

Why Not Give to Your Child The Treatment Your Mother Gave You

It is just as effective as ever in relieving coughs and colds, and still holds first place as the most popular of cough medicines.

Colds and Bronchitis

Mrs. Chris Dresser, Bayfield, Ont., writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine in our household for some time, and have always received good results. I have used it for my children as well as for myself for colds and bronchitis, and we find it gives immediate relief. Three bottles of this medicine once relieved me of an obstinate cold when doctor's medicine had failed. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine, and would not be without it in the house. If you can make any use of this letter you are at liberty to do so."

Asthma

Mr. Thomas Bond, Shelldrake, North Shore, Que., writes: "I suffered for years with asthma, sometimes being unable to lie in bed, but after a treatment of Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine, I am now quite well and thank this medicine for restoring me."

The Herring Fishery.

SCOTCH PACK WILL BE LESS THAN HALF OF LAST SEASON.

(Western Star.)
At Bay of Islands the herring fishery has been in full operation the past week. The fish have been plentiful both in the Middle and North Arms and the packers have been kept busy with all they could handle, and on some occasions fishermen have found it difficult to dispose of their catches. Schooners seeking salt bulk have had no trouble to secure fish and one vessel one day last week took seven hundred barrels. One schooner, the Louise R. Silva was ready to sail on Monday. She had half salt bulk and half barreled herring. The auxiliary schooner Gaspé will be ready to sail on Friday. There are several others now in the Arms, and one or two more are on the way here. There are two vessels here for frozen cargoes, and several others are expected. Three buyers of "Scotch Pack" have arrived. Their report of the market in New York is not very encouraging. None but full fish is required. Packers find that only about fifty per cent. of the herring taken can be packed for the Scotch method market, owing to the large quantity of empty fish. The large and medium empty fish are being split and salted by local method. Every indication points that the pack this season by the Scotch method will be less than half of last season.

The American schooner Hazel R. Hines is due here to load salt bulk herring for Gloucester. The schr. Donald Silver has been chartered by E. Baggis Ltd., to take away a load of salt bulk herring. The schooners Governor Foss and Thos. S. Gorton arrived last week from Gloucester, and will load herring for the Bay of Islands Fisheries Company.

Sagona Back

From Straits.

After a voyage of continued storms the S.S. Sagona, Capt. Taverner, reached the S. Straits on Monday evening from the Straits, says the Western Star of Wednesday, Nov. 22nd. Although the trip occupied 13 days, only two fine days were experienced during that time. The ship, however, made all ports both going and returning. She reports winter conditions on Labrador. The ship handled big freight throughout the trip and upon arriving at Bonne Bay she was filled to the hatches. A portion was landed there and other taken on board so that she was loaded upon her arrival here. The ship brought along a number of passengers. It is not expected she will be ready to go north again until after to-day.

Wages in States

Continue Upward.

COMPETITION IS TAKEN AS REFLECTING IMPROVED BUSINESS CONDITION.

Wages continue to show upward swing in the United States, according to the National Industrial Conference Board, New York. The most numerous increases, the statement says, occurred in the clothing and textile industries, influenced by the restoration of pre-strike wages in important New England mills. Increases took place in the copper mines of Arizona and Montana, due to a shortage of common labor, reflecting the effect of the immigration restrictions, which are widely felt. The metal trades show a large number of increases, mostly to molders, who are working on a sliding scale. Increases to shopmen and other classes of railroad labor above the rates laid down by the Railroad Labor Board have also been granted by individual firms. All these changes are considered to evidence a growing competition for labor in industrial centers in face of rapidly improving business activity.—Financial Post.

LAUSANNE, Nov. 24.—Elipheos Venizelos, former Premier of Greece, and M. Stamboulyski, Bulgarian Prime Minister, faced each other at today's session of the Near Eastern conference, when an effort was made to reach an agreement on Bulgaria's claim to an outlet into the Aegean Sea. Both men showed great emotion. Stamboulyski was holding out for actual possession of the port of Dedeagatch, contending that no other way could Bulgaria be guaranteed free commerce. ## "Suspicious Wives" at Nickel Theatre.

MOLLIE KING AGAIN IN THE LIMELIGHT.

As advertised elsewhere in this issue the Nickel Theatre offers on Monday another big attraction. This picture is perhaps, the most interesting yet seen this season. Another point worth mentioning is that the dainty and popular Mollie King will be seen in the leading role. The story in brief is as follows:

James Brunton's wife, Molly, believing she has found her husband to be unfaithful, leaves him without asking an explanation. The "other woman," however, is Brunton's sister-in-law, whom he is supporting. In his search for his wife Brunton is hurt and temporarily blinded in an automobile accident. He is carried to the very house in which his wife has secreted herself. She nurses him back to health without his recognizing her until, when his sight is restored the sister-in-law appears on the scene, an explanation is made, and Brunton and his wife are reconciled.

The Jack Sheppard of France.

The Parisian apach is not a new figure in the annals of French criminology. Louis Dominique Cartouche, whose exploits rivaled those of the legendary "Jack Sheppard," was born in Paris in 1693, the son of a cooper, and at the age of twelve he was carried off by a strolling acrobat. This was the beginning of an adventurous life which ended on the scaffold. He joined a band of rogues, who shortly afterwards began to terrorize the capital. Cartouche took the lead, and it was said that the organization of his band was superior to that of the police, the gang including innkeepers, discharged soldiers, even gamblers, and also forty women. It constituted a formidable band of rogues as was ever known to exist, plundering all over France with impunity for several years. In 1720 Paris was in a state of panic, and the Government determined to take steps to exterminate the pests. Not only was a reward of twenty thousand francs offered for the body of Cartouche, alive or dead, but the band was inexorably hunted down, and several of its members shot. This made Cartouche more desperate, and instead of merely robbing, he committed murder on the slightest pretext. At last he was betrayed by one of his lieutenants. When first imprisoned he almost succeeded in escaping by making a hole in the floor of his cell, and penetrating into a neighbouring cellar, but the barking of a dog led to his detection. He was brought to trial with all possible dispatch lest he should make another and more successful attempt to escape. The remainder of the band, numbering three hundred and sixty-one were captured soon afterwards. Cartouche was hanged on the 26 of November, 1721, before an immense crowd of citizens, who shouted for joy when the last breath had left the ruffian's body. nov23,24,25
