An enthusiustic Nebraska editor says; "Nine months of the year in Nebraska is summer, and the rest is mighty late in the spring. ("Corn bread?" said an Irish waiter; "We haven't got it; and isn't it corn bafe, you mane?" An old bachelor editor thus, in his an ejg peopelor editor thus, in his spite, comments on a recent monlight-incident; "We left our sanctun at midnight last night, and on, our way house we saw younglady and goutleman gentleman holding states on its hinges. They wass evidently sudiament at being out so late, and we saw them bite each other several times. A diminutive piece of masculine conceit was nicely put down the other events. He was detailing to a lady how me of our most noted belies made now the or un most noted belies and taken his arm our the syenue on Sandy evening. I don't know what people would have thought, I'm sure, he said, with the air of a lady-kriler. 'Oh! don't alarm yourself, Mr. 'was the raply; 'they probably took you for her little boy." SCRIPTURE BLOGRAPHY-An oid school master who usually heard his puries once a-week though Watts Scripture History, and afterwards asked them promiscuonaly such questions as suggested themselves to his mind, one day desired a young urchin to tell him who Jessie was; when the boy briskly replied, "The Flower of Dundlane, sir." "What a nuisence!" exclaimed gortlemen at a characteristic and a gortlemen at a characteristic and a gortlemen at a characteristic and a form from the characteristic and a form of the characteristic and the form of the characteristic and the characteristic a "PRAY, sir, of what profession are you?" sked Mr. Edwin James, of a witness who who was deemed not very respectable.
"Sir, I am a shoemaker and wise merchant." "A wint, sir?" said the learned connact. "A wine merchant and shoemaker." "Then," said Mr. James, A little probin who gas sent to meet his father and bring him home on payday, was induced to enterthe tabernacie of Bacchus. The novelty of the scene entertained himfor alittle, but at length being out of patience, and having little hope of getting his father home until he had got his usual, he, knocking his father significantly on the elbow, exclaimed—"Haste ye, father, an' get drunk, an' come awa' hame." FINE AND CAUTION .- At the River Baile Court in Glasgow, an individual was brought to the barfor a breach of the Harbor and River Police Regulations. The presiding judge fined the offender in half a guinea. The culprit, as usual, pled in mitigation of the penalty. Na na," said the implacable magistrate, "if, ye think it ower dear, dinna come back A PASSIONATE MAN .- Fletcher, of Salton, is well known to have possessed a most irritable temper. His footman desired to be dismissed. "Why do you desiret leaveme?" said he. "Because, to speak the truth, I cannot bear your temper." "To be sure, I am passi but my passion is no sooner on than it's off," "Yes," replied the servant, "but it's no sooner off than it's on." NoDange, Cooke, the actor, while one-doighting the Scotch with his intmitable performance, and the night being very hot, and the tragedian having acted his best, towards the close of the evening felt not a little fatigued. The manager perceived this, and between the scenes he took the actor into his dressing room, and unlocked a corprosed selected a small thintle class and filling it with whisky. and unlocked a copposard selected a small thistle glass, and filling it with whisky, said, "Here, Maister Sunk, I diuna think 'will hurt ya." "No," said George, glancing at the size of the glass? "no, my friend, not if it were vitriol." "no, my friend, not if it were vitriol."

A good jake is told in Washington at the expense of a well-known Senator, who is notorious for taking two cocktails in succession before breakfast. One morning, while the Senator was practicing at the Metropolitan ber, a friend put to him the pertiaent question:
"Senator, why you take two cocktails as a custom? Won's one tone you?" The Senator drew himself up: "I will tell you why I take two cocktails. When I have taken one it makes me feel like another man. Well, you see I'm bound by common courtesy to treat that man; so I take a second." Household Receipts. By JOSH BILLINGS. MAKES THE WEAK STRONG

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and selections, and teaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhosa, Bolls, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution. thousands have even changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
