The Second Division.

The second division in the House of Commons was even more favorable to the new Government than the first. In the initial counting of votes, there was a majority of 34 in Premier Laurier's favor. In the division last night the Government had a majority of 37.

It was a mistake of Sir Charles Tupper to divide the House in an attempted condemnation of the new Government because it took reasonable steps to provide the necessary funds with which to pay the employees of the country. It was known to all that but for the mismanagement of the late Government such a contingency would never have arisen, and the debate and division but made that fact more manifest.

Mr. Foster, the late Finance Minister, not to be outdone in rashness by his leader, persisted in dividing the House on a motion to condemn the new Ministers for not bringing down a brand new trade policy in a few days. The House of Commons was in no humor to accept the view of the foolish campers, and we feel assured that the country will indorse the decision arrived at.

Nothing could be more detrimental to the welfare of Canada than the carrying out of the advice of the defeated and discredited politicians who are now in Opposition. The country will give the Ministers reasonable time to prepare their policy, and no interest will suffer, because careful inquiry precedes necessary legislation.

The United States pension list is now believed to have reached its maximum. There was on the roll of civil war pensioners on June 30 last 970,678 persons. But from this time, the numbers will steadily decrease. Last year over 44,000 pensioners died, but the putting on of "held-overs" increased the list by several thousands. But for the money expended in pensions, the taxes of the people over the border would be very low.

Room for the Right Men.

The season's immigration into Canada last year is shown to be ten per cent less than in the year 1894-95. With next spring, however, we hope to see a very large influx of hardy settlers and capitalists, prepared to go west and grow up with the country. There is abundance of room for profitable development both in Northwest Ontario and in Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia.

Sir Mackenzie Gets Even.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who was ousted from the Conservative leadership by the "nest of traitors," as he called them, is getting even with Sir Charles Tupper. Sir Mackenzie has now resumed full control of the Belleville intelligencer, and this is what he says of the recommendations made to his Excellency by the Tupper Government:

"Some of the recommendations made by the late Ministry after the 23rd of June last may have been quite proper; if so the country has a right to require from the Opposition that the blame for their non-ratification be put on the right shoulders. Some of their recommendations, however, were, it is now known, hopelessly indefensible, and an assent thereto would have been as unworthy the dignity of the crown as their proposal was humiliating to the great party that is unfortunately held responsible for them."

Does any reasonable man support the Tupper trade against the representative of her Majesty?

Bad Advice.

In a recent speech in Parliament Mr. Davin, a Conservative M.P., who is in the House by virtue of the casting vote of a returning officer, urged Premier Laurier to get rid of Hon. Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works.

Mr. Laurier should do no such thing. The late Hon. Isaac Buchanan, a shrewd politician, used to say it down, as a fixed rule, to a political leader, that he should discover what his enemy wanted him to do, and then do the opposite. Moreover, the member for Pile o' Bones is scarcely a safe counselor.

Extending Our Trade.

High hopes are entertained that in the near future Canada's trade relations with other countries will be much improved. The latest development is the statement that a new steamship line, to be run by British capitalists, will be put on between Vancouver, B. C., and New Zealand.

Canada cannot have too many strings to her bow.

Work Ahead to Benefit All.

The Dominion House of Commons' committee on agriculture have under consideration an important report drawn up by a committee of members of the House directly interested in farming. This report points out that the agricultural class forms at once the greatest producers and the largest consumers of any class in the Dominion, and that upon its prosperity depends the prosperity of Canada as a whole. Therefore it is argued that farmers should only be called upon to pay their fair share of taxation. It is demonstrated that the high protective system has injured the farmer, and the committee holds that the tariff should be readjusted notwithstanding the loss inevitable that must follow from the recurrence to a wiser system. The committee protests against railway discrimination, and speaks favorably of a railway commission to govern freight rates. It argues in favor of providing for the shipping of Canadian cattle by United States ocean ports as well as by Canadian, so as to insure competing rates. The committee strongly supports the establishment of cold storage. This is its view of the benefits of the system:

"In the opinion of the committee it is not too much to say, taking one thing with another, articles which from their perishable character, cannot be shipped, and articles which, although now sold for export, suffer much from climatic causes and natural decay, whereby their value is reduced fully one-half (which cold storage would avoid), that the value of the farm products, including in this term the widest significance of animals and goods produced on the farm, would be increased fully 25 per cent. The committee have been led to adopt this conclusion by the reflection that meats, cheese, fruit, poultry, butter and eggs would benefit to an extent that it is difficult to exaggerate. For such a result a reasonable expenditure is surely warranted, and on public grounds can be fully justified. The scheme to be a success involves the establishment of cold storage warehouses in central parts of the Provinces and of the Northwest, and what may be considered a cold storage chain of communication reaching therefrom to the important centers where food products are in demand and command the highest prices in the motherland."

The committee is of opinion that these results cannot be attained, in a reasonably short time, without Government aid, such as has been supplied by the Australian colonies and by Denmark. It is conceded to be fair that the railways should be induced, by reasonable subsidies, to run trains so as to accommodate the new cold storage traffic, and that ocean steamships should be likewise rewarded for providing the necessary accommodation, and in return it is proposed that the Government shall ask for a guarantee that reasonable freight rates shall be charged. Attached to the cold storage warehouses in some places there should be slaughter houses, where animals unsuitable for export alive might be properly prepared for transportation as dead meat.

If it is possible to insure it with safety, the committee suggest that the regulations requiring new stock coming into Canada to be quarantined for many days, should be relaxed, being now virtually prohibitive. "Surely," says the report, "animals imported from countries where no epidemic exists might be allowed through our ports on it being shown that the animal itself was free from disease when shipped, and was in condition on arrival to pass a veterinary examination as to its condition of health." To another important project the committee refers as follows:

"A matter of no inconsiderable moment has been under consideration by the committee, viz., the establishment of abattoirs in different parts of the Dominion. The benefits which would accrue from them would be the utilization of every part of the animal when slaughtered, some of which now goes to waste, the canning of meats, which in parts of the United States has become a great industry, and the encouragement this would give the farmer to increase his herds, and to abandon a practice, now too prevalent, of killing his young stock because found unprofitable to bring to maturity. The committee has been impressed by the great value that such enterprises would be to the community, but, thinking it wiser in seeking Government aid to err on the side of safety, has not felt warranted in doing more than drawing attention to the subject, in the hope that if the cold storage system should prove to be successful, means would not be wanting to aid what may be considered a sister undertaking."

It is apparent that Parliament and progressive farmers and traders have plenty of work ahead if they are to keep this country to the front in the race for the supply of food for the British people.

Since January last 8,000 Canadian horses have been sold in Great Britain. There is always a demand in the motherland for good horses. But it is worse than useless to send "culis."

The Street Car Fender.

The ideal street car fender has not yet been discovered, if we accept the testimony of the president of the New York State Railway Association. In his annual address, he said:

"The question of fenders is still confronting us and is a most perplexing problem. More patents for street car fenders have been granted during the past few years than for any other class of inventions. It is stated on good authority that there are upwards of 4,000 on the market, and I dare not estimate the number left in the brain of would-be inventors. It is the opinion of many street railway men that the fender is a menace. I stated last year, and still believe, that the best fender for the front end of a car is a clear-headed motor-man."

These remarks emphasize the necessity for street railway companies employing the best available men to man their cars, and prove the wisdom of the pedestrian or driver who keeps as far as possible from the fender end of a moving car.

A WESTERN EDITOR'S TROUBLE.

Dreaden Times.
The London Advertiser wants a new coin to replace the 6-cent piece. The pieces are so small, says the 'Tiser, that in the pocket they are hard to get at. This may be true; especially with editors whose pockets are built big to carry exchanges, but with most of us the difficulty is to get at the 6-cent pieces that are out of the pocket.

BLESSINGS FROM SCIENCE.

Cincinnati Post.
Prof. Norton, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has succeeded in getting Roentgen photographs of the liver, heart and lungs sufficiently plain to admit of medical examination. This makes diagnosis almost a sure thing. Heretofore the best that human knowledge could do was to reason by induction and take chances on probabilities. Tables played, for instance, that certain symptoms, in 700 cases out of 1,000 carefully reported, are the results of well known causes—organic or functional derangements. The surgeon cuts to the liver to verify his suspicions, and in seven cases out of ten he finds they are correct. But in three cases he finds that he is wrong and hastily sews up the patient, probably only to open up another region and examine the heart or lungs, each time seriously endangering a life and not infrequently causing immediate death. The Roentgen rays, as now utilized by Prof. Norton, afford a far more reliable risk. A stone in the liver, a clot in the heart or a consolidation in the lungs can now be found without subjecting the sufferer to the least inconvenience. With the exception of the battle with disease is half won. It only remains for the physician to employ the Roentgen rays to find the rest. What inestimable benefactions are the discoveries of Roentgen, Pasteur and such scientific lights.

The eventful history of the Comstock Lode and the Sutro Tunnel will be told in a fully illustrated article on Nevada silver, which Charles Howard Shinn is to contribute to Appleton's Popular Science Monthly for October.

The Fighting Factious.

Gold and Silver Democrats Demonstrating in New York.

Big Sound Money Meeting—Bryan Greeted by Thousands.

New York, Sept. 24.—Madison Square Garden was crowded to overflowing last night, when the candidates of the National Democratic party faced a metropolitan audience and opened the campaign for the sound money Democracy in the Empire State. An hour before the meeting the garden was a scene of confusion, and at 7:30 a thousand people were standing at the back of the seats on the main floor and in the galleries. The audience was one of the best appearing that has been drawn together by any political meeting in this city. A large number of ladies were present. In marked contrast to the meeting when Candidate Bryan spoke, there were many Democrats of prominence present. The audience was greeted by well known names, and cheered them as they made their way to their seats. The garden was decorated with flags and bunting.

BRYAN IN NEW YORK.
New York, Sept. 24.—W. J. Bryan delivered three speeches in this city last night before immense audiences. He spoke first in the Academy of Music, next to an overflow meeting outside, and later addressed a large gathering of workmen in the upper part of the city. A solid mass of humanity packed the Academy of Music. The streets surrounding the Academy were blocked with a disappointed throng, who straggled and sought to gain admittance to see the Democratic standard-bearer. The crowd in the theater was a demonstrative one. There were frequent cheers for Bryan, Sewall and Altgeld, and hisses and groans when some one asked "What's the matter with McKinley?" A similar demonstration greeted the question, "What's the matter with Hanna?" The name of David B. Hill was also derisively called from the gallery, and was loudly hissed.

THE E. B. A.

Annual Convention in Ottawa—Invited to Stratford.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—The 20th annual convention of the Emerald Beneficial Association met in St. Patrick's Hall yesterday at nine o'clock, where they were met by Rev. Father Whalen, who welcomed the delegates. Grand President Carey presented his annual address, which was referred to a special committee. Secretary-Treasurer Lane next presented his report, which was referred to the auditors. The number of delegates present is 50, many of whom brought their wives with them. In the morning the delegates extended mass at St. Bridget's. In the afternoon the delegates devoted their time to proposed changes in the constitution and bylaws. The most important change is the centralization of the local sick funds in the Grand Branch. Mayor Davidson, of Stratford, invited the E. B. A. to hold their next convention in that city.

NEVER HEARD OF

A Single Instance in Which Dodd's Kidney Pills Failed to Cure Kidney Disease.

Mount Forest, Sept. 21.—The proprietor of the Queen's Hotel of this town declares that he has every reason to believe that the claim made by the people who are advertising and selling Dodd's Kidney Pills is true. These people were the first to inform and instruct him as to the cause of his long continued suffering from extreme nervousness. He says that, "unable to obtain any relief from other sources, that it was on account of reading the particulars of their cures that his confidence was gained." Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills were all that were required to complete his cure.
