TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

Some time ago that esteemed and valit had placed certain facts relating to the Oulton murder in the hands of the authorities. To the regret of every one fare, no steps have been taken. Such conclusion that, either the attorney general, as the leading legal officer of the crown, has been negligent in the proper machinery in motion, to apprehend the criminal or criminals, or the information said to have been sur plied by the Telegraph was not so valuable as claimed. Since that journal has been constant in its defence of the attorney general and his manner of per forming his duties, the second conclus ion appears to be fairly evident.

FOR YOUNG MEN.

"The Young Men's Christian Association is an organization of St. John young men, the object of which—is to develop all that will be helpful to them through a strong body, trained mind, social ties and religious life. Its membership is open to every young man in the city, regardless of his religious beliefs, nationality, occupation or position."

These sentences are found in an at tractive little booklet just issued by the Y. M. C. A. of this city. It appears to the Star that they convey a message worthy of the attention of a fa larger number of young men than have ever yet sought membership in the in

The association, with its gymnasium reading room, music room, games, edu cational classes, and general social at-mosphere should appeal very strongly to young men. Even if other duties and ngagements would prevent many from taking full advantage of the opportunities offered, the annual fee is so mall, and the general benefit relatively so great, that they should rally to its use in blinking at it, that many young men are rather indifferent to the purely religious side of association life; but that need not deter them from becoming members and benefiting themselves in a general way by their connection with the organization, This city ought to have a splendid association building. It will come the sooner if the young men come to the rescue. The officers and directors of the association are earnest men, who seek to do good. They deserve support.

On Tuesday evening next a reception to young men will be held in the rooms, and the Star hopes that President Frank White and his co-workers will be greeted by so large an attendance of interested young men that they will be able to enter upon their season's work with confidence, and the assurance of a hearty and general support. men are rather indifferent to the pure

MR. TARTE.

A number of liberal papers in this province continue to express surprise that conservative papers do not de nounce Hon. Mr. Tarte, seeing that he has been in the past a notable subject

There is nothing surprising about it Mr. Tarte is giving utterance to sound doctrine on the trade and transporta tion question. The conservative press and public men have always maintain ed the views now expressed by Mr. Tarte, and do not feel called upon to renounce them because Mr. Tarte has

The minister of public works has the people with him. He receives more in vitations to deliver speeches in On-A section of the liberal press approves of his utterances. Another section bitterly declaims against him and them Mr. Sifton and Mr. Fitzpatrick mildly protest, but Mr. Blair says nothing The Montreal Herald tries to invoke the shades of dead and gone liberal polcles by such cartoons as one representing a protectionist with a brush changing the motto "Canada for the for a Few Canadians." But all this is unavailing. The Canadian people are protectionists because the policy of protection has developed the country. We in St. John know the value of in-dustries. We remember what happendustries. We remember what happende when the cotton mills were shut down. We know how severe a blow it would be if the rolling mills and nail works were removed to Sydney or North Sydney or Ontario. We value winter port trade, but we value our factories more. The theory that Canada could prosper with anything approaching free trade, alongside of a highly protected and extremely enterprising country, has long since been exploded. It is idle to talk of tariff for revenue. Without a teriff for protection there would be no industries worth talking about, and the exodus would assume enormous proportions. As it is there is a steady drift of our young men toward the more highly protected country to the south. Therefore, when Mr. Tarte talks about a tariff for protection, and the development of Canadian transportation routes he is on solid ground. His friends may quarrel with him as much as they choose, but they will find that in these matters he has the great majority of the people of Canada at his back. ed when the cotton mills were shu

STRIKE GOES ON

Pres. Roosevelt's Great Coal Conference a Failure.

Operators Willing to Treat With the Men as Individuals, but Will Have Nothing to do With Mitchell.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The great coal conference between the president and representatives of the operators and temporary White House at 4.55 this on with a fallure to reach an agreement. Apparently the rock upo in which the colliery was located. There the matter closed.

OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVES OF THE MINERS' UNION.

Mr. President—At the conference this morning, we, the accredited representatives of the anthracite coal mine workers, were much impressed with the views you expressed and the dangers to the welfare of our country from a prolongation of the coal strike that you so clearly pointed out. Conacious of our duty the coal strike that you so clearly pointed out. Conacious of our duty to the coal strike that you so clearly pointed and firty thousand mine workers whom we have the honor to represent, we have, after most carciu consideration, and with the hope of releving the situation and averting the sufferings and hardship which would inevitably follow in the wake of a coal famine, decided to propose a resumption of coal inlining upon linear enderth of the coal strike that the same that the coal strike that the coal strike that the same cultivative of our calling the coal strike shall be referred to you and a tribunal of your own selection, and agree to accept your award upon all or any the same that the same cultivative of the coal operators in the workers and the authracite coal mine workers, and will pay the scale of wages which you a the tribunal appointed by you shall award, we will immediately call a convention and upon which work is resumed.

JOHN MITCHELL, President U. M. W. of A.

Respectfully yours.

JOHN MITCHELL, President U. M. W. of A.

D. D. NICHOLLS, Dist. President U. M. W. GEORGE F. BAER, PRESIDENT OF THE READING R. R.

understand your anxiety is forcibly sed in the statement you read to us corning to bring about 'An immediate ption of operations in the coal mines ne such way as will without a day's essary delay meet the crying needs of who wants to work, but his wife and children while he is at work, and to punish every man who by instigation or by overt acts attempts to deprive any man of his liberty to work. Under these conditions we decline to accept Mr. Mitchell's considerate offer to let our men work on terms he names. He has no right to come from illinois to dictate terms, on the acceptance of which sanarchy and crime shall cease in Pennaylvania. He must stop his people from killing, maiming and abusing Pennsylvania citizens and from destroying property. He must stop it because it is unlawful and not because of any bargain with us. We will add to the stop of the strike and to take up at each collery and adjust any grievance'—this further condition—if the employers and employes at any particular collery and entire to the judges of the court of common pleas of the district in which the collery is situated for final determination.

The work of the control of the contr

The president asked Mr. Mitchell if mon pleas of the district in which the collery is situated for final determination.

The president asked Mr. Mitchell if he had anything further tosay.

Mr. Mitchell said: "The charge made by the gentlemen that twenty murders have been committed in the anthracite regions during the present strike is untrue. If they will name the men and will show that they have committed the murders, I will resign my position. That is a fair proposition, Mr. President; that is a fair example of how our organization and our people are maligned. The truth of the matter is, as far as I know, there have been seven deaths, unfortunately. No one regrets them more than I do. Three of them were committed by coal and iron police, and no one else has been charged with them. God knows the miners do not escape being charged with everything done there. They speak afternoon with a failure to reach an agreement. Apparently the rock upon which the conference split was recognition of the miners' union. The president had urged the contending parties to cease strife in the interests of public welfare; the miners through their president had expressed a willingness to submit difference to arbitration of a tribunal to be named by the president and to enter into an agreement to abide by terms fixed by the arbitration for a period of from one to five years, and the employers through the presidents of the railroad and coal companies and a leading independent mine operator had squarely refused arbitration body, with which they could and would have no dealises, had demanded federal troops to ensure complete protection to workers and their families in the mining region and court proceedings against the miners' union, and had offered, if the men returned to workers and their families in the mining region and court proceedings against the miners' union, and had offered, if the men returned to workers and their families in the mining region and court proceedings against the miners' union, and had offered. If the men returned to workers and their families in the mining region and court proceedings against the miners' union, and had offered. If the men returned to workers and their families in the mining region and court proceedings against the miners' union, and had offered. If the men returned to workers and their families in the mining region and court proceedings against the miners' union, and had offered. If the men returned to workers and their families in the mining region and court proceedings against the miners' union, and had offered. If the men returned to workers were large portion of it has been provoked by criminals who have been brought into the anthracite regions to recruit the coal and fron police. I want to say, Mr. President, that I seem here with the intention of doing nothing and saying nothing that would effect reconciliation."

THE PRESIDENT

then asked the representatives of the anthracite companies whether they would accept Mr. Mitchell's proposition.

They answered: "No."

In response to a further question from the president they stated that they would have no dealings whatever with Mr. Mitchell looking toward a settlement and that they had no other proposition to make, save what was contained in the statement of Mr. Baer, which in effect was that if any man chose to resume work and had a difficulty with his employer, both should leave the question to the judge of the court of common pleas.

At about 5 o'clock the conference was brought to a close without agreement. They answered: "No."

The tricks of slow, seductive smiles, discord.

The tricks of slow, seductive smiles, the downward curl of demure eyelashes, the tears that spring unconsciously to the eyes, are absolutely at her command. It is really marvellous how an experienced coquette, a seasoned battered feminine rake, can manage the effects of blushes and tears.

Then, too, she estimates the value of silence at the proper moment. The inexperienced woman will often wammer at the instant a man is about to declare his passion. But the profoundity, the sympathy, the modesty of silence is most thoroughly appreciated by the professional coquette.

She realizes the enormous value of the chiffons in the game she plays. All the allurements of femininity are an open secret to her. When she has an affair on hand which requires delicate diplomacy she calls to her aid ail the distinctively womanly attractions. She knows that the average man adores the mysteries of dress. He, as a rule, cares very little for a shirtwaist and tailor skirt. In their presence he is no whit abashed. He is self-possessed and master of himself.

But frils always played the deuce with a man. And no one knows this better than the professional coquette. In the bewildering marse of fripperies a man flounders, grows timid and helpless. The coquette has him then at her mercy.—Chicago Chromicle.
