Councillor Andrews moved that the amount mentioned as sinking fund in the estimates for 1895, $1,061, be placed in the Molsons Bank to the credit of the village as a sinking fund.

Mr. Hamilton seconded, but the reeve vetoed the motion out of order, stating that it should have been done when the rate was struck. "You have got your necks in a loop," said the reeve.

Mr. Hamilton—Regarding the hole we are in, we will not ask you to unloose the knot.

The Reeve—No, the people will get you out of this.

Mr. Hamilton—You tried this before.

The Reeve—None of your impertinence. I rule this out of order.

The ruling was appealed against and upset and the motion carried.

George C. Jolly was appointed village auditor, vice, Henry S. Milligan, resigned. The Gun Club license was fixed at $10 a year.

The Problem Solved.

At Christmas time almost every person is confronted with the query "What shall I buy for presents?" There is hardly anything in the usual line that a buyer of any experience has not purchased already, and naturally many of the vast army of holiday shoppers would thankfully receive any intimation as to the proper thing to buy. That the prevailing trend of the public taste is for decorative plants, none would deny had they stood for a short while in Gammage's elegantly appointed store yesterday and watched the avidity with which plants of this description were being purchased. The place was a perfect bower of majestic looking palms and ferns, forming a pleasing contrast to the dull gray world without.

"Our season opened much earlier this year," explained Mr. Gammage, in the course of a chat with the buyer of any representative. "And the demand for decorative plants increases as Christmas draws nigh."

"People easily recognize the superiority of these plants over flowering plants as gifts," continued Mr. Gammage, "they last so much longer and give so much better satisfaction. Then they are never out of place and are equally serviceable at marriages, birthday celebrations, parties and all kinds of social functions."

Thus decorative plants are becoming more popular. They are things of beauty and a joy, if not forever, for a great deal longer period than either cut flowers or blooms.

The Top Notch of Style

Isn't always the most tasteful, after all. A man's build and shape must be considered. A tailor isn't a good tailor unless he knows what sort of cut will look the most stylish on the tall man and the short man, the fat and the lean. And the pattern of the goods themselves is another important thing to decide. Our experience and knowledge of clothes is at the public service.

Our garments are made and sold on honor.

Collegiate Conversazione Draws a Big Crowd.

And There Is Rejoicing in the Institute Literary Society.

At an Expense of $400 the Risk Was Great—A Gaily Decorated School and Splendid Programme.

Probably no one scanned the corner of the paper set apart for the report of the weather man on Thursday night so anxiously as did the Collegiate Institute pupils, who for the past month had been preparing for last night's conversazione. They had talked about the coming event in school, to the terror of the teachers, and out of school, to the weariness of the good folks at home, until everyone from the grocer's young man, who came occasionally, to sister Mary's young man, who called regularly and stayed late, knew about the conversazione. And then to read: "Probabilities—Unsettled; continued mild, with rain and increasing easterly winds!"

It was enough to cause uneasiness to older heads. They were at a large expense—$400. This had to be settled—even supposing the weather should remain unsettled. And when last evening came, and with it a crowd which filled all of the 700 seats in the upper assembly room, to say nothing of the school seats, which held two, and of those who stood, the joy of the pupils—many of them in the features of the young fellows in dress suits, who showed the visitors to the dressing rooms, and to their seats, and it fairly danced upon the countenances of the scores of young girls in flower-bedecked dresses, who were interested to as great an extent as their brothers. All knew that the cherished project was a success, and because of it the songs appeared sweeter, the recitations more droll and humorous, and the instrumentalists to blend more perfectly.

The institute is a stately pile at any time, but to walk up to it on a dark night, when every window from basement to garret is beaming brightly, adds a grandeur that is not noticeable in the uncomprising light of day. And the interior decorations commenced where the doors left off. The stairs were neatly draped with bunting, enough flags hung over windows, doors and bannisters to furnish Union Jacks for every province in the world that boasts of British allegiance, and have a couple to spare for Turkey and Venezuela. Decorative plants suggestive of the tropics (and the florists) garnished the bare spots, and lent a freshness to the scene. While the decorator had left tangible signs of his visitation from the basement up, it was in the upper assembly room where he was most in evidence. Beautiful pictures, loaned for the occasion, relieved the bareness of the walls, curtains gave a drawing-room effect to the windows, and rich portieres concealed the harsh outlines of the doors. Coming Raffaels, Titians, Angelos and Rubenses among the pupils transgressed the blackboard into exhibitions, while from the center of the ceiling was suspended a mammoth Japanese umbrella and a pendant from the school colors—blue and yellow.

From the center of the ceiling to the corners hung in graceful curves streamers of light blue and red. The floral decorations for the stage setting were furnished by Gammage, and a profusion of bunting, representing the school colors, formed the background for the platform.

The vocalist of the evening, Miss Carlotta Desjardins, was taken ill at Buffalo, and was obliged to leave for the continent and a milder climate. Her place was ably taken by Miss Nina Bertine Humphreys, who came direct from New York, as a personal favor to Miss Desjardins, to take her place on the programme. To judge of the success of the evening, the audience recalls insisted upon, the audience was more than pleased with Miss Humphreys' efforts. She is a wonderful singer, soaring at will among notes that Londoners are wont to hear only when they are struck on the piano. Her extreme notes are taken with mechanical correctness and are distinguishable from those of the instrument only by their power and continuity.

Miss Humphreys' and Miss Alexander's powers of recitation. Mr. George Angus also vied with her in the recitation of his violin solos, and the promenade concert by the Musical Society. The orchestra was one of the most enjoyable portions of the programme, which included the following numbers:

Overture—The Iron Horse.	Auber
Chorus—Soldiers' Chorus.	From Faust
Chorus—Charmant Oiseau.	David
Life Worth Living.	Alfred Austin
Violin Solo.	Miss Jessie Alexander
Vocal—Knowest Thou That Land.	Thomas
Chorus—Legend of the Bell.	Planquette
The Hostage.	Schiller
Waltz—Romeo and Juliet.	Gounod
Violin solo.	Miss Jessie Alexander
The Good Little Girl and the Bad Little Girl.	Louise B. Clarke
He Loves Me, He Loves Me Not.	Mascagni

Miss Humphreys and Miss Alexander were both made the recipients of handsome bouquets, the former by Charlie Garvey and the latter by Fred H. Soreaton.

The glee club is composed of F. H. Soreaton, president; Fred L. Evans, musical director; E. Yates, secretary; treasurer; Frank Fitzgerald, pianist; and Misses Noble, Mason, Yates, Donahue, Dewar, Warren, Williams, Brook, Love, Smith, Mills, McCully, Spry, Flynn, Smith, McMahon, Fleming, Steer, Brown, Rolston, Porteous, Dale, O'Neill and Smith, and Messrs. Yates, Kilpan, Brown, Carson, Fitzgerald, Clark, Gray, Ferguson, Soreaton, Beal, Watt, McNeve and English.

At the conclusion of the programme many of the visitors began a complete inspection of the building. Upstairs the orchestra held forth in the lower floor. Principal Merchant, assisted by Ernie Henderson and Alex. Clark, regaled a couple of hundred to some limelight views. In the physical laboratory Mr. McClement conducted an interesting series of experiments. He was assisted by E. Yates, E. Wyatt, R. Hicks and S. Clement. The reading-rooms were well patronized, as also was the light luncheon set forth in the drill room.

The promenade programme contained eight numbers, and included a concert solo by Mr. Mullins and an xylophone solo by Mr. McKenna.

It is nearly two years since the last conversazione was held by the Literary Society. The proceeds, after defraying expenses, go to purchasing papers and periodicals for the reading-room files. The society already has a good bank account, which will now be considerably augmented. The credit of success is not confined to a few, but to many, as the following list of committees will demonstrate:

Finance Committee—S. Jones (convener), Miss L. Southam, J. Best, H. B. Beal, P. A. Carson, Miss Ross. Programme Committee—W. C. Ferguson, F. Soreaton, Miss C. Bertha, Miss M. Williams, S. J. LOCAL BREVITIES.

—Mr. Becher Furness is very ill of typhoid fever at Toronto.

—Mr. Samuel T. Butler, of Chicago, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Roote, King street.

—Mr. Thomas Kent, president of the London Loan Company, was visiting his sisters, Mrs. A. Meston and Mrs. Strathly, of Aylmer.

—Wm Pulver and family, of Dresden, moved here this week. The Times says: We are sorry to lose a good citizen like Mr. Pulver. Dresden's loss is London's gain.

—Rev. Charles Smith, pastor of King Street Methodist Church, will preach church anniversary sermons in Seaford tomorrow. Rev. Stephen Bond will preach to his old friends in consequence of the pastor's absence.

—Bro. Bayless, D. D. G. M. of the C. O. F. M. W., accompanied by R. G. Bro. Thomas Cole and P. G. Bro. Geo. Tagg, paid an official visit to Kintore Lodge on Wednesday evening. This lodge was instituted Nov. 12 by Grand Organizer Bro. Rose with seven charter members. It now numbers 34 and applications are still coming in.

Some time ago Napoleon Prevost, the well known carrier, received two young bears. He afterwards sold them to a London butcher for $35, and yesterday the latter came to the city to take the animals away. But the cubs evidently got wind of what a horrible place London is, and they gave half a dozen people an hour's hard work to load them in the wagon. The animals will be killed and the meat sold for 35 cents a pound.—St. Thomas Times.

—At the last general meeting of London Lodge No. 33, K. K. K., at 22, at the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Bro. Bates, D. D. G. C., and Bro. L. Tunks acting as scrutineers; C. C. W. J. Moffat; V. C. W. Clark; prelate, B. Noble; M. of W. H. J. Widdie; K. of R. and S. and M. of F. J. M. Shaw; M. of E. J. Paul; M. at Arms, J. Walsby; representative to Grand Lodge, Bro. W. Smith. Speeches were made by the new officers. The arrangements were served and a very pleasant evening was spent.

—A meeting of the United Charities Association was held in the city hall last night, at which it was reported that nineteen membership tickets had been issued since last meeting, and the society was rapidly gaining in public favor. The office hours have been arranged thus: A. m., 8 to 10 o'clock; p. m., 4 to 6 o'clock. The most accessible entrance to the office is from the market square. It is intended to institute a labor bureau in connection with the Association, which will add materially to the interest of citizens.

—The Christmas tea held at St. James' Presbyterian Church last night in connection with the Sunday school was a very enjoyable affair. The programme was taken by the Sunday school scholars and included singing by Agnes and Zelma, Mary, David, McKetterick, Walter Campbell, Cora and Lillie Fessenden, Ella Flowers, Mary McConnell, Roy and Irene Gray, James Anderson, Margaret McNab, Nona McBride, Jennie Murray, Bella Chandler, Stuart Brown and Edith Whiting. A cordial welcome was extended to the London West Mission school. Great credit is due to Misses. Hastings, Campbell, McEwen and Wilson who trained the children. Santa Claus called during the evening and made many little hearts glad with Christmas presents.

—At a recent meeting of Forest City Camp, No. 1, Canadian Order Woodmen, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Sov. James McCormick, of Laurel Camp, and Sov. R. McBride, of Pine Grove Camp, acting as scrutineers; Paet commander, Thomas Hogg, adv. lieutenant, M. Hoehn; banker, Geo. F. Morris (fourth term); clerk, Charles Doe (fourth term); escort, G. R. Gillespie; watchman, George Tapp; sentry, A. G. Pearson; physicians, Benj. Bayly and W. J. Teasdale; managers, Charles Brennan (three years), Andrew Ferguson (two years), Thomas Vallier (one year) and G. A. Watts; correspondent, Benj. Bayly; delegate to head camp, G. H. Scollick.

Giving and Receiving.

Christmas is characteristically a season of rejoicing, and will be specially so this year of grace—1895—we mean to those who buy their Christmas gifts from us. Economy, always judicious, is more so than ever in the holiday season, when one has usually more gifts they would like to give than they have money to buy them. It is surprising how many believe that it is more blessed to give than to receive, but lack of funds checks their liberality somewhat. However, our widespread reputation as a house of large assortments and low prices stands us in good stead now, and readily explains the throngs of Christmas shoppers that already tax the capacity of our many holiday departments. Could we here give a list of the little and the big presents we carry you might read it, but we have an idea that you would like to spend a short time looking around the store. Then come along and we will show you everything.

Tell Us This

What is more useful, more elegant or more appropriate than a set of Furs for Christmas? We don't know. Perhaps the price has been too high in the past; but that obstacle has been brushed away—we are selling Furs at Drygoods prices. We might have waited until after the holidays to reduce prices, but we'd rather clear the whole lot out now. This gives our customers a chance.

$50 00	Buys a $65 Sable Cape, 27 inches long. A beauty.
$45 00	Buys a $55 Black Persian Lamb Cape, 27 inches long.
$15 00	Buys a $20 Gray Astrachan Cape. Grand value.
$13 50	Buys a $17 50 Wool Seal Cape. Cheapness and elegance combined.
$25 00	Buys a $30 Arctic Sable Cape. A grand present.
$10 50	Buys a $15 50 Black Astrachan Cape. Grand value.
$16 50	For a 30-inch Baltic Seal Cape; former price $20.

These are only a few. Our fur department is running over with bargains. We take $10 off some of our Capes, which is our Christmas box to purchasers. A few left of our $1 65 Gray Astrachan Capes for boys and girls. The cheapest Cap ever sold in London.

tional drama entitled "From Sire to Son," with all its magnificent stage settings and grand scenic effects, will be presented. Many pleasing and attractive specialties are introduced at every performance. There will be a change of play each night, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne will positively appear in every production. This company has its own scenery, and all plays will be produced in first class style. The company come direct from Detroit, Mich., here, and the press of that city speak in high praise of them. The prices are popular, being only 10, 20 and 30 cents.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS.

The following is a list of the candidates who passed the low grade or preliminary trial at the civil service examinations held in this city last month: Tom Brown, W. Calcott, Lewis Carter, Edward Carty, George Collingwood, Alice S. Fitzgerald, Thomas R. Griffin, Winfield T. Harrison, George A. Hennessy, John D. Hodgson, Jesse Johnson, Thomas H. Leight, W. J. Lucas, James Orme, John Reid, J. J. F. McKenna, Wm. George Stevenson, S. Wesley Taylor, Wm. Caw Tudor, Wm. Martin Waldoek, I. Godfrey Warner, Wm. Ernest West, John Wm. White, John A. McKee.

The candidates who passed the qualifying examinations were: Hugh M. Barrett, John Brown, W. Calcott, Angus W. Campbell, Charles C. Claris, Thomas George Hazelton, Field Harrison, John Z. Johnson, Joseph Kidd, Samuel T. Lee, Benjamin J. Leech, Thomas H. Leigh, Thomas H. Liddon, Wm. Mercer, Tim Mullins, Wm. D. A. McLean, Grace D. Rorison, Wm. J. Stewart, John George Tambling, John W. White, Stephen T. Willis, Charles T. Wilson.

Those who passed in the optional subjects were: John Brown, bookkeeping; Stephen T. Willis, bookkeeping, shorthand.

PRINCESS AVENUE SCHOOL.

The Princess avenue school was gaily decorated for the Christmas entertainment, which was held yesterday afternoon. Principal Bryant occupied the chair, and introduced the programme, which included several choruses and the following: Recitation, "The Lovely Young Man," Lily Goulding; Song, "Far Away," Lillie Maracle and Louie Craig; dialogue, "Trials of a School Mistress," Norman Beal and W. Logan; violin solo, Edgar Nelles, trio, three boys; dialogue, "Irish Schoolmaster," Grade VII. boys and girls; Rainbow, by seven girls, Grade VII.; Song, "Sunshine in Primrose Abbey," Harry Mara; recitation, Ada Rudd; dialogue, "Aunt Kitty's Shopping," three girls; song, Emery brothers; harp, monica solo, Willie Barrell, Grade IV.; dialogue, "Brought to Trial for Blowing," six boys, Grade VI.; song, Allen, dialogue, "Aunt Kitty's Shopping," Maggie Boyd; chorus, two girls, Grade V.; song, Ethel McKillop and Elsie Hobbs; recitation, Percy Madden; song, Annie Mattinson.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL.

A general meeting of the council was held last night, President Toll in the chair. Credentials were received from John M. Price and James Soreaton as delegates from the Painters and Decorators' Union. What has become of the petition for the appointment of shop inspectors? was asked.

The secretary was instructed to prepare a petition for signatures without delay.

A communication from the Early Closing Association asking for contributions to defray expenses incurred, was received. The council did not think they should be called upon to pay for debt they had no voice in making, but felt that for a future expenditure they were liable and willing to pay. The secretary was instructed to write the association and inform them of the council's action.

The bylaw to be submitted to the electors, asking for $25,000 in debentures to erect new buildings for the Western Fair, was indorsed. The council also desired that the standard rate of wages be paid for their construction.

A resolution disapproving of tax exemption was carried unanimously. The opinion of the council is that no person or corporation should be allowed a lower assessment rate of taxation than that struck by the city, so long as the present tax system is in operation.

The next meeting of the council will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 7, when the election of officers will take place.

SOUTH LONDON SCHOOLS.

Entertainments at Victoria and Wortley Road Schools—Promotions on Pupils' Records.

The closing exercises of the Wortley road and Victoria schools took place yesterday afternoon. Most of the rooms were prettily decorated with evergreens and banniers, and pleasing programmes were rendered by the pupils in each school. Addresses were given by Trustees Greenlees and Wilkins, Ven. Archdeacon Davis and Rev. Jas. G. Stuart.

The pupils of the 6th and 7th divisions (Misses Johnston and Wildren, teachers), under the chairmanship of Willie Parnell, gave a performance which pleased and edified all the pupils, and interested many parents and visitors. The programme opened with a brief address by the chairman, which was followed by the following numbers: Chorus, "Carol, Sweetly Carol," united classes; recitation, "Speckled Hen," Ivorra Powell; dialogue, "The Seasons," P. Gerry, C. Perry, C. Hodgins, L. Rowntree; song, M. Powell; recitation, "Waltz Shepherds Watched," Flossie Fawcett; solo, "Jew's Harp," E. Thompson; recitation, M. Nash; dialogue, "Trials of a School Mistress," F. Fawcett, C. Hodgins; recitation, W. Monahan; song, "Christmas Carol," R. Maybank; dialogue, "Merry Christmas," seven boys and seven girls; recitations, "Ring Out, Wild Bells," seven girls; solo and chorus, "In the Field," P. Gerry; recitation, M. Powell; chorus, "Gather Around the Christmas Tree," pupils of sixth division; dialogue, "One Way to Spend Christmas," V. Soreley, C. Perry, A. Sutherland, M. Maybank; recitation, A. Somerville (E. Thompson); chorus, "Bethlehem," pupils of seventh division; recitation, "The Ropst of Christ," P. Gerry; dialogue, "The Story of Christ," seven girls; metalophone solo, C. Hodgins; dialogue, L. Quick, B. Tyndall; song, choir of sixth division; dialogue, "The Day After Christmas," F. Pope, F. Dickinson, L. Lewis; chorus, "A Child This Day," choir of seventh division; dialogue, E. Hartford, W. Monahan; recitation, Edna Lawson; song, "Glory to God in the Highest," four boys; dialogue, M. Newmans and A. Pugh; recitation, L. Powell; song, "Abide with Me," seventh division; choir; dialogue, M. Allison, A. Somerville; dialogue, "Playing School," four boys; "God Save the Queen."

The pupils of the Victoria school's rooms also gave an entertainment in the kindergarten room.

The following promotions have been made, based upon the pupil's record for the last three months, and the teacher's recommendation: From III. to IV.—Eddie Meyers, Minnie Ralph, Bertha Court, Reggie Stephens, Minnie Campbell, John Anderson.

VICTORIA SCHOOL. From kindergarten to Grade I.—Ernest Knowles, Percy Read, Jack McLean, Charles Kalus, Archie McAulay, Fred Evans, Gilbert Young, Gordon McCraw, Wilfred Wagner, Rita Caldwell, Pearl Mason.

In Cases of Heart Disease—How to Act Quickly.

What to do till the doctor comes is a good thing to know, and is urgent in cases of heart disease. Keep in the house Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and it will be found to exceed the skill even of the skilled physician. Many letters are in the possession of the proprietor of this medicine, showing that death would have ensued from heart disease had it not been promptly taken when heart spasms had manifested themselves. It is a remarkable specific for this one particular purpose, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, strong as the statement may seem, will cure heart disease, either in its incipient stages or the more chronic.
