

7, 1911.

This is good for Christ-pattern, with a--as

ad and Butter Celery Trays, late Pots and olls

oll and China

5c to $2.75 7c to $1.25

& Co.

estment

What e?

abinet, top and top section,

ankind

Easy Chair or D upwards, in case what you store it and very tempting sting gift than ndle always.

urniture.

Sons

ing in volume and altogether dis- this case, but are increasing from the United States, and from far-away Zealand. For a nution from the an-ompeting with that and Oregon in the market, an occasion- shipped as far east as last winter, hav- n as well as frozen seaports and sold umer in Toronto principally beef, are also being im- the quantities are small, the table, and to show extension, shipments from the United States, and from Hamilton. The remarkable trade made the subject and I have de- it took hold of you," complained Ware. "What do you say? One would hardly think I was offering to swap myself up- you're fixing to get yourself strung up- by thunder, that'll be your finish!"

"Do you want the land and the nig- gers? I reckon you'll have to take them whether you want them or not, for I'm going to have the girl!"

CHAPTER XVII.

Bob Yancy Finds Himself.

Mr. Yancy awoke from a long, dream- less sleep; heavy-lidded, his eyes slid open. For a moment he struggled with the odds and ends of memory, then he recalled the fight at the tavern, the sudden murder attack, the knife blows, the blood, the knife thrust which had ended the struggle. Therefore the bandages that now

No Trouble to Have Beautiful Hair

(From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.)

A woman known as New York society woman, renowned for the exquisite loveliness of her hair, is reported to have said: "I attribute the abundance and glossiness of my hair to the fact that my hairdresser never uses water on my head. She uses only a dry shampoo, sitting it evenly over my head and then brushing it thoroughly—brushing it until all the powder is removed."

"She says wetting takes the life and color out of the hair and leaves it dull and brittle. In reply to my in- quiry she told me she made the sham- poo herself—simply mixed a quantity of theriac with a ounces of powdered eric root. She explains that the eric root cleanses, while the theriac keeps the hair light and fluffy and retains its natural color."

will see to it among the best wholesale regist has not only you a box.

MONTREAL.

Cynthia Grey and EVERY WOMAN'S Page

CONQUERING WOMAN'S NO

[By Cynthia Grey.]

Was there ever a lover to work of purpose and faint of heart that he took a woman's "no" for granted, when her love was the jewel he asked her for. Half of the world of women have been won through sheer persistence, or never safe to take this for granted where her happiness of a lifetime is con- sidered. There is nothing which sounds so sweet to a woman's ears as to hear her lover say: "I shall never be satisfied with that answer. I shall win you, though it takes years and a world of devotion to accomplish it."

That's the kind of lover that every woman is looking for. He who takes a woman's "no" without troubling himself to see further cannot be much in love with her, she concludes. She checks a sigh on her lips and concludes to love further for a heart made true.

The greatest of men have been known to wait long years, and have had a merry chase of it through love's tangled path. Did they despair? Certainly not. They knew the heart of woman's "no" has been known to capitulate in the end before a determined lover's onslaught of pleadings. When hope seems darkest to a lover, it is often the time when the clouds that obscured his love dream are about to break away.

Lovers who are too easily discouraged are scarcely worth while for a woman to put her hopes on. With them it is probably "this young woman today and that one tomorrow."

Such men as do light of love that companionship satisfies them, while others conquer men and forever, and know no defeat, but make the business of their lives love once and for all of the woman whom they love and refuse to give up. Let every man take heart. Love is never meant to be in vain.

Cynthia Grey's Correspondence

Dear Miss Grey: Will you please give me a recipe for some nice tea biscuits and scones? How should I wash the eyes and what with? And tell what to do when one is sleepy all the time? How to stop it? Thanking you in advance, I remain, COBRA.

A.—I, Scotch Broom: Into two cups flour sift two small teaspoonsful of baking powder; rub in with the hand 4 tablespoonsful butter, adding a little milk to bind the paste. Flour the bake board and pan, roll out $\frac{3}{4}$ -inch thick; cut into small three-cornered pieces with a sharp knife. Bake in a quick oven, taking out as soon as they are light and even-colored. Tea biscuits: Rub a lump of butter into one cup flour, adding level teaspoonful salt and a very heaping teaspoonful baking powder. Stir in a cup sweet milk and enough flour to make a soft dough. Roll out quickly on a floured board. Cut into rounds and bake in a very quick oven for 10 minutes.

2. Bathe the eyes several times a day with a solution of one-half teaspoonful boracic acid dissolved in a cupful of hot water. Use either a very soft muslin cloth, or buy an eye cup at a drug store. 3. The sleepiness probably is due to a torpid liver, and in that case you should see a doctor. Perhaps it is caused by constant sitting in a badly ventilated room. Look to the ventilation in your sleeping apartment, and take a brisk walk in the open air every day.

Death on Mocha. Dear Miss Grey: You kindly tell me what to do in blankets and woolen goods to keep moths out? And oblige, A READER.

A.—Old-fashioned camphor balls are about the best agent to use. Purchase them from a drug store and scatter through the boxes and shelves where the woolen goods are kept.

Chilblains and Bunions. Dear Miss Grey: I am awfully troubled with chilblains. Please can you tell me what will help them, and what would be good for bunions? M. R.

A.—1. Chilblains are usually caused by warming the feet when very cold at a hot fire. Try to keep the feet dry and warmly covered when out- doors. Get an application nightly of this lotion: Rosewater, one ounce; glycerine, one ounce; tannin, one-quarter ounce. Bathe with arnica and hot applications will relieve the pain caused by bunions. An ointment of iodine and sulphur should also lessen the swelling and check the growth.

The PRODIGAL JUDGE

The Famous Novel by VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1911, The Bobbs-Merrill Company

"She'll never marry you!" "Don't you be too sure of that. She may be glad enough to in the end."

"Oh, you think you are a pretty fellow with the women?" Well, my dear, you are with one sort—but what do you know about her kind?" teased the planter. Murrell's brow darkened.

"I'll manage her," he said briefly. "You were of some account until you took hold of you," complained Ware. "What do you say? One would hardly think I was offering to swap myself up- you're fixing to get yourself strung up- by thunder, that'll be your finish!"

"Do you want the land and the nig- gers? I reckon you'll have to take them whether you want them or not, for I'm going to have the girl!"

CHAPTER XVII.

Bob Yancy Finds Himself.

Mr. Yancy awoke from a long, dream- less sleep; heavy-lidded, his eyes slid open. For a moment he struggled with the odds and ends of memory, then he recalled the fight at the tavern, the sudden murder attack, the knife blows, the blood, the knife thrust which had ended the struggle. Therefore the bandages that now

No Trouble to Have Beautiful Hair

(From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.)

A woman known as New York society woman, renowned for the exquisite loveliness of her hair, is reported to have said: "I attribute the abundance and glossiness of my hair to the fact that my hairdresser never uses water on my head. She uses only a dry shampoo, sitting it evenly over my head and then brushing it thoroughly—brushing it until all the powder is removed."

"She says wetting takes the life and color out of the hair and leaves it dull and brittle. In reply to my in- quiry she told me she made the sham- poo herself—simply mixed a quantity of theriac with a ounces of powdered eric root. She explains that the eric root cleanses, while the theriac keeps the hair light and fluffy and retains its natural color."

was confused, feverish and without sequence.

Suddenly a shadow fell obliquely across the foot of his narrow bed, and Cayendish, bending his long body somewhat, thrust his head in at the opening. He found himself looking into a pair of eyes that for the first time in many a long day held the light of consciousness.

"How are you, stranger?" he demanded in a soft drawl.

"Where am I?" the words were a whisper on Yancy's bearded lips.

"Well, sir, you are on the Tennessee River; certainly, my wife will make admiration when she hears you speak. Polly! you just step here."

But Polly had heard Cayendish speak, and the murmur of Yancy's voice in reply. Now her head appeared beside that of her husband's, and Yancy saw that she was rosy and smiling, and that her claim to good looks was something that could not well be denied.

"La, you are some better, ain't you, sir?" she cried, smiling down on him.

"How did I get here, and where's my nevery questioned Yancy anxiously.

"There, now, you ain't in no condition 'to' pester yo'self with worry. You was fished up out of the Elk River face, Mr. Cayendish," Polly explained, still smiling and dimpling at him.

"When, ma'am—last night?"

"You've got another guess coming to you, stranger." It was Cayendish who spoke.

"Do you mean, sir, that I been uncon- scious for a spell?" suggested Yancy, rather fearfully, glancing from one to the other.

"It's been right smart of a spell, too; yes, sir, you've laid like you was dead, and not 'fo' a matter of hours, either— but days."

"Well, nigh on to three weeks."

They saw Yancy's eyes widen with a look of dumb horror. "You've been out 'Three weeks'!" he at length repeated, and groaned miserably. "I was thinking of Hannibal."

"You was mighty droll to look at when I fished you up out of the river," con- tinued Mr. Cayendish, "but you've been out and beat up scandalous."

"And you don't know nothing about my nevery?" asked Yancy, and he glanced up into Polly's comely face.

"Polly shook her head regretfully.

"How come you in the river?" asked Cayendish.

"I reckon I was thrown in. It was a man named Murrell and another man named Slosson. They tried 'fo' to murder me—they wanted to get my nevery— I how they done it!" and Yancy groaned again.

"You'll get him back," said Polly soothingly.

"Could you-all put me ashore?" inquired Yancy, with sudden eagerness.

"We could, but we won't," said Cayendish, in no uncertain tone.

"Why, la!—you'd perish!" exclaimed Polly.

"Are we far from where you-all picked me up?"

Cayendish nodded. He did not like to tell Yancy the distance they had trav- eled.

"Where are you-all taking me?" asked Yancy.

"Well, stranger, that's a question I can't answer without the Tennessee in a twister; mebbe it will be Kentucky; mebbe it will be Illinois, and mebbe it will be down yonder on the Mississippi. My tribe like this way of moving about, and it certainly favors a body's legs."

"How old was your nevery?" inquired Polly, reading the troubled look in Bob Yancy's eyes.

"Ten or thereabout, ma'am. He were a heap of comfort to me—" and the whisper on Yancy's lips was wonderfully tender and wistful.

"Just the age of my Richard," said Polly, her stature full of compassion and pity.

Mr. Cayendish essayed to speak, but was forced to pause and clear his throat. The allusion to Richard in this connection was almost more than he could endure with equanimity. When he was able to put his thoughts into words, he said:

"I shored am distressed 'fo' you. I tried to leave you back yonder where I found you, but when I saw you, and you looked so near dead folks wouldn't have it. What parts do you come from?"

"Noth Carolina. Me and my nevery was a-goin' into West Tennessee to a place called Belle Plain, somewhere near Memphis. We have friends there," explained Yancy.

"That settles it!" cried Cayendish. "I won't be Kentucky, and it won't be Illi- nois; I'll put you ashore at Memphis; mebbe you'll find yo' nevery there, after all."

"That's the best. You lay still and get yo' strength back as fast as you can, and try not to worry—no, now," Polly's voice was soft and wheedling.

"I reckon I been a heap of bother to you-all," said Yancy.

"No, no," Polly assured him; "you ain't been."

[To be Continued.]

Advertiser Patterns Beauty Pattern Company.

8885—Grace, Simplicity and Comfort Combined—Lady's Dressing Sack. Cotton crepe was used in this model, which is also suited to flannel, linen or silk. The back is semi-fitting. The fronts are loose and laid in broad plaits that are stitched to yoke depth. At the waistline the fulness is held to position by a belt. The sleeves are of the bishop style and finished with a hand cuff. The pattern is cut in six sizes—32, 34, 36, 40 and 42 inches, bust measure. It requires four and a quarter yards of 27-inch material for the 36-inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT OF THE

Please send above-mentioned pattern, as per directions given below, to:

Name
Town
Street Address
Province
Measurement—Bust Waist

Age (if child's or misses' pattern)

CAUTION.—Be careful to inclose above illustration and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is sent measure, give waist and length measure. When it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 26 or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing inches. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from date of order. The price of each pattern is 10 cents in cash or in postage stamps.

The Daily Menu . . .

BREAKFAST.
Cereal. Stewed Figs.
Creamed Sweetbreads.
Pop-over. Coffee.

LUNCHEON.
Chicken Broth.
Apple Sauce.
Caramel Cake.

DINNER.
Cream of Potato Soup.
Stuffed Roast Veal.
Potatoes. Peas.
Dried Apple Pie.
Cafe Noir.

Caramel Cake.—Stir together three times three cups cupfuls of flour and two cupfuls of butter. Add powdered cream of tartar, salt and baking powder. Mix well. Add one cupful of sugar and one cupful of milk and smooth. Stir into these a cupful of milk and then, alternately, the stiffened whites of the eggs and the flour. Flavor with vanilla and stir in at the last a teaspoonful of chopped nutmeg. Well floured. Marshmallow Filling.—Dissolve five teaspoonfuls of powdered gum arabic in a half-cupful of cold water, add half a cupful of powdered sugar, and boil until a thick enough to form a soft ball between the fingers when it is dropped into ice water. Pour it then upon the whipped white of an egg, flavor with vanilla and a few drops of lemon juice, and spread upon the cakes with a knife dipped into hot water.

Back Full of Aches

Headaches and Depression

Much of Women's Suffering is Need- less and Can Be Prevented by the Use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

That Stab-like Pain in the Back Is Sure Indication of Kidney Trouble.

swathed his head and shoulders; there- fore the need that he should be up and about. He was leaning against a tub, which rested on a rude bench. At her back was another bark, and she was looking at him with a look of great interest. He saw that she was smoking a cob pipe.

He was still staring at her when the bark jolted. She was leaning against a tub, which rested on a rude bench. At her back was another bark, and she was looking at him with a look of great interest. He saw that she was smoking a cob pipe.

He was still staring at her when the bark jolted. She was leaning against a tub, which rested on a rude bench. At her back was another bark, and she was looking at him with a look of great interest. He saw that she was smoking a cob pipe.

Mrs. Anna Rodriguez writes as fol- lows from her home in Valencia: "For a long time I suffered with fail- ing strength and nagging headaches. My condition grew steadily worse, my limbs became bloated and shaky. I was sallow and thin, felt rheumatic pains, dizziness and chills. I unfor- tunately did not suspect my kidneys, and was nearly dead when I dis- covered the true cause of my suffer- ings. I read so much about the won- derful health and strength that comes from the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills that I felt sure they would help me. Such blessings of health and comfort I got from Dr. Hamilton's Pills I can't describe. They speedily put me right, and their steady use keeps me active, energetic, strong and hap- py. I strongly urge others to regu- late and tone their system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butterbur."

No greater medicine exists than Dr. Hamilton's Pills for the cure of indigestion, constipation, flatulence, liver, bladder and kidney trouble. Refuse substitutes for Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 50c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers or the Cattaraugus Com- pany, Kingston, Ont.

Select your Christmas Gifts in your own home

This is made possible by using a "Ryrie" catalogue—a copy of which will be mailed upon request. It contains it you will find hundreds of especially attractive gift articles in Jewelry, Silverware, China, Cut Glass, Leather Goods, Novelties, etc., ranging in price from 15c. up.

We prepare all delivery charges on any articles purchased from us, guarantee their safe arrival, and refund your money if you are not entirely satisfied.

Ryrie Bros., Limited
Canada's Largest Jewelry House
Jas. Ryrie, Pres.
Harry Ryrie, Sec.-Treas.
134-136-138 Yonge St.
TORONTO

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for the cure of INFANTS' COLIC, BRUISES, SCALDS, RASHES, WHILE TEETHING, WITH PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMS, CURES THE STOMACH, CURES THE COLIC, AND IS THE BEST REMEDY FOR DIARRHOEA. Sold all over the world.

JOHNSTONES' HAT SHOP

Every Trimmed Hat in the Store at Half Price

Many women have been asking when we would have our biggest cut on hats. They have waited so long, and passed up all other sales with the intention of attending ours, that we know the store will be crowded from Friday morning till everything is sold in Hats, Wings and Fancy Mounts.

The Hats are so different from the ordinary, so artistic and refined, that women have been paying regular prices up to the present, rather than buy elsewhere at sale prices. After all it is not the price a woman wants so much as the style, and at this sale she gets both. We cannot promise how long this sale will last, as that is governed by the supply, and we think the supply will soon be exhausted, but a choice can be had now.

1/2 Price on All Dress Hats

Lot 1	Lot 2	Lot 3
All our Ready-to-Wear Hats up to $4.00 will be	All our Ready-to-Wear Hats up to $8.00 will be	All our handsome Wings and Fancy Mounts sold as high as $4.00 will be
$1.00	$2.00	35c

180 Dundas Street - - - London

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

MIDDLESEX.—A lady farmer has a field of good corn in stocks, and her neighbor's turkeys and other stock destroy the best of it. What redress has she in the way of damages, also a remedy to keep vandals out of a home?

Ans.—She can sue one or more of

Two Minute Talks About PANDORA RANGE for Coal or Wood

HAVE you seen the Perfect Spring Door on the warming closet? It is the newest Pandora feature.

The ordinary door, when opened, is inside the warming closet and takes up valuable space.

But the Perfect Spring Door, when opened, is entirely outside of the warming closet. By being outside it adds two inches to the height of the space inside the closet. That extra space provides room for fourteen more dinner or dessert plates. The door cannot drop down and smash the dishes because the spring holds the door up out of the way until you desire to close it.

The Perfect Spring Door is a convenience worth having. There are more than a score of other conveniences on the Pandora. Our Pandora booklet tells about them. Send for a copy.

McClary's

Stands for Guaranteed Quality

London, Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver, St. John, N.B., Hamilton, Calgary.

FOR SALE BY J. A. BROWNLEE, 385 TALBOT ST., J. A. PAGE, 807 DUNDAS STREET.

ALWAYS A SURE LIGHT

Every time you strike one of

Eddy's Matches

Absolute dependability and ever-present quality in materials and workmanship have for sixty years characterized EDDY'S MATCHES as "Canada's Leaders." Make sure you ask for EDDY'S every time.

THE E. B. EDDY COMPANY
MULL, CANADA

her neighbors who own the turkeys for damages in the division court if she can prove whose turkeys were in her field eating the corn. By recovering judgment the neighbors will take care afterwards to keep the turkeys at home.

LABORERS' $105 CHECKS.

The valuable treasure trove, consisting of 300 gold nobles of Edward III., unearthed at East Raynham, Fakenham, last December by two estate laborers named Wake and Graver, has resulted in a little windfall for them, the treasury having now handed to each a check for $105. Some of the coins have been placed in the Royal Mint Museum, and others in the British Museum.

John S. Barnard

JEWELER, 170 DUNDAS ST., London, Ont.

Shiloh's Cure

For all kinds of rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc. Sold all over the world.