greeting her as she passes: "Hail! Hail! Queen Vashti."

Again! I want you to consider Vashti the veiled. Had she appeared before Ahasuerus and his court on that day with her formatter. that day, with her face uncovered, she would have shocked all the delicacies of Oriental society, and the very men who in their intoxication demanded that she come, in their sober moments would have despised her. As some flowers seems to thrive best in the dark lane and in the shadow, and where the sun does not seem to reach them, so God appoints to most womanly natures a retiring and unobtrusive spirit. God once in a while does call an Isabella to a throne, or Miriam to strike the timbrel at the front of the host, or a Marie Antointte to quell a French mob, or a armed battalion, crying out, This is the day in which the heroic positions, God prepares them for it; and they have iron in their souls and lightning in their eye, and whirlwinds in their breath, and the borrowed strength of the Lord Omnipotent in their right arm. They walk brough furnaces as though they were hedges of wild flowers, and cross seas as though they were shim-mering sapphire; and all the harples of hell fall down to their dungeons at he stamp of her womanly indignation. v Dorcas would rather make a garment for the poor boy; Rebecca would rather fill the trough for the camels; Hannah would rather make a coat for Samuel: the Hebrew maid would Cure, $50, at Anderson & Nelles' drug rather give a prescription for Nag-

It's the best thing for the hair under all circumstances. Just as no man by taking thought can add an inch to his stature, so no preparation can make hair. The utmost that can be done is to promote conditions favorable to growth. This is done by Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, cleanses the scalp, nourishes the soil in which the hair grows, and, just as a desert will blossom under rain, so bald heads grow hair, when the roots are nourished. But the roots must be there. If you wish your hair to retain its normal color, or if you wish to restore the lost tint of gray or faded hair use man's leprosy; the woman of Sarepta would rather gather a few sticks to cook a meal for famished Elijah. Phoebe would rather carry a letter for the inspired apostle; Mother Lois would rather educate Timothy in the Scriptures. When I see a woman going about her daily duty-with cheerful dignity presiding at the table, with kind and gentle, but firm discipline presiding in the nursery, going out in to the world without any blast of trumpets, following in the footsteps of him who went about doing good—I say, "This is Vashti with a veil on." But when I see a woman of unblushing boldness, loudter-clatter, with arrogant look, passing through the streets with the step of a walking-beam, gayly attired in a very hurricane of millinery, I cry out: "Vashti has lost her veil." Again: I want you to consider Vashti the sacrifice. Who is this I see coming out of the palace gate of Shushan? It seems to me that I have seen her before. She comes homeless. houseless, friendless, trudging along with a broken heart. Who is she? It is Vashti the sacrifice. O, what a change it was from regal position to a wayfarer's crust. A little while ago, approved and sought for; now, none so poor as to acknowledge her acquaintanceship. Vashti the sacrifice! Ah, you and I have seen it many a time. Here is a home empalaced with beauty. All that refinement and books and wealth can do for that home has been done; but Ahasuerus, the husband and the father, is taking hold on paths of sin. He is gradually going down. Soon the bright apparel of the children will turn to rags; soon the household song will become the sobbing of a broken heart. God forbid that any evil spirit born of the wine cup or the brandy glass should come forth and uproof that garden, and with a lasting, tering, all-consuming curse, shut forever the palace gates against Vashti

Once again: I want you to look at Vashti the silent. You do not hear mothers, many of them gone into goes forth from this woman as she glory?—or of that woman mentioned goes forth from the palace gate. From in the Scriptures, who put all her the very dignity or her nature, you money into the Lord's treasury?—or know there will be no vociferation. Sometimes in life it is necessary to demonstration of unselfish patriotism? make a retort; sometimes in life it —or of Abigail, who rescued the herds is necessary to resist; but there are crises when the most triumphant Ruth, who toiled under a tropical sun thing to do is to keep silence. The philosopher, confident in his newlydiscovered principle, waiting for the coming of more intelligent genera-sions, waiting for long years through the scoffing of philosophical schools, in grand and magnificent silence. A wife, abused, persecuted and a perpetual exile from every earthly comfort-waiting, waiting until the Lord shall gather all his dear children in a heavenly home, and no poor Vashti will ever be thrust out from the palace gate.

O, woman! Does not this story Vashti the queen, Vashti the veiled, Vashti the sacrifice, Vashti the silent, move your soul? My sermon converges into the one absorbing hope that none of you may be shut out of the palace gate of heaven. You can endure the hardships and the privations and the cruelties and the misfortunes of this life, if you can only gain admission there. Through the blood of the everlasting covenant, you go through these gates or never go at all. God forbid that you should at last be banished from the society of angels, and banished from companionship of your glorified kindred, and banished forever. Through the rich grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, may you be enabled to imitate the example of Rachel, and Hannah, and Abigail, and Deborah, and Mary and Esther, and Vashti, Amen!
