Dr. McTaggar, of London, Ont., formerly of the Hamilton Infirmery, will be at the Royal Hotel, Guelph, on Thursday, Epiday and Saturday, the 11th, 12th and 13th of December, where he can be consulted professionally. Having long and carefully studied theoretically and practically all kinds of chronic diseases, and having had every class and character to treat at the Infirmary—all diseases are treated to the best possible advantage. He rejects in the most decided manner, and in every instance, all madicines, be they vegetable or mineral, that are capable of producing mischief or incompatible with organic tissue, such as mercury, lead, zinc, &cc; coutending that every character of disease, if curable at all, will yield to those agents which are mild in nature and capable of neutralizing and rendering harmless that morbific matter in the circulation which engenders and supports disease, The remedies he employs are less depressing to the vital powers, more in harmony with the efforts of nature, and attended with better success than the generally adopted system of medicine. They are prepared upon scientific principles prepared by time, study and research, for the special cure of all lingering chronic diseases. Some of the most important and serious of which we here mention, and in which his treatment has proved to be signally successful, viz: All diseases of the lungs, throat, heart, and chest, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis, all diseases of the nerves, atrophy, curvature and other diseases of the spine, convulsions, cramps and spasms, goitre or enlarged neck, epilepsy, disease of the mind, melancholy, &c., consumption in its first and second stages, dyspepsia, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, &c., sercolula and all other skin diseases, turn rs and morbid growths, ulcers, foul and indobent sores. Cancers are effectually cured without theuse of the knife, and hernia or rupture without an operation or pain. Other diseases of a graver nature might be given but it is deemed quite unnecessary. Special attenti professionally.
