In the case of many of these words there's a reason. Some movement or some event has brought them into average person have run across that prominence. "Efficiency," of course, comes from the "efficiency engineer" year. And to-day, anyone who reads movement; "conservation," from the western conservation talk; and "strenuous," well, I'm quite sure "Efficiency in business," "efficiency in don't need to mention the source of school organization," "efficiency in that word's prominence. Other words seem to spring into popularity for no apparent reason, much in the inexplicable manner in which styles in other things appear.

Thus, even in words, we are all bellwethered and follow meekly after each other; so even in words we must have a change of style, and the only thing which is always in fashion is change of fashion.

As explained above these troubles are of local origin, and require local treatment. It is just as sensible to take medicine internally for female troubles as it would be to take medicine internally for a bruise, a boil or an ulcerated tooth. In all these cases some dead matter is being retained, and the cure is effected by employing local methods for expelling the dead matter. Despising her proud sway, An iceberg lies in wait
And rams her ribs; headlong
She plunges to her fate!

Some sixteen hundred souls She buries in the deep; The Floating Palace is The shroud wherein they sleep.

The pride of man is crushed; His heart by anguish torn; Anticipating joy, He turns away to mourn.

Huge waves of sorrow roll; Yet, while men dare the sea, The sea will claim its toll. Great tragedies call forth
The basest, and the best;
Of what men really are

To-day we crown those men.
So strong, big-hearted, brave,
Who sacrificed themselves
Those quite unknown to save.

We mid our sorrow pause
And draw a full deep breath
To sing the praise of men
Who dying, conquered death!

Men will remember them;
Yea, the wind and waves,
Will chant their regulem!
