General Intelligence

ANOTHER TIRED LIBERAL.

HE THINKS THOUSANDS WHO VOTED FOR LAURIER ARE DISAPPOINTED.

One of the strongest Liberals in the county is Dr. Parslow, late principal of the High School at Port Hope, and he thus expresses his disgust at the way things are being going:

It is as a friend and well wisher of the Laurier ministry that I venture to express my great disappointment with the results of their first year in office. Unless my gauge of public sentiment is a wrong one, many thousands of those who voted and worked to put that Government in power on June 23, 1896, are now as disappointed as I am.

The Liberal party in the House, and the Liberal press out of it, had when in opposition, inveighed so constantly against Tory extravagance, the immense cost of government and the vast burden of taxation fastened upon the people (including thousands of Tories) who groaning under the weight of taxation, voted these Liberals into power at the last election. Had not those who did so a perfect right to expect that the new Government would practice in office what they preached in opposition, and give us retrenchment in every department of the public service, and a large reduction in the demands of the Government upon the pockets of the public?—Hamilton Spectator.

OTHERS FAIL—IT CURES!

DEAN SIBBS.—From my own experience I can confidently say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry possesses true merit. It was the means of saving my little girl's life last summer. She was vomiting and took violent diarrhea. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cured her, and I feel that I cannot say enough in its favor.

IMPROVEMENT DESIRABLE.

An Ottawa despatch to some of the Montreal papers says that the attention of the Deputy Minister of Marine has been called lately by a club of fly fishermen to the fact that their fishing, somewhere in the vicinity of the Saguenay, is interfered with by net fishermen. Of course if the net fishermen are acting illegally they should be compelled to obey the law, but it is well to remember that the net fisherman is out for sport and the fly fisherman to earn his daily bread. There is illegal fishing that ought to be legal, and there is legal fishing that ought to be illegal. The law to often acts unjustly and harshly to those who have to live out of the fishery business, and there is a good deal of legislation in this respect which might be improved. It is made illegal to take fish—salmon—in the estuaries of the rivers with nets, but it is legal to take them with the rod almost and harshly to those who have to live out of the fishery business. This kind of discrimination has its justification, of course, but it does not make the man who is fishing for his daily bread feel very comfortable.—St. John Globe.

UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

One of the most remarkable newspaper issues ever produced was that of the Indian Daily News at Calcutta two days after the recent earthquake. The editor writes: "At a late hour on Sunday night we were compelled to stop all work and seek another press in order to bring out even a four-page paper, as our premises were condemned by a surveyor as totally unfit for habitation; the rain added to our difficulties, which were already sufficiently great. When the forms were going to press one of them accidentally broke, hence the absence of the third page. We write with a scorching sun blinding our desk, and in the most trying fast of a few hours' work of masonry creating in us. Owing to the accident the editor mentions, the third page was printed black, but the paper contained very full accounts of the earthquake, and a good selection of general news as well, which was a wonderful performance under the circumstances, even for an enterprising editor.

FOR THE KLONDYKE.

ONE THOUSAND MEN START FROM VICTORIA YESTERDAY.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 15.—There were in Victoria this morning 1000 men of every class, and from every part of the world, who were wildly anxious to get started on the long trip to the new Eldorado. These men had tickets which carry them to Skagway Bay on the big Collier Bristol, or on the steamer Islander, both of which sailed today. The Bristol has been fitted with bunks and stalls for horses from the bottom of her hold to the top of the cabin deck, and every bunk and stall is occupied close upon 1000 men going on the Bristol, and just as many horses and mules. Even the big collier is filled up.

THE CARE OF LAMPS.

"Lamps should be taken apart every day, and the reservoirs always kept filled. Lamps should be washed out every week with a little soda. A small brush should be used to keep the holes clear. The reservoirs should be rubbed with oil, it is much better to rub the wicks. Blow out the light by blowing across the chimney with the wick well turned down. Keep the wick below the tube when not lighted, or the wick will over. Gases collect in the reservoir of a lamp which is not kept full, and in this way there is danger of an explosion. The reservoir should be opened to allow the escape of the gas before the lamp is lighted, if it is to be used after standing partially-empty. If the wicks become gummy, they may be soaked in vinegar or washed and dried thoroughly.

"Chimneys may be tempered by putting in cold water and brought to a boil and allowed to remain to cool in the water. Care should be taken that the brass catches on the lamps are not too tight. A little coarse rock salt in the oil will make the lamp give a brighter, clearer flame. This can be done with lamps with glass bowls only. The salt is apt to eat a hole in metal.

"Chamois-skin makes a soft, durable dust. It can be kept clean by washing. It must be dried in the shade and rubbed soft. It will hold a little dampness, if desired, which is a satisfactory quality in a duster. Imitation chamois may be used."

MINERS WILL STARVE.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 16.—Daniel Gable, an old and experienced miner who was one of the first to join the rush to the Klondyke, has returned and tells a story calculated to deter them from going north in search of gold. There is hardly a trail in California, Arizona, Nevada or Montana with which Gable is not familiar. When the news of the gold strike reached this country Gable left his mines in Arizona and started for the Klondyke via Juneau and the Chilkoot pass.

Now he is back having sold his outfit which cost $25. He learned from many experienced mining men at Juneau and further up that it would be suicide to go before spring. He says: "The Alaskan mining men are positive that nearly all who are trying to get to Dawson city will be frozen en route until spring and that their fate is uncertain. I will not answer for the lives of the tenderfoot who are now going."

FIGHTING IN INDIA.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A despatch to the Times from Simla says that at least 3000 rifles men were engaged in yesterday's battle.

The batteries prevented them risking a fight at close quarters, but about 1000 held on for some time. Then as the infantry attacked they fled and when the other 3000 saw their line of retreat threatened, they moved rapidly away. Lt. Greaves of Lancashire Fusiliers and Lt. McLean adjutant of Guides were killed, and Captain Palmer was seriously wounded. Lt. McLean met his death while trying to carry away the body of Lt. Greaves. The despatch adds that the whole border seems to be in a state of frenzied unrest.

General Blood directed the centre of the attack, Colonel Meiklojohn occupying the heights to the right, of the enemy's position. The Swats were strongly entrenched and maintained a steady fire but the British column carried the entrenchment with great dash and the enemy fled. It is believed that General Blood will order a further advance to-day (Wednesday). There is no longer any doubt that the Afghis are deeply involved in the rebellion, which as yet is in no wise suppressed. Such retreat condition of things now that the slightest check to British arms would be the signal for a general revolt.

A SENSIBLE ARRANGEMENT.

The United States government has acted with excellent judgment in regard to the transit of goods across the narrow strip of land at the head of Lynn canal, and the enemy fled. It is believed that General Blood will order a further advance to-day (Wednesday). There is no longer any doubt that the Afghis are deeply involved in the rebellion, which as yet is in no wise suppressed. Such retreat condition of things now that the slightest check to British arms would be the signal for a general revolt.

IT IS BELIEVED THAT GENERAL BLOOD WILL ORDER A FURTHER ADVANCE TO-DAY (WEDNESDAY). THERE IS NO LONGER ANY DOUBT THAT THE AFGHIS ARE DEEPLY INVOLVED IN THE REBELLION, WHICH AS YET IS IN NO WISE SUPPRESSED. SUCH RETREAT CONDITION OF THINGS NOW THAT THE SLIGHTEST CHECK TO BRITISH ARMS WOULD BE THE SIGNAL FOR A GENERAL REVOLT.
