

Hamilton Notes.

On the 7th of June the writer received the Messenger for May.

How about the new Omaha stamps, we have not seen many of them here yet.

Mr. Mason of Hamilton headed the polls in the election for Trustees. Well why not?

There are lots of Jubilees coming through the post office here. Lookout for a drop in prices.

A person in Hamilton bought 200 eight cent Jubilees at the post office a few days ago. Look out for more.

For one more year the Philatelic Advocate will act as Official Organ of our noble society and we wish it luck for the ensuing year.

The ten cent stamp with the maple leaves in four corners has again been placed on sale at this post office after an absence of about two weeks.

Well here is the new issue a larger horse collar than ever around the Queen's head and the numerals in the two lower corners. We wonder who will kick next.

A number of the members of the Hamilton Stamp Club will start their summer camp in a few days. They will go to Hamilton Besch, one of the finest summer resorts in Canada.

Well the convention is over. elections and all and there are a good many surprised people. There were about twenty outsiders here and everybody had a fine time.

There is a great demand here for the 10c, 8c, 6c and 5c stamps of this issue. A man here paid as high as $2.00 for fifty 8c the other day. The 10c stamp sells for 5c easily and the 6c for 3c.

The new 3c. and 1c. stamps are now on sale at this post office. The design is much better. The large oval is larger and the maple leaves in the lower corners are taken out and replaced by figures.

At the convention the question of reopening the polls for the election of a president was brought up, but after much discussion it was voted down. What's the matter with Muirhead? He's all right!

Among those present at the convention was Mr. Chas. Bayley who came all the way from Chicago. This shows that there is at least one person who has an interest in the D. P. A. Mr. Bailey occupied the chair.

The Hamilton Stamp Club has closed its rooms for the summer months, July and August. The meetings will be resumed at the beginning of September when we hope to have our membership list reach the thirty mark.

The new special delivery stamps made their appearance at this post office on the 1st July. The design is by no means neat, it is more like a tobacco stamp than anything, in fact most tobacco stamps are of a better design.

PHILO.
