

Harbor Master of Digby Dead

Captain Howard Anderson Died Saturday Night Following an Operation for Appendicitis—Was Only Ill One Week.

Special to The Standard. Digby, June 29.—Digby is in mourning today owing to the sudden death of Capt. Howard Anderson, one of its most prominent citizens, who took place about 6.30 last night following an operation for appendicitis. Capt. Anderson had been enjoying a fishing trip in the woods at his camp, Cedar Lake, and not feeling well came out last Sunday. He did not seem to be seriously ill and was about town as usual, being out in his car only last Thursday. That evening he took to his bed. His physician, Dr. Read, saw the serious nature of the trouble, and after a consultation with Dr. Lovett of Bear River, it was decided to send him to Halifax for a specialist, and Dr. H. K. McDonald, who was sent for, arrived yesterday afternoon and an operation was performed soon after, passing away at the hour stated. He was born in Parker's Cove, Annapolis 63 years ago, and came to Digby about forty years ago. In early years he was a very successful skipper of fishing vessels and only retired from the sea about eighteen years ago. He then went into the fish business on his own account, later going into partnership with Jonathan Lettney as Anderson & Lettney. This partnership was dissolved and he continued in business for himself until the organization of the Maritime Fish Corporation when he sold out to them and became their superintendent, which position he has held ever since. He was the most valued member of that corporation and was held in the highest esteem by all his associates. He served two terms in the town council, and in every matter of school board, he has been town assessor for eight years and harbor master since 1906, a member of the Marine Lodge, and in religion a Baptist. He will be greatly missed in these circles. In politics he was a Liberal. There was probably no greater authority on western Nova Scotia than Capt. Anderson. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Florence Adams of Deep Brook, one son, Councilor F. Anderson, of Digby, two daughters, one the wife of Rev. F. A. Bower, of Moranzton, N. C., and Annie, wife of M. E. Harris, of Edmonton, Alberta, one brother, C. B. Anderson, Shediac, N. B., and one sister, Mrs. E. C. Spooner, Newport, R. I.

Matters Dealt With in the House of Commons Saturday; Session Resumes on Tuesday

(Continued from page 1) Mr. Bureau urged that the Three Rivers judge had more money to do than a judge had in either Montreal or Quebec, and the latter judges were paid $7,000. Hon. Arthur Meighen stated that if all the Superior Court judges of Quebec were given $7,000 per annum, for 1920 judges would receive this. That would make a very high-salaried court. Mr. Sinclair, Quebec, also objected to the proposed increase. He pointed out that the salaries of the judges of the Province of Ontario were lower than those of the judges of the Province of Quebec. He suggested that the salaries of the judges should be based on the income tax, and it should apply to those who are retiring. Therefore the salaries should be based on the income tax. Mr. Meighen thought the matter had better be dealt with by an amendment to the income tax act. He suggested that the resolution be allowed to pass. He would consider making provision for the payment of income tax on judges' salaries. The leader of the opposition suggested that it be allowed to go through the understanding that members should have an opportunity to express their views fully on the second reading of the bill. Mr. Meighen agreed to this, and said that Mr. Bureau could introduce an amendment at any time providing for an increase in Quebec judges' salaries. Mr. Bureau, however, declared that no amendment providing for an increase could be introduced unless based upon a resolution. Finally, shortly after six o'clock, a progress was reported on the resolution and the House rose.

Nothing New in Strike Situation

Toronto Street Railway Service Tied up for Over a Week—Conciliation Board Resumes Sitings Today.

Toronto, June 29.—No sign of an early resumption of the street railway service in this city was visible tonight after a tie-up of a week and a day. Nothing new in the strike situation has developed within the past two days, and indications tonight were that no street cars would be running on Dominion Day. The board of conciliation tomorrow morning will resume its sittings, which were adjourned last Thursday morning until Friday night, and postponed Friday night because Chairman Judge Barr resumed his sittings, which were adjourned last Thursday morning until Thursday. His physician, Dr. Read, saw the serious nature of the trouble, and after a consultation with Dr. Lovett of Bear River, it was decided to send him to Halifax for a specialist, and Dr. H. K. McDonald, who was sent for, arrived yesterday afternoon and an operation was performed soon after, passing away at the hour stated. Peace Signed and Sealed in Historic Hall of Mirrors at Versailles on Saturday

The epochal meeting in the Hall of Mirrors began at 3.10 o'clock. The treaty was signed by Dr. Clemenceau at 3.12 o'clock, (12 New York time), and by Johannes Bell at 3.13 p. m. They were followed by the plenipotentiaries of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan. The representatives of the minor powers signed in alphabetical order. The treaty was deposited on the table in the Hall of Mirrors at 3.10 o'clock this afternoon by William Marston of the United States. It was enclosed in stamped leather cases. Premier Clemenceau entered the palace at 2.20 o'clock. British delegates in the following order: For Canada, Charles J. Doherty, the Minister of Justice; Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce and Arthur L. Sifton, Minister of Customs. Australia—Premier William Hughes and Sir Gilbert Cook, minister for the navy. India—Edwin S. Montague, secretary for India, and the Maharajah of Bikanir. General Jan Christian Smuts, one of the delegates representing the Union of South Africa, signed the treaty under protest. He objected to certain territorial settlements, making a lengthy statement. General Smuts said that the indemnities stipulated could not be accepted without grave injuries to the industrial revival of Europe. He declared that it would be to the interests of the Allied Powers to render the stipulations more tolerable and moderate. In his protest, General Smuts declared that there were territorial settlements which he considered would need revision and that there were guarantees provided which he hoped would soon be found out of harmony with the new peaceful temper and unarmaged state of the Central Powers. Punishment over the breadstaple, he said, over which a calmer mood might yet prefer to pass the sponge of oblivion. The protocol was signed by all those who signed the treaty. The Rhine agreement was signed by the Germans, Americans, Belgians, British and French plenipotentiaries. At 4.40 cannon began booming, announcing the completion of the ceremony of signing. The signing ceremonies, as a matter of fact was not completed, as the small nations were still signing in alphabetical order. The proceedings were formally closed at 3.45 o'clock. The only uniforms seen in the hall were those of a group of Allied generals almost all wearing the flaming scarlet sash of the Legion of Honor, and the ceremonial scarlet and white garb of the famous French Republic Guard, who were stationed about the hall. Marshal Foch was among the generals present, but it is safe to say that the entrance of a selected group of forty-five common soldiers of the Allies attracted more attention and comment than did that of the commandant of the famous heroes of the war. The unnamed heroes of the war were clad in sober field uniforms of gray and horizon blue. Among the guests were four war time French premiers—M. Viviani, Briand, Ribot and Painleve were in the French section. The British, American, Italian and the smaller nations, sent representative delegations. The most dramatic moment connected with the signing of world peace came unexpectedly and spontaneously with the conclusion of the greatest ceremony in history when Premier Clemenceau, President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George descended from the Hall of Mirrors to the terrace at the rear of the palace where thousands of spectators were massed. With the appearance of the three who have dominated the councils of the Allies, there began a most remarkable and unprecedented demonstration. With cries of "Vive Clemenceau," "Vive Wilson," "Vive Lloyd George," dense crowds swept forward from all parts of the spacious terrace. In an instant the three were surrounded by struggling, cheering masses of people, fighting among them-

Halifax Late Getting The News

Official Word of Peace Treaty Being Signed Not Received Until Yesterday Afternoon—Salute to be Fired This Morning.

Halifax, N. S., June 29.—The military officials here received official notification this afternoon the peace treaty had been signed by the Germans, and instructions were given that a salute of 21 guns should be fired at 8 o'clock Monday morning. Military officials had hoped that word would have been received in time to fire the salute at noon Saturday, and then at 5 in the afternoon. It was this afternoon when the official notice came and with it word to fire the salute at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. The reason for 101 guns is that that number is the number of salutes, so the salute "will go the limit." The guns will be fired twenty seconds apart.

Ejected Britisher From N. Y. Hotel

Sir Chas. Allom Resented Appeal for Sinn Fein Aid. STRONG LANGUAGE Hotel Management Objected to Britisher's Attitude With Force.

New York, June 27.—Sir Charles Carrick Allom, British yachtsman and manufacturer of aircraft, was forcibly ejected from the St. Regis Hotel yesterday, following an altercation with two young women asking contributions to the Irish victory fund. Sir Charles, who was vigorously propped by three husky Irish porters, came to rest on the sidewalk. His hat and cane followed him. "People were agreed, that considering the odds, the knight put up a rattling good defence. Sir Charles, it is claimed by on-lookers, on being asked to contribute to the fund, questioned the girls in what was perhaps forcible language. (It is interesting to note that Sir Charles claimed he is Australian, according to witnesses present, vigorously protesting against the management permitting a collection for a "rebellion against Britain.") Likewise, Sir Charles, in a mood to accept somewhat less than the supposed irreducible sum of fifty cents, later going into partnership with Jonathan Lettney as Anderson & Lettney. This partnership was dissolved and he continued in business for himself until the organization of the Maritime Fish Corporation when he sold out to them and became their superintendent, which position he has held ever since. He was the most valued member of that corporation and was held in the highest esteem by all his associates. He served two terms in the town council, and in every matter of school board, he has been town assessor for eight years and harbor master since 1906, a member of the Marine Lodge, and in religion a Baptist. Belgian Relief Efforts Finished

The National Committee Ends Its Labors With a Subscription List of 2,560,876 Pounds—Was Founded in May, 1915.

The National Committee for relief in Belgium announces that it has concluded its efforts and that no further contributions or gifts of clothing should be asked for on its behalf. This decision is taken in concurrence with Mr. Hoover's announcement that the Commission for Relief in Belgium has also ended its work. The National Committee for Relief in Belgium was founded April 27, 1915, and up to May 31, 1917, collected solely from the British Empire £2,411,222 18s. 2d., or an average of £100,000 per month, which was expended through Mr. Hoover's organization. On that date the announcement was made that in view of the American loan to Belgium the National Committee temporarily suspended its efforts. £18,772 19s. 11d. has since been received as a result of the original appeal. However, in October, 1918, to meet the urgent distress which immediately followed in the wake of the retreat of the Germans, the National Committee issued an appeal which up to date has resulted in gifts of clothing to the value of £97,000. In addition it has received cash subscriptions from Great Britain and the Overseas Dominions to the amount of £74,830 1s. 11d., thus bringing the National Committee into the third place in the list of British War Charities with total receipts from donations of cash and clothing amounting to £2,550,876. Any branch committees holding contributions previously collected but not yet forwarded, should send them to 3 London Avenue Buildings, E. C. 2. They will be distributed among various approved charities in Belgium, most of which are concerned with child welfare.

WATER PRESSURE INCREASES

Commissioner Jones of the Water and Sewerage Department made tests Saturday morning in the vicinity of the places mentioned in The Standard Saturday and reports as follows: Prince William street, corner Church, 30 pounds; Prince William, opposite Fairbanks-Morse building, 55; Prince William, at Standard office, 50; Prince William, at Chubb's Corner, 79; Market Square, grass plot, 80; King Square, centre south side, 55; Sydney, opposite old burying ground, 87. Mr. Jones said that the record of 85 pounds across the street from the Toronto office, which was reported as being made, and from the same water main, showed that there was nothing wrong with the water system and that any trouble which might exist must be localized in the service pipe. He is making an investigation to locate any trouble which may exist and think the lack of water mentioned by The Standard must be due to defective service pipes. The tests made Saturday morning in The Standard by Commissioner Jones showed a pressure of 50, which is twelve pounds higher than it showed early last Wednesday morning.

BUSINESS GOOD SAID MR. ROACH

Representative of St. John Firm Informs Maritime Record Equals Same Period Last Year.

(Maritime Merchant.) The "Merchant" has a brief interview with F. W. Roach, of Brock and Paterson, Ltd., St. John, when he was in Halifax for a few days last week. Mr. Roach said that business counts in every part of the Maritime provinces, and so we would like to have a view to learning that developments about the country business. He had been in the business for over six months. He said that his ideas about the future were very busy. He was concerned everything seemed to be all right. "I find," said he, "that our sales record for the period of the last year, which at that time was thought quite wonderful, think perhaps it is true that but for dollars, it is safe to say they are bought more carefully, but on the other hand they have been coming to buy in large quantities. The volume of sales is the same. The average retail merchant thinks it is buying more cautiously than he was willing to take anything else could get, no matter what the price. Today he will pay the price all right, but he will not buy anything that is assured a sale and a quick one possible." We asked Mr. Roach what his observations had been with respect to labor in the province of Brunswick, where trouble had been threatened, employers and employees had differences without a resort to harsh methods, and so there had no let up to wage earners' activity. Mr. Roach was unable to say "plans are being made" but he felt that with the weather as reduced as we find them there were surely some things being done among the workmen. He said that cold weather came around again.

It seemed as if Canada had gathered from the clouds—

"THE night we left was a memorable one, for within a few kilometres it seemed as if Canada had gathered from the clouds. Cavalry, artillery and infantry divisions long separated were united joyfully for the great adventure.

"The roads were crowded with transports and greetings passed between units from Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Hamilton and Montreal. In the early hours we passed through the suburbs of a deserted city whose venerable cathedral pile looked down, like the sentinel spirit of France—battered but unbowed....

"The day before the battle a chaplain walked and crept in every trench and spoke to every officer and man in his battalion. He gave them as a sermon five words on the five fingers of his hand "The Lord is my Shepherd" and told them to hold on to the fourth finger. The next day after the battle he met a boy in hospital...."
