Mrs. Clara L. Board of Atlanta appeared in court recently in her own behalf in a suit against a person who owed money to a firm for which she was collector. Women are not admitted to the bar in Georgia, but Mrs. Board, who has studied law, hopes to have a chance to practice some day.

Miss Vivian Sartoris has this season added to her former accomplishments that of golf, and is said to be one of the strong players of Richfield Springs, where, with her grandmother, Mrs. Julia Dent Grant, her mother, Mrs. Frank Grant Sartoris, and her sister, Miss Rosemary Sartoris, she is spending the season.

A few weeks ago Miss Sarah Carr of Boston was a cloak model in a department store. Now she is Mrs. Frank Skinner, Jr., wife of a millionaire and mistress of one of the finest homes on the Back Bay. While accompanying his aunt on a shopping expedition, the young millionaire saw the girl who became his wife, and his parents made no objection to the match.

A newspaper correspondent who recently had a long conversation with Mrs. William J. Bryan says that the wife of the Democratic candidate for president is the best story teller of all the women but one the correspondent has heard, and always has a good story to relate. Mrs. Bryan is an unusually good mimic and imitator of dialects, by which qualifications she makes her anecdotes the more effective.

LA GRIPPE'S BAVAGES

A CAMPDEN LADY CURED OF ITS AFTER EFFECTS.

She Was Left Weak and Run Down, and Unable to Regain Her Strength Until She Used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

In the village of Campden, Ont., and throughout the surrounding country, there are few people better known or more highly esteemed than Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Albright. Mr. Albright has for many years filled the position of village postmaster, and in addition to conducting a boot and shoe business. But it is with the postmaster's estimable wife that this article has chiefly to do, as it gives particulars of her recovery from a severe illness through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To a reporter who asked Mrs. Albright if she would consent to give the particulars of her illness and cure for publication, she said: "If you think my experience will help some other sufferer I am quite willing to give it, for I may tell you that I am a very enthusiastic admirer of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For some years prior to the winter of 1898 I suffered with lameness, which frequently prevented me from doing my household work. Later exposure to cold developed sciatica, and every movement of the body caused intense pain. In this way passed gloomy days and restless nights, until the winter of 1898, when my trouble was aggravated by an attack of la grippe. The first and most severe symptoms of this trouble passed away, but it left me in a weak and depressed condition. I did not appear to be able to recover my strength, my appetite was very feeble, I was extremely nervous, and my heart would palpitate painfully at the least exertion. I had been under a doctor's care, but did not recover from the ailment, and as a consequence I was much depressed in spirits. At this juncture a friend who called upon me advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to follow the advice and procure a supply. To my gratification I felt an improvement in my condition almost from the first dose, and after using the pills for a little over a month I was once more enjoying the best of health, every trace of the trouble that had afflicted me having disappeared. It is nearly three years since I used the pills and I have been well and strong ever since, and I have the best reason for ascribing my present good health to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic and not a purgative medicine. They enrich the blood from the first dose to the last and thus bring health and strength to every organ in the body. The genuine pills are sold only in boxes with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," printed on the wrapper. If your dealer cannot supply you send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, 100 North Second St., New York, N. Y., and the pills will be mailed post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

Those who are industrious in any calling are capable of further blessings; whereas the idle are fit for nothing but temptation.—Bishop Hall.

THE FARMER'S WIFE
is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a good wash to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are exactly akin to the churning of butter. Is it not apparent, then, that if this stomach churn is "sour" which is put into it? The evil of a foul stomach is not the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption and poisonous elements of the blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour stomach disappear, does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every taint and corrupting element. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant and no narcotic.

MATRON AND MAID.

Mrs. Jane Elizabeth Waggoner died at Lockhaven, Pa., recently of paralysis, aged 70 years. She was the great-granddaughter of John Quincy Adams.

Mrs. Agnes Adams of Racine, Wis., who is in poor circumstances, has been notified that she is heiress to the estate of her deceased brother in London, estimated at $500,000.

Mme. Jean Pommerehne, the French explorer, is about to start on another expedition. This time she will penetrate the Sahara and write a book about the customs of the natives.

Angela Anderson, the young pianist who recently returned from Paris, is a niece of E. Henry Anderson of New York and a great-granddaughter of Dr. Pontre, who wrote the text of "Don Giovanni" and other Mozart operas.

The year 1900 would have been Mary Anderson's "silver" year as an actress had she remained in active service in the profession. Her first appearance was made on Nov. 27, 1875, in Louisville in the character of Juliet.

A portrait of Mrs. Lou V. Stephens has been hung in the executive mansion at Jefferson City, Mo. Portraits of former governors are there in plenty, but there were none of their wives or female relatives, so that Mrs. Stephens' is the first to be hung there.

Mrs. Blanche Helen Burlingame of Chilmark, a descendant of the aristocracy of England, Ireland and France, says she has just inherited $5,000,000 from her uncle, Sir Martin Cary, one of the wealthiest and most philanthropic lords of western Ireland.

Mrs. L. M. Stevens, the re-elected president of the W. C. T. U., is a native of Denver and began her work as a teacher of that city. She met Miss Willard at Old Orchard in 1875, and from the friendship which then began sprung her interest in temperance work.

Mrs. Caroline Clark Quantrell, mother of the famous guerrilla Quantrell, has been sent to the state Old Fellows' home at Springfield, O. She has drifted about among poorhouses, and finally the Ohio grand lodge of Odd Fellows took the matter up and had her provided for.

Rosamond Rodkinson, a native of Vienna, only 24 years of age, is resisting the temptations of the East, and is assisting to give the world the first complete translation of the Babylonian Talmud ever prepared. Miss Rodkinson is said to be the only woman living who has a thorough knowledge of the Talmud.

HIVE AND BEE.

More bees are lost in wintering than by disease.
Keep bees to make your own honey, but begin on a small scale.

Lack of ventilation is the cause of dampness in many hives, and it is essential that the hives be allowed to remain about the hives just as it fell, even if it covers the hives entirely.

It is important to have an alighting place convenient for the bees to enter the hive, and the south front is desirable. The entrance to the hives should be contracted during the winter. Three inches long and three-eighths wide is sufficient.

Bees seldom, if ever, take a fly while they are in a proper condition, they will not fly at all.

One result of disturbing the bees in winter is that it causes them instinctively to fill themselves with honey, and, as a consequence, they become unhealthy. If bees are ever weak in ordinary, thin, unprotected hives, the moisture arising from them will condense and freeze to the hive thereby enfeebling the bees with ice.

PAINTERS AND WRITERS.
Charles Peck, one of the founders of the Chicago Academy of Design and a pioneer artist of Chicago, died recently.

Edmond Rostand, the famous French novelist, owes his poor health largely to his hard work. He writes nearly all the day and long into the night.

Ernest Seton-Thompson, the naturalist, writer and artist, is a physical counter-part of Paderewski. Like the pianist, too, he began his career with a direful struggle against poverty.

Dr. Cassin Doyle says that the salutation given by his little girl when he returned home after his defeat at the parliamentary election was: "Oh, daddy! I am so sorry you did not pass!"

One of the first things Weston Churchill did on reaching Boston was to make a tour of the old bookshops. He has a hobby for old books and while in this country has gathered up several rare ones.

STATE LINES.
The state that built the Oregon is certainly entitled to have a first class battleship named after it. It is not that, but that we enter our protest.—Los Angeles Herald.
