So to-day is Friday, the thirteenth! The first Friday to be noted as an unlucky day appears in the historical records as that occurring on Dec. 6, 1745, the day on which the news arrived in England that the Pretender had landed. The second was May 11, 1866, the culmination of the commercial panic in London, when Overend, Gurney & Co. stopped payment. The third was Sept. 21, 1869, in Wall street, New York, when a group of speculators forced the price of gold to 162, creating a ruinous panic. The superstition in regard to the thirteenth dates from the days of Roman auguries. Both Romans and Greeks were strong believers in the gods of chance, and their priests formulated these beliefs and traded on them. No general in those days thought of setting out on an important expedition without consulting the Augur to learn whether the day of the proposed start was propitious. The bowels of birds and small animals were helpful in discovering the outlook. After the priest had received a tender broiler from the seeker after knowledge, and had removed the broiler's head, and inspected the broiler's stomach and gizzard (and eaten the broiler's white and dark meat), he could give an expert opinion to the effect that the thirteenth was a bad day to start an expedition. So the expedition started on the fourteenth, and whether the general won or lost, the Augur had his white and dark meat.

RECORD FLIGHT.

Beat the Ten Mile Flight Made by Wright Bros.

Flew Beautifully For a While Then Glided to Land.

Mineola, L. I., Aug. 13.—What is said to be a record for cross country distance flight for an aeroplane in this country was made by C. Foster Willard in the Golden Flyer to-day, when he covered 12 miles in 19½ minutes. This exceeds the ten-mile flight made by the Wright brothers' aeroplane from Fort Myer to Alexandria and back several weeks ago. Much longer flights within a short circle, however, have been made by the Wrights and longer cross country flights have been made abroad. Mr. Willard, who has been making short flights almost daily in the machine belonging to the Aeronaut Society, started from Mineola at 5.26 a. m. to-day in an attempt to make a new world's record cross country flight. His route lay around the irregular square having four sides and carried him from Mineola over Garden City, Westbury and Hicksville, and back to Mineola, a distance of fourteen miles. A number of friends gathered to watch his flight. Willard sent the machine about 150 feet in the air and going off at a fast clip his machine was quickly a speck on the horizon. Soon it disappeared behind the trees, and for nearly ten minutes the watchers waited expectantly for fear of an accident, but hopeful for the aviator's success. Nearly fifteen minutes had elapsed when the speck again appeared miles away in the direction of Westbury. It was growing larger every minute, and the watchers began to grow impatient. The machine began to glide slowly downward and then landed in a field between Mineola and Westbury, about two miles from Mineola. Jumping into an automobile the watchers found Willard's machine undamaged by the landing, and with the aviator tinkering with the magneto. That part of the mechanism which provides the spark for the ignition of the gas was deranged, but Willard said the aeroplane glided easily to the ground and alighted without a mishap after the power was shut off.

The machine was returned to Mineola, where the trouble with the magneto could be remedied.

A PUBLIC BAKERY.

Budapest Expects to Bake 50,000 Loaves of Bread Daily.

Vienna, Aug. 13.—The city of Budapest in order to furnish good bread to the public at a cheap price has decided to establish a municipal bakery capable of producing 50,000 pounds of bread daily. This will be a public enterprise and is meant by competition to compel the general production of bread equally good and equally cheap—prices being based upon the actual price of wheat and flour—as that furnished by the municipality. This bakery will be a model one. Modern machinery will be used and all immediate contact by the workmen with the bread will be avoided. Besides this, the burgomaster says, the bakery by the wholesale purchase of flour and other articles of production will tend to reduce the price. The expense of building this municipal bakery will be $125,000, not including the value of the site. The rooms for preparing the dough, the baking rooms and the bread magazines are all spacious and well lighted. Near by are two groups of buildings, one containing the engine house, the electrical plant and places for storing and preparing potatoes, the Hungarian wheat being fond of bread made of wheat mixed with potatoes, and the other consisting of stables and coach houses. The bread will be sold partly in special shops belonging to the municipality and partly by private provision merchants at a price fixed by the municipality. Woman was created from the rib of a man, and if the styles demand that she get any thinner she's about all she will have left.

BLOODSHED AT FORT WILLIAM.

Strikers Make Fierce Attack on C. P. R. Police.

Six Police and Civilians Shot in the Fight.

Riot Act Read and Militia Called Out—Troops From Winnipeg.

THE WOUNDED.

BERGEANT TAYLOR, of the city police, only slightly.

C. M. DICKENSON, of the Times-Journal, slightly.

CONSTABLE BALL, of the C. P. R. police, seriously wounded in the abdomen.

CONSTABLE CARPENTER, C. P. R. constable, knee badly smashed.

C. P. R. CONSTABLE WILLIAMSON, slight wound on head.

JOHN LAKE, butcher at the coal docks, slightly wounded.

Two other constables slightly wounded.

Two strikers, Greeks, names unknown.

Fort William, Aug. 11.—For the first time in the history of Fort William the Riot Act was read by the Mayor and the militia called out. Of the latter there were 120, while thousands of Fort William citizens thronged the streets and heard the Mayor, the Chief of Police and Col. Steele address them, and the reading of the act which proclaimed the district under martial law. It is safe to say that never before were so many people in that district south of the main line of the C. P. R., for from the first crossing of Simpson street to the freight track crossing at the other end the sidewalks and streets were thronged with people so thick that it was hard to elbow a way through them. Since the trouble at noon comparative quiet obtained—a kind of armistice, which was not broken by either side—and throughout the afternoon vehicles of all descriptions, from automobiles to delivery rigs, besides hundreds of pedestrians, came to see the scene of the fray. None of them were molested and good order was kept. The number of wounded in this morning's encounter has crept up to 20, of whom includes two Greeks, George Anagnostis, a man who was arrested a few days ago, shot through the leg. George was without a weapon, but was one of the spectators. Many are in the hospital and several were attended at their homes by the doctors.

THE MILITIA IN CHARGE.

An air of expectancy all the afternoon was evident, as rumors had gone around that the militia had been called out, but it was not until after 8 o'clock that they put in an appearance. They were lined up on McTavish street from the freight shed crossing, facing both sides of the street, front and rear, and then from a box Mayor Pettit harangued the crowd, explaining that it was owing to the efforts of the police and the militia to make a settlement which had made necessary the calling out of the soldiers. He trusted that they would be quiet and orderly, and that there would be no further shooting. This was interpreted in various languages, the soldiers standing with fixed bayonets, pointing their rifles at the crowd which looked very formidable. The Mayor also urged the men to return to work, and all might be satisfactorily settled, and this was translated into the various tongues. The people greeted his remarks with cheers, and then his worship returned to the city hall. The police then cleared the street of all spectators, and the soldiers were left in possession of the field. Groups remained in front of houses, but by 9.30 p. m. everything was quiet.

BEGINNING OF THE TROUBLE.

About 9 o'clock this morning the C. P. R. brought in a large number of special constables, about thirty in all. They were taken first to the C. P. R. station, where they were sworn in, and headed by Mr. Andrews, Chief of the C. P. R. police, started for Colden street. At the corner of the C. P. R. sheds an immense crowd gathered, and it was plainly to be seen that they were out for trouble. The stout waiting for half an hour, when finally a bunch of C. P. R. policemen marched out and the crowd was ordered to disperse. The men were outside of the door when the shooting started. The first constables to come out were told to go back, and they immediately pulled their revolvers and threatened to shoot. One of the strikers in the front started to raise his stick and threatened to hit him, and the constables at once pulled their revolvers, and then there was a regular fusillade of shots.

RIFLES AND REVOLVERS USED.

Guns appeared as if by magic, and it was only a minute before there was a battle in progress. The strikers used revolvers first, and so did the police, who finally drove the strikers back somewhat, and managed to reach the shelter of cars drawn across the road at the entrance of the freight shed. The men with the rifles were encouraged by their fellow-strikers, and two or three could be seen in a group around a man with a gun, showing him how to shoot. Men were running back and forth in and out of the houses for ammunition, and as fast as it could be brought the shooting continued. The fusillade lasted fifteen minutes, until finally the men stopped shooting and quietness reigned again.

THE CASUALTIES.

The foreign strike leader received a bullet through his arm, while another was shot through the groin and is in a serious condition at the hospital. The known wounded are: Sgt. Taylor, of the city police, slightly; C. M. Dickenson, of the Times-Journal, slightly; Mr. Ball, of the C. P. R. police, seriously wounded in the abdomen; Carpenter, C. P. R. constable, knee badly smashed; Williamson, C. P. R. constable, slightly; John Lake, butcher at the coal docks, forehead grazed by a bullet, only slightly injured. Five of six others, names unknown.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

The 96th Regiment was called out for duty, and was on the scene shortly after noon. Mayor Reid read the riot act and martial law reigns in the district.

When the militia began to appear this afternoon the strikers, or rather the mob, made the threat that if the militia appeared every policeman on the street would be shot, and further, that the men who were sent to quell this afternoon was not released every city official would be murdered. It is also reliably reported that a well-known Italian has lately made the threat that he will shoot every policeman who enters the coal dock section saw fit to take the affairs of the city into its hands, the life of the chief of police would not be worth a cent.

C. P. R. officials notified the Mayor that they would now fight the strike out to the bitter end. No peace will be given until the strikers are well armed, as the fact that they are well armed, to the local police. The police arrested a strike picket two days ago, after a miniature riot, and found, as expected, that he had an automatic Colt pistol. He was released on paying $50. The future of the strike was that every man in the crowd was believed to be armed, but no further arrests were attempted.

Following an afternoon of riot and bloodshed, the like of which was never before seen in this city, Fort William is to-day under martial law, with a force of two hundred of the 96th Regiment from both Fort Arthur and Fort William patrolling the streets and coal dock section, the centre of the trouble area, in connection with the strike of Canadian Pacific dock laborers, which has been in progress since Monday morning last. In a pitched battle between police and strikers about the noon hour some ten men were wounded. At first it was thought that many of the wounds were serious, while reports were sent around that there had been deaths, but a survey of the situation in the quiet of this evening shows that there have been no deaths, and there are not likely to be, for only one injury at all serious was fatal. It is the belief of the police that the C. P. R. force, who was the central figure in the outbreak of the riot, the constable received a bullet in the abdomen, the first fired in the riot, but it is stated from the hospital that he will survive unless complications set in, and that he is making good progress.

CALL FOR THE MILITIA.

Immediately following the outbreak of the riot this afternoon Mayor Pettit, with Justices of the Peace P. McCellar and G. W. Brown, issued the call for the militia. Then Mayor Pettit went to the docks and read the riot act. At that time the battle had subsided and the strikers were comparatively quiet. A chance was given for a renewal of the riot, but the scene, and order has prevailed ever since. Colonel Steele, district officer commanding, who was in the city for an inspection of the Ninety-Sixth Regiment, took complete charge, with the militia, and the complete patrol system is in effect about the docks to-night. Two hundred mounted militiamen are coming from Winnipeg, and are expected to arrive about 3 a. m. They will relieve the local police, and the strikers will find the property of the company which they have been threatening all week, well guarded to-morrow morning.

MOUNTED RIFLES FROM WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—At 6 o'clock this evening fifty men of the R. C. M. R., Strathcona's Horse, left in a special for Fort William. The men had discarded their red jackets, despite the prestige of the traditional British uniform, and were in field service uniforms, with a double allowance (300 rounds) of ammunition.

BABY'S ESCAPE.

Mother Gave Her Poison in Mistake For Medicine.

Toronto, Aug. 3.—Suffering from the effects of hydrochloric acid poisoning, Cora Gascoigne, two and a half years old, was taken to the Hospital for Sick Children last night in a serious condition. The doctors at the hospital worked over the child for several hours, and early this morning she was reported to be considerably improved, and hopes are held out for her recovery. The little girl's parents board at 883 King street west. Last night she was taken ill, and her mother went in search of medicine. The boarding mistress was out, and Mrs. Gascoigne found a bottle of liquid that she thought was medicine gave the child about a half drachm. When the little girl's screams told her that something was wrong, the mother called in a physician, who found the child suffering from poison. He administered emetics and sent the little sufferer to the hospital.
