The first day he came into the training room at the station and the boys were all introduced there were very formal and ill at ease with him. The next time he visited was during training hours. He sauntered in alone and promptly clapped the bare back of the athlete on the rubbing board. The latter, I think, thought it was one of the boys rolled over and whacked. His tormentor vigorously with a wet towel. When he found out who it was he sought to apologize but Lord Desborough entered so heartily into the spirit of the fun that there and there he became "Dessy" to the entire team. In fact only J. G. Merrick and Morton Crow, the managers of the team, called him Lord Desborough around the Canadian training quarters. And I found it was the same with the rest of the Colonial athletes.

Lord Desborough was in his day a real athlete. He made his athletic fame in open amateur competition and was an all round sportsman. He could run, ride, drive, row, punt, play cricket, fence and swim with the best of them. He even swam the Niagara River twice from pure love of adventure. The turbulent water of Canada's mighty gorge attracted him on a visit here away back in the eighties and he peered off and proceeded to battle his way across.
Lord Desborough is of Cornish descent. He was born on October 30th, 1855, the son of Mr. Charles W. Grenfell who represented Sandwich and Windsor in the British House of Commons.
He sprang into athletic fame at Harrow in 1878. He showed ability as a mile runner and bowled for his college against Eaton two years in succession. In 1874 he went to Balliol College, Oxford, where he took up long distance running and rowing and rowed for Oxford against Cambridge in 1877 and 1878. In 1877 he was in the crew which rowed the famous dead heat with Cambridge. It was a gruelling contest all the way, but young Grenfell, like the rest of the lads, gave his every last ounce in the effort to win. The crew did come back on the row-off and rowed Cambridge dizzy.
The unique honor of simultaneously holding the presidency of both the Boat and Athletic Club at Oxford fell to him in his college years, and he was subsequently president of the famous Marylebone Cricket Club. Along about this time while spending a vacation in Switzerland he ascended in eight days the Little Walterhorn, the Rothhorn, Monte Rosa, the Matterhorn, the Weisshorn, a superb exhibition of strength, agility and stamina.

After leaving Oxford in 1879, young Grenfell went in for rowing, and with his crew board the finishing gun first in several notable events. Even after he became a member of parliament he competed in regattas, and as a member of the famous Leander crew, rowed in a Grand Challenge Cup and held while a member of the House. He was fond of engaging in unique feats. Once he stroked an eight-oared crew across the turbulent English channel and with two others sculled from Oxford to London in twenty-two hours. He was one of the founders of both the Queen's Club and Bath Club.
In addition to being president of the British Olympic Committee in 1908, he has always been a pillar of amateur sport in England and is now president of the Lawn Tennis Association, the Croquet Association, and the Amateur Fencing Association.
He has shot big game in India and Canada, angled for tarpon and other big fish, fenced, drives a four-in-hand, and in fact tackled everything in the sporting line that an English gentleman may engage in from foot racing to elephant shooting, and has since he has left the nine active sporting events to younger blood had a place in the government of about every sport worth while in the Old Country.
If you want to know anything about Lord Desborough's political, fraternal and social career, you'll have to ask "Politics" and the "Tattler," but I do know that when war broke out his two sons, the Honorable Gerald Julian Grenfell, D.S.O., of the Royal Dragoons, and the younger son, Honorable Gerald William Grenfell, of the Rifle Brigade, went to the front on the first call, served with distinction, and both fell "On Flanders' Fields."

Johnstone Won From Williams
Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 2.—William M. Johnstone turned aside for a formidable aspirant for his honors, when by steady and forceful playing he defeated R. Morris Williams 11, in the fourth round of the thirty-ninth all-comers national tennis championship singles here today. The two stars of the Davis Cup team fought the all court type of game, Johnstone mastering his rival in straight sets scored at 6-3, 6-4, 7-5. This was the outstanding highlight of the day, although in the other matches of the round form prevailed and William T. Tilden 11, the world's title holder, Wallace F. Johnson, the wizard of the chop stroke, C. Collett Coker, Walter Westbrook, the Michigan star, and William M. Washburn, were winners.

BRITISH SPORTING PEER BELOVED BY ALL ATHLETES

Lord Desborough, the Empire Sportsman, is to Preside Over the Ninth Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire at Toronto September 16 — His History as Athlete.

By LOU. E. MARSH
Toronto, Sept. 2.—For just one day the athletes on the Canadian Olympic team of 1908 were bashful and ill at ease with Lord Desborough, the famous British sporting peer who is to preside over the Ninth Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire, which is to meet in Toronto, September 16th.
After then it was "Dessy" old chap—not quite as familiar-like as it sounds but toned to indicate a sort of a deferential spirit of comradeship which sprang up instantly between the Canucks and the British Olympic Committee in charge of the games that year.
Today I asked Jack Tait, the Toronto winner, who was on that team, what he thought of Lord Desborough. "Good fellow! Fine fellow!" he replied instantly.
Today I asked Captain Elwood A. Hughes, Manager of Sports Day at the Exhibition who took Jim Corkery, the Canadian Marathon Champion to England and won the Sporting Life Trophy, what he thought of Lord Desborough, who he met at that event. "Good fellow! Fine fellow!" he replied instantly and enthusiastically. "One of the finest sportsmen I ever met," and Hughes has met them from Athens to Stockholm and from New York to Frisco.
Lord Desborough—Good Fellow, would be the capital title for the sporting men in Great Britain and her colonies had any thought to say about it for Lord Desborough is just as popular among South African, Australian and Indian athletes as he is among Canadians and those in the old country. Any man who can make and hold through forty years of active connection with sport a reputation as a "Fine Fellow," can stand on his own two feet in any company.
I know but mighty little about Lord Desborough outside of his sporting activities but he certainly has now a niche in the Sporting Hall of Fame. I was with the Canadian team at the 1908 Olympic in London and remember him there.

The first day he came into the training room at the station and the boys were all introduced there were very formal and ill at ease with him. The next time he visited was during training hours. He sauntered in alone and promptly clapped the bare back of the athlete on the rubbing board. The latter, I think, thought it was one of the boys rolled over and whacked. Tennessean Top Jack At Grand Circuit

Captures $3,000 Purse for 2-Year Old Trotters, and Wins Juvenile Event With Favonian.

Readville, Mass., Sept. 2.—Fred Edman, the Tennessean, was the top jock at the Grand Circuit races today, capturing the Boston Herald's $2,000 purse offered for two-year-old trotters, and later in the afternoon leading the field in the 2.06 trot. Favonian was his unbeaten mare on the "big line" this season, Tootsie Toise, accounted for his second victory of the day.
Favonian had little difficulty in winning the Herald purse, trailing in each heat until the field swung into the homestretch, then brushing past the leaders in the race to the wire. Tootsie Toise let the others make the pace in the first heat of the 2.06 trot until she mowed them down in the home stretch battle, but in the final she led all the way.
Finishes were close in the 2.14 pace, but Billy Crozier's mount, Billy Sunday, just managed to stave off the rushes of his opponents at the wire in each heat.

Many Entries For Dog Show

When N. B. Kennel Club Opens Show Next Tuesday 240 Dogs Benchched.

When the Dog Show, under the auspices of the N. B. Kennel Club, opens here next Tuesday afternoon in the Armory on the exhibition grounds, there will be 240 dogs of all kinds of breeds benchched. This makes a record number for Maritime Province shows in recent years, and when quality is considered, it will be probably the best show that has ever been staged down east.
Fanciers from Montreal are sending a large number of high-class dogs, while Toronto will also be well represented. James W. Bain, of Toronto, is sending down two alreales, two wire fox terriers, and a very fine specimen of a bull terrier. These dogs will be under the management of George Ward, one of the oldest and best known dog fanciers on the continent.
Included in the Montreal contingent are three fine bull dogs—"Who Goes There," "Aban Jim" and "Nimble Garland." The last named is well known in the city. She was originally imported from England by William Mackin, of this city, and was sold after the past show to Montreal parties. Also coming from Montreal are Champion "Sonora Nancy," an Irish setter,

When the Dog Show, under the auspices of the N. B. Kennel Club, opens here next Tuesday afternoon in the Armory on the exhibition grounds, there will be 240 dogs of all kinds of breeds benchched. This makes a record number for Maritime Province shows in recent years, and when quality is considered, it will be probably the best show that has ever been staged down east.
Fanciers from Montreal are sending a large number of high-class dogs, while Toronto will also be well represented. James W. Bain, of Toronto, is sending down two alreales, two wire fox terriers, and a very fine specimen of a bull terrier. These dogs will be under the management of George Ward, one of the oldest and best known dog fanciers on the continent.
Included in the Montreal contingent are three fine bull dogs—"Who Goes There," "Aban Jim" and "Nimble Garland." The last named is well known in the city.
