According to the Bank State-ment for October, under the heading, "Loans to Provincial Governments," $130,609 were due to the Merchants Bank of Halifax, and $54,216 to the Merchants Bank of P. E. Island.

In the report of the liberal convention which has been published in pamphlet form, it takes a whole page to hold the resolution on the trade question, and there isn't a liberal in Canada who can tell what the resolution meanswhether it is for free trade, fair or some other kind. If the party had desired to tell what its policy was, it could have done so in quarter the space with four times the plainness and clearness.

There is nothing more sickening in Canadian politics than the phraisaical professions of the so-called liberal party as to their honesty, purity and virtue. They have been caught red handed in every species of dirt that is known to the history of politics; indeed the record of the courts is one that should make any liberal blush: but this does not lessen for a moment the "purity cry" of these men, a cry in which their own followers in the country long ago have lost all manner of confidence, and which to the people generally is but a subject of jesting. A man that will lecture a crowd of men upon the value of honesty, the while an accomplice is stealing their hats, is a king to men who will claim the possession of every political virtue known to men and angels the while their agents are everywhere endeavor ing to corrupt the electorate.
