MUSIC and DRAMA

Coming Attractions at Grand.

Today—Matinee and Night, "The Garden of Allah."
Tuesday, Sept. 30—"The Pink Lady."
Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 1 and 2—Pictures of the Romantic Drama, "Arizona."
Friday to Wednesday, Oct. 3 to 8—Edison's Talking Pictures.
Thursday, Oct. 9—"Peg o' My Heart."

"Garden of Allah."

Somebody had said that "The Garden of Allah," which appears twice today at the Grand, is the desert drama. It is more than that, however, for it tells the story of the renegade monk in search of that elusive something that we call peace and happiness. Every human being is searching for that. That a monk, for many years shut up in a monastery, should decide to leave his peaceful surroundings and look for contentment elsewhere is the groundwork of the story. There is a wealth of beauty in the settings, for they are made-creating as well as impressive to the eye. The very first panorama and the succeeding scenes, each in its own way, suggest the locale, while the Arabs and Moors in their picturesque costumes, wandering to and fro, speaking their unintelligible tongues, and suggesting the customs of their African home, give vividness to the action.

"The Fascinating Musical Play of 'The Pink Lady.'"

The most popular of musical comedies, "The Pink Lady," will be seen at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday evening. C. M. S. McLellan's book bristles with funny lines and situations. Ivan Caryll's delightful music is whistled everywhere, especially such catchy numbers as "Beautiful Lady," "The Girl By the Saskatchewan" and "Donny Did." It is seldom that a musical play is presented in such an elaborate and artistic manner as "The Pink Lady." The scenes of the three acts are exceptionally beautiful and the company are the latest word in Rue de la Paix fashions. Seats on sale.

The Great Picture "Arizona."

An epoch in the career of motion photography has arrived in the presentation of Augustus Thomas' most powerful drama, "Arizona," which will be seen at the Grand Opera House, for four performances, commencing Wednesday matinee, Oct. 1. "Arizona," is a drama surcharged with Thomas' significant delineation of human emotions, and records the apex of success of the American playwright extraordinary.

At a western military post, Captain Hodgman, a black sheep has brought shame and sorrow to Lena, the daughter of Sergeant Keller, a German, and Lena is found employed in the family of Henry Canby, owner of a big ranch. In the meantime Captain Hodgman makes violent love to Estrella, wife of the colonel, and also the elder daughter to Canby. The troop riding up the valley, make camp at the Canby ranch and discover Hodgman in the act of also the seducer, who is in the next room with Denton and Keller. A shot is fired, Hodgman falls to the ground with a bullet in his breast. Cavalrymen and cowboys rush in, Denton is accused of the killing. After the bullet is extracted from the body, Denton is freed and Lena ordered under arrest. Tony, to save her, confesses that he did the shooting, and rushes through the gates into his saddle, making good his escape.

This is the first time in the history of motion photograph that a picture has been sent out to the public in the same way as a theatrical production, calling for an entire staff. These pictures cost the producers four times the usual amount expended on the original production with a large cast. At special prices seat sale opens Monday at 9 a.m. This attraction only plays the regular theatres, and does not play picture houses.

The Edison Talking Pictures, which have been viewed and heard for the first time here at the Grand Friday, Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, twice daily, Oct. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8. The chief astonishment of the Edison talking pictures is caused by the exact coincidence between the motion of the lips of those in the pictures and the spoken word as it issues from the phonographic mechanism. Whatever may be the final service of the kinetophone, the salient fact that its coming emphasizes is that at last we have a scientific synchronization of sight and sound. The pictures and reproduction of records are in absolute perfect unison. Mr. Edison's latest invention is truly wonderful. Seats Wednesday.

The Comedy Success, "Peg o' My Heart." The much heralded Oliver Morosco production of "Peg o' My Heart," which has had an enviable run in New York and which the critics have declared one of the greatest successes in years, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House Thursday evening, Oct. 9. The action of the play, which takes place in England, is well acted by Elsa Ryan, Lillian Keller, Fanny Addison Pitt, Wilda Mari Moore, Henry Stanford, Frank Burbach and Brian Darley.

Cyril Maude, England's Foremost Comedian. Mr. Cyril Maude, England's foremost comedian, whose coming to America within the next ten days, is the biggest individual star's tour since Mrs. Patrick Campbell came to America some years ago, sailed last Wednesday on the Allan liner Virginian for Montreal, and will appear at the Grand Opera here on Oct. 12 and 14, after opening the tour at Toronto. Mr. Maude will appear in London in the pieces in which he earned his great renown in England. For the opening bill there will be "Teddies," an adaptation by the late Clyde Fitch, of making love to Bonita, a younger sister to Estrella. Here the hero of the story, Lieutenant Denton halts for the time being Hodgman's villainous work. Tony, a Mexican in the employ of Canby, is in love with Lena. Tony behind closed doors with Lena hears for the first time of Lena's sorrow and

EVENING AND SEMI-EVENING WRAPS

FOR THE COMING SOCIAL SEASON

A woman's coat this season, whether it be for evening or street wear, is a matter of material as much as style. Months ago we realized this, and long before the models for this season were shown, we had authoritative advice from Paris regarding the materials the fashionable ladies' tailors were eager to get, which guided us in making our selections in the most exclusive novelties for the present season.

Some charming styles are now shown here in plush, velvet broche, velour and matelasse, in black, white, blue, purple, rose, etc. We note here briefly a few exclusive styles. See them early.

NEW GOWNS AND SUITS

Wonderful the difference a taste of real autumn weather makes in one's outlook. Just now here are hosts of women who feel as if they couldn't get their new clothes together fast enough.

This is why we have new suits and gowns arriving almost every day in the week, something different all the time.

Come this week to the ready-to-wear section and see the latest out of their boxes. Second Floor.

Evelyn Thaw Coming to London.

Considerable interest will be aroused in the announcement that Evelyn Thaw is coming to London on Nov. 10 in the musical play "Muriel," one of the most successful plays of the year. She has been brought more into prominence since the recent escape of Harry Thaw, and the theatres throughout the country have been packed. No doubt Londoners will be anxious to see this well-known actress.

SMITH-KING

Pretty Fall Wedding Solemnized in St. George's Anglican Church.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Goderich, Sept. 26.—A pretty wedding took place yesterday at St. George's Anglican Church, where Miss Essie Smith was married to Mr. W. Croxley King, of Bristol, England. Miss Smith was one of Goderich's popular young ladies, daughter of the late Wilmer Smith, a leading merchant for many years. The ceremony was performed by Ven. Archdeacon Jones-Bateman in the absence of Rev. Mr. Fotheringham, the rector. Mr. and Mrs. King left for an extended eastern trip, and intend to reside in Goderich.

ALISA CRAIG.

Alisa Craig, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Geo. Calhoun and children, of Brantford, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. W. O'Leary. Miss Susie Holmes, of London, is visiting at Mrs. A. McDonald's. Mrs. T. Seale has returned from Berlin, where she attended the funeral of her son's father-in-law, Mr. Morley, of that place. Mr. Harry Ward, of Darby, England, secured a position with Mr. D. McKellar.

Mrs. W. McKellar returned to Toronto on Tuesday, after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. D. McKellar, of this place.

Mr. Alex. Newton has been transferred from the local branch of the Standard Bank to the branch at Forest.

Mrs. Chas. Bowman and Miss Evelyn visited Forest friends recently.

Mr. Will Russell, of Hamilton, is visiting his mother, Mrs. R. Petch.

Mrs. Frank Ling and daughter Wreatha, of Galt, are visiting Mrs. Ling's mother, Mrs. Wilson.

BRUSSELS.

Brussels, Sept. 27.—Bally Day will be observed in the Presbyterian and Methodist Sabbath schools tomorrow.

Everything is now ready for East Hurel fall fair to be held here Thursday and Friday of next week.

Brussels horsemen cut quite a dash at Seaford fair, capturing first prizes for rooster and carriage horses, and first, second and third for rooster brood mare and foal.

The opening concert in the course being conducted by the library board was a great success.

Scene from the photo play of "Arizona." The pictures will be shown at the Grand next Wednesday and Thursday.

James Ross Left Over $15,000,000

Montreal, Sept. 27.—Public bequests in the will of the late James Ross, president of the Dominion Coal Company, amounting to nearly half a million dollars, were made public today. The list includes:

Montreal Art Association, $100,000; McGill University, $100,000; Royal Victoria Hospital, $50,000; Montreal General Hospital, $50,000; Alexandra Hospital, $25,000; Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, Ont., $25,000.

The estimate is estimated at between twelve and fifteen million dollars.

Before his death Mr. Ross gave the Montreal Art Association more than $100,000, and $50,000 to McGill University, $25,000 to the Alexandra Hospital, and founded the Memorial Hospital in Lindsay.

BROKE HIS SHOULDER.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Applin, Sept. 27.—Mr. T. Towers was seriously hurt at his barn here when as he was going in with a load of hay the load and rack slipped off and he was thrown under. Besides a broken shoulder he sustained a very severe shaking up.

BROKE RIB COUGHING.
