lodie and Beatrice Engert, Grace Wallace, Fritz Tesch and Wm. Lawver.

The time limit for the completion of Wharf street paving has been made three months from the signing of the contract instead of two. The city council has taken this action in view of the possibility of delays during the progress of the work from causes beyond the contractor's control.
