

British and French Warships Capture German Men-o'-war

London, Aug. 5.—Official confirmation of reported capture of one German cruiser and the sinking of two others of Kaiser's fleet during the fierce engagements in the North Sea has been received here.

London, Aug. 5.—A despatch to The Chronicle from Paris says that after bombarding the Algerian town of Bona, the German cruisers Goben, Breslau and Panther were caught by the British and French squadrons which had been awaiting them.

The French warships captured the Goben and sunk the Panther.

AMERICANS WORRIED ABOUT SHIPPING

New York, Aug. 5.—With War formally declared between England and Germany, there was keen interest in Marine circles last night regarding the movement of trans-Atlantic steamships, particularly German liners which are scurrying to port to avoid possible capture by armed vessels of hostile European nations.

With at least one German cruiser hovering off the Atlantic Coast no surprise was shown to-night when a large passenger steamship was seen slipping past Fire Island with only her running lights showing and proved to be the White Star liner Olympic from Southampton.

AUSTRIA -- HUNGARY EVACUATES SERVIA

Austro-Hungary for the moment has retired from the campaign against Servia for the purpose of holding back Russia.

Canadian Government is Preparing To Send Aid to the Motherland in the War

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—At the conclusion of last night's Cabinet Council meeting the Prime Minister announced that Parliament had been summoned to meet on Tuesday, August 18th.

Parliament is likely to remain continuous session until peace is declared.

The Militia Department has taken steps to place guns at Glace Bay and other Cable stations, thus fortifying them against any possible attempt by German cruisers to cut communication with Britain.

Orders for the mobilization of 21,000 Canadians will be approved by the Cabinet.

S. ARMY GETS GIFT OF $350,000

Bequeathed to it in the Will of a Sympathiser But which the Next of Kin Contested in the British Courts

London, July 29.—Is General Bramwell Booth entitled to receive a residuary bequest worth $350,000 mentioned in the will of Mary Jane Fowler? The chancery court has decided in his favor, but laid down a distinct proviso that the money was to be used by the Salvation Army strictly for the advancement of religion.

Religious Purposes

Frank Russell, K.C., who appeared for General Booth, said that the words used in the will in connection with the bequest were: "To the general, for the time being, of the Salvation Army, to be used for 'corps' purposes in Liverpool." He submitted that these words constituted a good charitable religious gift, and that "corps purposes" referred to the religious portion of the Salvation Army's activities as distinct from its social work.

Mr. Lawrence, K.C., for the next-of-kin and the heir-at-law, contended that the gift was not a good charitable one, and could not be supported. There was nothing, he argued, to prevent General Booth from expending the money on other than religious purposes.

Judgment For the Army

The judge held that the bequest was a good charitable religious gift, and he directed the trustee, who had initiated the proceedings, to deal with the residuary estate accordingly. "In my opinion," he said, "General Booth has not, under the constitution of the Salvation Army, power to expend any trust money of the organization except on purposes clearly and entirely religious. It is clear to me that 'corps purposes' is purely religious and that the money will have to be expended for such purposes."

HAS PLEADED GUILTY

His father, who was charged with receiving stolen goods, will not be prosecuted.

Official Declaration Of War With Germany

Forwarded to Governor Last Night From Authorities of Great Britain And Soon Became Known In City

"England expects every man this day to do his duty." The clarion of that grand old Viking, Nelson, the hero of Trafalgar, reaches down through the ages, and bursts on the ear of the British world to-day, with deeper meaning than when first uttered.

Greater Britain hears it and Greater Britain will respond with all the vigor and life of the world's greatest nation.
