

BOYDS

Our Phone Number is 211

Regarding the January Clearance of Womens and Misses Coats

Please remember that every Coat in stock has been reduced in price.

Embroideries

The high grade embroideries which we are showing are of Swiss Make, and will be purchased at prices far below what were asked for them this year and you received the benefit of our early buying.

We Advise You to Stock Up On KNIT UNDERWEAR and CASHMERE HOSIERY while our stock is complete

Wonderful Values in Silk Blouses.

Dozens of lovely styles to choose from. Special 20 per cent discount while stock taking.

All Broken Lots of Merchandise must be Cleared For New Goods Coming In.

300 yards New Gingham at 20c yd 300 yds White Flannelette, 10 yards for $2.00

BOYDS SPECIAL CORSETS $1.50 PAIR.

R. S. Boyd & Co.

Truro's Largest Exclusive Retail Store

Money Saving Sale of Boy's Suits

36 Boys Suits, Sizes 28 to 33

Regular value $7.50

Sale Price to clear $4.49

Mens Linen Collars

Assorted sizes and styles

50cts a doz to clear.

A. E. HUNT & CO.

ATTRACTIVE SUITS For YOUNG MEN

Spring Shipments of Fancy Greys, Browns, Blue, with very neat silver stripe, put in stock, at sale prices.

$22.00	Sale	$17.25
25.00	"	19.75
30.00	"	24.25
35.00	"	29.00
40.00	"	33.50
45.00	"	38.00

Style—Plus—Quality.

CUMMINGS & HILTZ, Proper Clothiers.

Flowers for Winter.

Place your orders now

Bulbs, Ferns and Potted Plants for the Home

SUCKLING & CHASE LTD.

TROOPER CLARKE HAD TRYING TIME.

Among the arrivals on the Aquitania on Saturday was Trooper George Clarke, a Nova Scotian, a native of Lattie's Brook, Hants Co. who has the 1914 Star, the D. C. M. with bar, and the French Croix de Guerre and palm. Trooper Clarke, who is now but 26 years of age, has been all over the world practically, having been in South Africa, Japan, South America, the Western States and Eastern and Western Canada before he enlisted for overseas service.

Enlisted With "Black Devils."

He left Nova Scotia for the West, about seven years ago, and it was in August, 1914, that he enlisted with the Winnipeg "Black Devils" for overseas service. On the other side he transferred to the Fort Garry Horse. He was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal at Gavinchy in 1915, and the bar at the Somme in 1916, the former for carrying of the field under fire thirty-five wounded, he himself being wounded. The Croix de Guerre came to him for taking a machine gun from a German trench and bringing back with him a British soldier who had been held there. He was decorated with the Croix de Guerre by General Foch at Bayrath on March 17th, 1916. The D. C. M. bar was awarded him for bringing back to the lines from the field a couple of wounded Canadians.

Mr. Clarke is very modest about the gallant acts which won him the honors and, asked to relate them in detail, dismissed all thought of them with a few words. So also as to his wounds. He was five times wounded by shrapnel and other wise, but only twice left the battalion to go to hospital, once in France and the other time in England.

He saw much active service at the taking of Ypres, Festhubert, Gavinchy, Neuve Chappelle the Somme campaign etc.

He married in England, but his wife on account of ill health is there. He is now a trooper and never sought higher rank. He is visiting in Maitland to see his mother and spend a few days with her before proceeding West, where he expects to take up a tract of land.

CORPORAL CHARLES R. FULTON PEMBROKE, HOME A GAIN.

Corporal Charles R. Fulton, Pembroke, Col. Co., was in Truro Jan. 27th.

He returned from overseas on the Olympic, January 17th, and when asked to tell somewhat of his experience over there he replied: "What in thunder do I want to advertise myself that way?"

Cpl. Fulton enlisted with the 63rd Halifax Rifles, February 6, 1915, and went overseas with the first draft of the 63rd, on the Missanabie, January 22, 1916. He was soon in France with the 23rd Can. M. G. Co.

For eighteen months he was in the trenches, and never received a scratch but many a Hun "got his" during this time.

"Charlie" figured in many of the big scraps, going over the top at the Somme, Vimy, Hill 70, and Passchendaele.

During the engagement at Hill 70 this brave soldier was awarded the Military Medal for wonderful daring in keeping his machine gun going when everything was pretty hot all around him. In November 1915, he received the longed for "Blighty" and was sent back to England "pretty well fed up with France" as he expresses it.

Since February, 1917, he has "swung the lead" on the Instruction staff at Seaford, England, but is mighty glad to be back to his native land once more, after having played the game, to the end.

LONDONDERRY, COL. CO.

Jan. 27.—A dance was held here on 21st in the hall over Lee's barber shop. Quite a number attended from outside and a good time enjoyed by all.

A number from here attended the Municipal Meetings of last week. Ross Fleming, Folly Mt., was here on 25th.

Friends of Raymond Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Smith, are glad to welcome him home after being overseas for the past two years.

Mr. A. F. MacDonald of the Royal Bank spent the week-end in Truro. CANADIAN

For Spanish Influenza

The Lintment that Cures All Ailments—

MINARD'S

THE OLD RELIABLE—Try It. MINARD'S LINTMENT CO. LTD. Yarmouth, N. S.

MR. AND MRS. ALEXANDER SEMPLE, SPRINGSIDE, COL. CO., HONOR BY THEIR FRIENDS.

On Monday evening, Jan. 13, Springside Hall, Upper Stewiacke, was the scene of a very interesting event, when over 100 of the Springside Congregation attended a supper and social, given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Semple. In the past few months we have had several similar affairs in this district to welcome back those of our local boys, who had returned from overseas.

Mr. Semple is not a soldier, having been perhaps 25 years or so over the age limit, when the war broke out, but he might very rightly be classed as a veteran, having to his credit many years of active service in connection with church affairs and other works for the good of community. For many years Mr. Semple has taken charge of all building and repair work in connection with the church properties and being a very efficient carpenter to have him in charge was a guarantee of the work well performed. His bill when presented was invariably on the basis of about half or even less of the standard wage. This summer there was considerable work of this kind. New furnaces were installed in the church, among other things. The work was all finished in a satisfactory manner under the direction of Mr. Semple, and again his bill was small in proportion to the amount of work done and time expended. The people of the congregation concluded that Mr. Semple was endeavoring to carry too much of the burden and decided that Benjamin Franklin's old saying "virtue brings its own reward" was out of date in these days of "the high cost of living," so a surprise party was suggested to await upon Mr. and Mrs. Semple and extend to them the thanks of the congregation for their good services. It was finally decided to hold it in the Springside Hall. The next question was how to get Mr. and Mrs. Semple there without giving the "show" way, but that was overcome by an invitation from Mr. James Creelman, who lives within a stone's throw of the Hall, for them to spend the evening at his home.

Between six and eight o'clock a beautiful supper was served by the ladies, to all who cared to attend, and was worth it too. After it was over the meeting was called to order, with Mr. James Creelman in the chair and a very appropriate speech he referred to Mr. and Mrs. Semple for their past services, and concluded by presenting them with a substantial purse of money, which had been raised by subscription and which as Mr. Creelman said, "in dollars and cents represented only in small proportion the goodwill toward them and the esteem in which they were held in the community."

Mr. Sam'l. G. Cox spoke and praised Mr. Semple very highly as a neighbor and citizen. Mr. George Dickie told a few stories of the dim and distant past when he and Mr. Semple were boys together and attended the same school. We of the younger generation have always known Mr. Dickie and Mr. Semple as rather staid and certainly altogether law-abiding citizens, and very likely none of us would have ever suspected that they had always been "thus" had it not been for Mr. Dickie's surprising reminiscences. After Mr. Dickie had concluded his remarks a social hour was spent. The choir sang a few selections; a violin and several other musical instruments were in evidence and were not allowed to remain idle, and opportunity were given to anyone who wished to meet the guests of the evening. That Mr. and Mrs. Semple may be spared to enjoy many more Happy and Prosperous Years, is, I am sure, the earnest wish of everyone in this community. COM.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Mr. Gordon Fulton of Upper Stewiacke was in town on the 28th with a load of wheat to be ground at The Victoria Mills. Mr. Fulton sowed one and a half bushels of "Red Fife" wheat upon three quarters of an acre of land. The yield was 26 bushels of prime wheat.

The Truro Bachelors are having an "At Home", at the N. S. Agricultural College, on Thursday evening. Proceeds are in aid of the I. O. D. E. and the Junior Red Cross. Mrs. A. E. Crowe and Mrs. B. L. McFarlane will be the chaperons.

Another big Santa Fe freight engine has been sent to Cape Breton to be used there. Mr. and Mrs. T. G. McMullen, "The Cedars" Queen Street, have left for Florida, where they will spend the month of February. Messrs. Blanchard and Bradley have shipped a lumber mill to Brookfield, where they will carry on operations there. The Governor General is a guest in Quebec of Lieut. Governor, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick and Lady Fitzpatrick at Spencerwood.

Mr. Semple is not a soldier, having been perhaps 25 years or so over the age limit, when the war broke out, but he might very rightly be classed as a veteran, having to his credit many years of active service in connection with church affairs and other works for the good of community. For many years Mr. Semple has taken charge of all building and repair work in connection with the church properties and being a very efficient carpenter to have him in charge was a guarantee of the work well performed. His bill when presented was invariably on the basis of about half or even less of the standard wage. This summer there was considerable work of this kind. New furnaces were installed in the church, among other things. The work was all finished in a satisfactory manner under the direction of Mr. Semple, and again his bill was small in proportion to the amount of work done and time expended. The people of the congregation concluded that Mr. Semple was endeavoring to carry too much of the burden and decided that Benjamin Franklin's old saying "virtue brings its own reward" was out of date in these days of "the high cost of living," so a surprise party was suggested to await upon Mr. and Mrs. Semple and extend to them the thanks of the congregation for their good services. It was finally decided to hold it in the Springside Hall. The next question was how to get Mr. and Mrs. Semple there without giving the "show" way, but that was overcome by an invitation from Mr. James Creelman, who lives within a stone's throw of the Hall, for them to spend the evening at his home.

Between six and eight o'clock a beautiful supper was served by the ladies, to all who cared to attend, and was worth it too. After it was over the meeting was called to order, with Mr. James Creelman in the chair and a very appropriate speech he referred to Mr. and Mrs. Semple for their past services, and concluded by presenting them with a substantial purse of money, which had been raised by subscription and which as Mr. Creelman said, "in dollars and cents represented only in small proportion the goodwill toward them and the esteem in which they were held in the community."

Mr. Sam'l. G. Cox spoke and praised Mr. Semple very highly as a neighbor and citizen. Mr. George Dickie told a few stories of the dim and distant past when he and Mr. Semple were boys together and attended the same school. We of the younger generation have always known Mr. Dickie and Mr. Semple as rather staid and certainly altogether law-abiding citizens, and very likely none of us would have ever suspected that they had always been "thus" had it not been for Mr. Dickie's surprising reminiscences. After Mr. Dickie had concluded his remarks a social hour was spent. The choir sang a few selections; a violin and several other musical instruments were in evidence and were not allowed to remain idle, and opportunity were given to anyone who wished to meet the guests of the evening. That Mr. and Mrs. Semple may be spared to enjoy many more Happy and Prosperous Years, is, I am sure, the earnest wish of everyone in this community. COM.

The Dominion War Savings Committee in Nova Scotia is progressing well. Already some of the County Chairmen have been appointed. A. J. Campbell will act for Colchester and Rev. Dr. Boyd for Hants.

Minard's Lintment for sale every where.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Mr. Gordon Fulton of Upper Stewiacke was in town on the 28th with a load of wheat to be ground at The Victoria Mills. Mr. Fulton sowed one and a half bushels of "Red Fife" wheat upon three quarters of an acre of land. The yield was 26 bushels of prime wheat.

The Truro Bachelors are having an "At Home", at the N. S. Agricultural College, on Thursday evening. Proceeds are in aid of the I. O. D. E. and the Junior Red Cross. Mrs. A. E. Crowe and Mrs. B. L. McFarlane will be the chaperons.

Another big Santa Fe freight engine has been sent to Cape Breton to be used there. Mr. and Mrs. T. G. McMullen, "The Cedars" Queen Street, have left for Florida, where they will spend the month of February. Messrs. Blanchard and Bradley have shipped a lumber mill to Brookfield, where they will carry on operations there. The Governor General is a guest in Quebec of Lieut. Governor, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick and Lady Fitzpatrick at Spencerwood.

Mr. Semple is not a soldier, having been perhaps 25 years or so over the age limit, when the war broke out, but he might very rightly be classed as a veteran, having to his credit many years of active service in connection with church affairs and other works for the good of community. For many years Mr. Semple has taken charge of all building and repair work in connection with the church properties and being a very efficient carpenter to have him in charge was a guarantee of the work well performed. His bill when presented was invariably on the basis of about half or even less of the standard wage. This summer there was considerable work of this kind. New furnaces were installed in the church, among other things. The work was all finished in a satisfactory manner under the direction of Mr. Semple, and again his bill was small in proportion to the amount of work done and time expended. The people of the congregation concluded that Mr. Semple was endeavoring to carry too much of the burden and decided that Benjamin Franklin's old saying "virtue brings its own reward" was out of date in these days of "the high cost of living," so a surprise party was suggested to await upon Mr. and Mrs. Semple and extend to them the thanks of the congregation for their good services. It was finally decided to hold it in the Springside Hall. The next question was how to get Mr. and Mrs. Semple there without giving the "show" way, but that was overcome by an invitation from Mr. James Creelman, who lives within a stone's throw of the Hall, for them to spend the evening at his home.

Between six and eight o'clock a beautiful supper was served by the ladies, to all who cared to attend, and was worth it too. After it was over the meeting was called to order, with Mr. James Creelman in the chair and a very appropriate speech he referred to Mr. and Mrs. Semple for their past services, and concluded by presenting them with a substantial purse of money, which had been raised by subscription and which as Mr. Creelman said, "in dollars and cents represented only in small proportion the goodwill toward them and the esteem in which they were held in the community."

Mr. Sam'l. G. Cox spoke and praised Mr. Semple very highly as a neighbor and citizen. Mr. George Dickie told a few stories of the dim and distant past when he and Mr. Semple were boys together and attended the same school. We of the younger generation have always known Mr. Dickie and Mr. Semple as rather staid and certainly altogether law-abiding citizens, and very likely none of us would have ever suspected that they had always been "thus" had it not been for Mr. Dickie's surprising reminiscences. After Mr. Dickie had concluded his remarks a social hour was spent. The choir sang a few selections; a violin and several other musical instruments were in evidence and were not allowed to remain idle, and opportunity were given to anyone who wished to meet the guests of the evening. That Mr. and Mrs. Semple may be spared to enjoy many more Happy and Prosperous Years, is, I am sure, the earnest wish of everyone in this community. COM.

OBITUARY.

CHARLES E. McElhinney.

Charles E. McElhinney died at his late residence in Greenwood, Mass., Jan. 15, at the age of 87 years. He was born in Nova Scotia and lived in Lynn for 38 years following his trade as a carpenter. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. B. Wass of Greenwood, Mrs. W. A. Kennedy of Springvale, and Mrs. H. S. Gilman, Salem; two sons, Edward M. and Elbridge S. McElhinney of Lynn. He is also survived by his wife, Mary A. McElhinney, aged 86. The body will be brought from Greenwood tomorrow afternoon and will be interred in this city.

Funeral Services.

The funeral of Charles E. McElhinney, who died in Greenwood, took place Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Rhodes Memorial chapel. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Dike, of Greenwood Cemetery. The burial was in Pine Grove Cemetery. (Mr. McElhinney was a former resident of Glenholme.)

"MAPLE LEAF"—CANADA BRAND PURE LINSEED OIL CAKE

The King of All Cattle Feeds.

POSITIVE FACTS FOR FEEDERS

LINSEED OIL CAKE is recognized as the richest and most concentrated of foods for domestic animals. Both in manurial and food value it stands higher than any other feeding material. A ton of Linseed Oil Cake contains three times the digestible protein, or muscle-making element, contained in a ton of corn; while the manurial value of the Cake fed is more than three times that of corn. Protein, needless to say, is the most costly, necessary and valuable element in food. It is the lean in meat, the albumen in the egg, the casein or curd in milk, and the gluten in flour.

We submit below a chart showing comparative value in protein, manurial and general feed values, as determined by actual analytical tests, of feeding substances in general use:

Description of Food	5%	10%	15%	20%	25%	30%	35%	%
Turnips.....								4.5
Corn.....								10.3
Oats.....								11.8
Wheat.....								11.9
Bran.....								15.4
Middlings.....								15.6
Peas.....								21.2
LINSEED OILCAKE								35.6
"MAPLE LEAF" Brand.....

PROTEIN is the most costly necessary and valuable element in food.

Manurial value of different feeds per ton fed:

Description of Food	$5.00	$10.00	$15.00	$20.00	$1.00
Turnips.....					6.07
Corn.....					5.60
Oats.....					6.70
Wheat.....					5.75
Bran.....					6.00
Middlings.....					13.35
Peas.....
LINSEED OILCAKE					18.56
"MAPLE LEAF" Brand.....

General feeding value of Linseed Oilcake compared with other feeds:

Linseed Cake 1	Middlings.....2.5	Corn.....3.
Peas.....1.5	Bran.....2.75	Hay.....5.
Oats.....2.5	Wheat.....3.	Turnips.....30

Illustration:—1 pound of Linseed Oilcake is equal in feeding value to 3 pounds of Corn, or 30 pounds of Turnips.

Write to our nearest Mill for prices. Ask for our free booklet "Facts to Feeders"

THE CANADA LINSEED OIL MILLS LIMITED

Mills at MONTREAL and TORONTO