MAYOR TO TRY AGAIN FOR L. & P. S. LIST

Mayor Wenige will make his next and final application for a copy of the London & Port Stanley pay list. It will be the regular session of the Port Stanley Commission, and the mayor explained today that from present indications he will essay no move until that time. His Worship seems imbued with the idea that Sir Adam Beck, if he is in the provincial ring by that time, will adopt a new attitude and withdraw his opposition.

In the interim a general survey of the London & Port Stanley will be ordered should the city councilbe ordered should the city councillors next Monday feel disposed to act upon a suggestion to this effect from Aid. Leonard Douglass, chairman of the board of works, who has voiced the opinion that "they may as well probe all civic departments while they are at it."
